WILSON AND HUGHES EACH EXPECT TO WIN

RIVAL CHIEFTAINS AWAIT VOTE COUNT

McCormick Claims 364 Electoral Votes for Wilson, While Willcox Says Hughes Will Have 100 Majority There

New York, Nov. 6.—President Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, candidates of the dominant parties for president remained quietly at their homes, resting from the labor of the long campaign. The last word sent forward by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

President Wilson planned to remain quietly at home today and his only activity tomorrow will be a trip to Princeton to cast his ballot. Tomorrow night, with only the members of his family about him, he will receive the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon but later visited the national republican headquarters chiefly, it was stated, to thank the workers there for their efforts in his behalf. He intended to take a drive through the parks this afternoon and spend the rest of the day quietly at his hotel.

Tomorrow he will vote in his home district and tomorrow night he will get the returns in his hotel rooms. Like Mr.

Six Dead and Fifty Hurt in Wharf Battle at Everett, Wash.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Six men are dead and fifty are suffering today from bullet wounds as the result of a battle yesterday at Everett, Wash., thirty miles north of Seattle, when 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World attempted to land in that city from the steamer Veronia, which had carried them from Seattle.

The boat was met by Sheriff David McCrea, of Snohomish county, who with a posse forbade the men to land. A shot fired from the Veronia, according to the boat's officers, was followed immediately by firing from both sides. The steamer hastened back to Seattle with the dead and wounded. The Seattle police took the dead to the morgue, the wounded to the city hospital and the unwounded to the city jail.

One member of the Everett citizens' posse, C. O. Curtis, formerly second lieutenant in the Washington national guard, was killed, and nineteen others wounded. Including the wounded there are 294 men and three women under arrest here. Forty-one men were taken from a second steamer which failed to reach Everett. The women were taken from a motor bus which had conveyed them from the northern boundary of Seattle, where they had disembarked from an Everett interurban car.

The fight was the result of the contest between the Industrial Workers and the citizens of Everett over the right to hold street meetings in the city. The national guard and naval militia at Seattle are under orders today to meet any emergency. Sheriff McCrea, who is suffering from two gunshot wounds in the leg, asserted that the first shot was fired by a man in front of the pilot house of the steamer Veronia.

HANLY TALKS DOWN TO FINAL MINUTE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Activities at the republican and democratic state headquarters continued, on this, the last day of the 1916 campaign, while J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential nominee, started this morning on a whirlwind trip through the state with thirteen speeches before him.

Leaders of the two major parties, while they labored over plans to get out the vote tomorrow, reiterated their claims that victory would come to their respective parties.

CASTS STATE ISSUES ASIDE

RIVAL LEADERS CLING TO CLAIMS

Tremendous Activity Everywhere Marks Preparation for Tomorrow.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—One of the heaviest votes ever recorded is expected to be cast in Ohio at tomorrow's election. Both republican and democratic state chairmen claim the election of all of their candidates by substantial majorities.

W. L. Finley, democratic state chairman, issued a statement saying President Wilson and the entire state ticket will carry Ohio by 100,000 votes, while Charles Hatfield, republican state chairman, predicted that Hughes, Gov. Willis and Myron T. Herrick will carry the state by "from 60,000 to 100,000."

Both campaign headquarters were agreed that there is seemingly more interests in Ohio over the election of a president than over the state ticket. State issues, including taxation and workmen's compensation insurance have been the principal issues at stake in the campaign of Gov. Frank B. Willis, republican, and ex-Governor James M. Cox, democrat.

Much interest centers around the vote for United States senator. Senator Atlee Pomerene, democrat, and Myron T. Herrick, republican, have waged a warm campaign on national issues.

IN KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Activity in connection with the political campaign in Kentucky shifted today to county and precinct organizations which began final preparations for the election tomorrow. Both republican and democratic leaders are claiming the state, and each party will make a strong effort to get its full strength to the polls. The vote is expected to be the largest in recent years in this state.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Final preparations for tomorrow's election were completed today by the various party leaders throughout the state. The democratic leaders expect the largest democratic vote ever registered in this city will be polled for President Wilson. Meanwhile the republican leaders anticipate a majority of 150,000 or more for Hughes in Philadelphia and claim he will carry the state by 200,000. Close fights are expected in several of the congressional districts, but the republican leaders declare they will elect the four congressmen-at-large and representatives from 27 of the 32 congressional districts. The democrats are making strenuous efforts to increase their present representation of six from this state.

IN MICHIGAN.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—Casting of ballots in Detroit tomorrow will be more closely guared and watched than ever before in the city's history. An army of trained civilians, federal agents, uniformed policemen and private detectives has been assembled and at least two men are to be placed in every voting booth in the city. This step grows out of charges made recently that fully 3,000 illegal registrations had been entered on the registration books.

Republican and democartic leaders resting after one of the most acrimonious campaigns in years stood by their earlier claims that their respective candidates would be victorious tomorrow. Republicans claimed the state for Hughes by 100,000, while the democrats predicted Wilson would win by "from 5,000 to 10,000."

CARLSTROM FINISHING RECORD-BREAKING FLIGHT AT 110 MILES AN HOUR.

His first stop, made because of engine trouble, was at Erie, Pa., 452 miles from Chicago, which he did in four hours and seventeen and one-half minutes, establishing a new American non-stop record over his flight of 416 miles, between Newport News, Va., and New York, which he had made in four hours and one minute. He was eight hours and thirty-seven minutes in the air in the 975 mile trip from Chicago to New York, and averaged 110 miles an hour.

Pittsburg Rail Men Working Furiously to Keep Freight Moving.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—Operating officers of the railroads entering Pittsburg were all on duty today in an effort to prevent what some of them asserted would become the greatest freight tie-up ever known if the long streams of traffic pouring into the city were halted for as much as half an hour.

It was said that 10,000 loaded cars were moving between Chicago and Pittsburg on the Pennsylvania northwest system alone and the situation on the southwest system was equally interesting. Every provision known to modern railroading, it was asserted, had been taken and barring such possible eventualities as heavy fogs in the valley or sudden drop in temperature, there would be no stoppage.

NEIGHBORS CALL ON FIRST AT JAIL

Many of the farmer folk who live in the neighborhood of the place tenanted by Charles First, near Aboit, came to Fort Wayne, Sunday afternoon, to visit the man accused of the killing of Mrs. Bessie Keller. The stock expression used by First, the self-confessed murderer, who has been buried away in the county jail for a week, was that he would like to be out on the farm again to look after things.

Some of the farmers' wives brought big red apples to the dark-eyed man who is shut away from the orchard's wealth. Others only inquired of the farmer if his appetite remained hearty since he was not allowed the sturdy exercise which has been his lot for the six years he has farmed the Crawford place. All had words of sympathy for the man.

To inquiring outsiders several of the farmers said that First was known as a good-natured, plodding, sober fellow. His neighbors will furnish a part of the funds, if need be, for keeping First from the electric chair, they said. Most of them promised First that they would call to see him again.

BOTH ADMIT GERMAN GAIN

GERMAN ATTACKS PROVE EFFECTIVE

Today's War News Given in Summary

Neither the British nor the French were able to retain in its entirety the ground won from the Germans on the Somme front during Saturday's fighting. Heavy counter attacks were delivered by German troops last night on the new British positions in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlancourt, south of the Albert-Bapaume railroad, and London today announced the British were compelled to give up portions of them. Similarly the French lines were attacked and Paris states that while the Germans were held off on the line between Sailley-Saillizel-St. Pierre-Vaast wood, they were able to recapture some positions in the wood and in the village of Saillisel, just to the north.

After a long interval the resumption of active operations in Dobrudja is reported from Bucharest and announces a Rumanian victory. Rumanian troops are declared to have taken the offensive north of Hirshova and driven Field Marshal von Makensen's troops from several villages which were set on fire as they were evacuated.

The steamer Lanao, a 692-ton vessel last reported at Suez on October 9 on her way from French Cochin China to Havre, was sunk by a submarine on October 28, it is announced in London. Thirty men from her have been landed by the Norwegian steamer Tromp at Barry, Wales. The Lanao was an American vessel up till September, when it was sold to a Norwegian company.

Berlin in a lenghty official statement today regarding the fighting on the Somme front, declares that yesterday's operation consisted of a thrust of the most powerful character by the British and French along a twelve-mile front, but that it accomplished nothing except a small gain for the French in St. Pierre-Vaast wood. The Germans captured about 400 prisoners and eleven machine guns. Regarding the fighting on the Rumanian frontier, Berlin reports Teutonic gains southwest of Predeal.

London, Nov. 6.—A strong German counter-attack last night compelled the British to relinquish a portion of the ground they had captured in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt on the Somme front, the war office announced today. The statement says:

"During the night a strong enemy counter-attack forced us to relinquish a portion of the ground we had won in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt. East of Les Boeufs we secured yesterday's gains.

"We conducted three successful raids on trenches in the Armentieres and Ypres sections."

ADMIT GERMAN GAINS.

Paris, Nov. 6.—A violent attack by German troops was made last night on the position captured by the French between Sailley-Saillisel and the St. Pierre Vaast wood. The war office today announced that this assault was repulsed with heavy loss to the Germans. Some ground was gained by the Germans in the wood and the village of Saillisel.

On the Verdun front there has been active cannonading in the Damloup region, but no infantry engagements occurred. Elsewhere on the front the night was calm.

Von Mackensen's Men Retire.

Bucharest, Nov. 6.—The war office announces that Rumanian forces in Dobrudja have compelled the retirement of Teutonic troops which in their retreat set fire to several villages.

GERMAN TROOPS UNSHAKEN.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The British and French using the strongest forces made continued attacks yesterday on the Somme front. The war office announces that the German troops withstood these attacks unshaken.

The statement follows: "Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht. In the continuous battle on the Somme the fifth of Nov. was another fighting day of the first class. The British and French with the strongest forces and employing the whole fighting capacity of their artillery

WILL HOLD CHIHUAHUA TILL LAST CARTRIDGE

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 6.—Arrivals here today from Chihuahua stated that General Trevino, Carranza commander, is concentrating his forces into two bodies, one with Chihuahua City as a base and the other a large command which will operate as a unit from Escalon. This is being done, they said, to prevent mobile bodies of Villistas from attacking isolated Carranza garrisons.

"I'll stick to Chihuahua till the last cartridge," was the statement made by General Trevino to a delegation who called on him, according to one of the passengers. He said that the general expressed to the consuls that the placing of cannon on a train has given rise to the report that he intended to evacuate the city. This train, the general added, was armored so as to be sent to any point on the line as military necessities demanded. He then told the consuls that his new system of fortifications would stand any attacked except by explosive shells of large calibre, which Villa did not have and could not obtain.

Despite the efforts of the consuls to quiet rumors in the foreign colony, five French women, several Germans and other foreigners and some twenty Mexican women above the peon class, all with children, came to Juarez last night. Juan Trevino, who is not a relative of the commandant of Chihuahua City, was one of the few men passengers. He brought his family here and said he was on his way to Kansas City because of business connected with the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railway, of which he is Mexican manager.

ROADS ADMIT ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATE PLAN

Effective December 1 Unless Commerce Commission Intervenes.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Railroad officers here admitted today that the roads represented by the Central Freight association covering Ohio, Indiana and parts of Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania, have prepared new freight tariffs to become effective Dec. 1, unless prepared by the interstate commerce commission in which many schedules are increased.

The new tariffs which in some cases amount to an increase of 173 per cent., over those now in effect, will affect shipments made by manufacturers and producers of groceries, furniture, clothing and other commodities. The larger increases are in rates for distances not exceeding sixty-five miles which are claimed by the roads to be abnormally low. Six classes of freight are affected.

ROAD PLANNING TO SPEND $15,000,000

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central railroad, informed the Ohio public utilities commission that his road intends to spend approximately $15,000,000 for new equipment next year. Announcement of the proposed expenditure was made in an application for authority to issue $12,000,000 of equipment trust certificates to be sold at not less than 97. The application states that the equipment to be purchased will include 4,000 steel box cars to cost $5,000,000; 3,000 all steel coal cars to cost $4,500,000; ten electric locomotives to cost $750,000; 100 steel passenger coaches to cost $2,000,000; 100 baggage cars to cost $1,100,000, and 30 multiple unit cars to cost $750,000.

The commission will hold a hearing on the application Friday.

RESTAURANT TAKES TWO FORGED CHECKS

Detectives are hunting the man with the strong nerve who cashed two worthless checks at the same place on two different days. The Imperial restaurant, 117 East Main street, managed by Paul De Wood, got the two worthless papers and is out $4.70 and two meals.

The man who tendered the checks signed his name on both occasions as Frank Rogers. He represented himself as being employed by the Fort Wayne Tile and Cement company. On Wednesday he left one check for $10. He took a meal ticket, supper and $1.95 in change.

The stranger was back two days later. He handed in a second check for $8.25. Dinner, a meal ticket and $2.75, were his profits. From the Tri-State Loan and Trust company came back the checks, to

BOTH SIDES SEE VICTORY

BUT SOMEBODY IS SURE TO BE FOOLED

Even the Prohibitionists and Socialists Are Making Claims.

THE PREDICTIONS.

I predict an overwhelming victory for the entire democratic ticket.—Martin H. Luecke, democratic district chairman.

Allen county will go democratic by between 2,500 and 3,000.—Calvin H. Brown, democratic county chairman.

We still believe that Mr. Fairfield and Mr. Hughes will carry the district by from 1,500 to 2,000.—Harry G. Hogan, republican district chairman.

The republicans will carry Allen county by from 500 to 1,000.—Dr. J. E. Stults, republican county chairman.

The prohibitionists will poll between 1,500 and 1,800 votes in Allen county.—M. S. Willson, prohibition county chairman.

The socialists will poll three million votes at tomorrow's election and between 4,000 and 5,000 in this district.—J. Lloyd Armstrong, socialist candidate for congress.

Somebody is going to be dreadfully disappointed in Tuesday's election judging from the predictions that have been made by the various political leaders. One thing is certain—they all can't be right.

Both democratic and republican leaders are confident of victory in this district. At both headquarters there was a feeling of confidence Monday and the predictions given were the honest convictions of those who for the past several weeks have done little else but devote their time and energies to the cause of the party of their faith.

Democratic leaders were rejoicing over the unprecedented success of the Marshall demonstration on Saturday evening. It was the greatest thing of the campaign and it is believed, judging from reports reaching democratic headquarters, resulted in many converts to the cause of democracy.

Both the democrats and republicans never had better organizations throughout the entire district than they have had this year.

Not a single precinct was overlooked. Both sides are ready, as they have not been perhaps in many campaigns, for the battle tomorrow. Today has been devoted principally to the final preparations for work at the polls Tuesday.

Hoffman Predicts Success.

Edward G. Hoffman, democratic national committeeman from Indiana, predicts that Indiana will go democratic by 25,000 and that Congressman Cyrus Cline and the Allen county democratic ticket will be elected by handsome majorities. He says that reports he has received from throughout the entire country indicate a sweeping victory for Woodrow Wilson.

"I predict an overwhelming victory for Wilson in the nation, and the entire democratic state and county tickets," declared Martin H. Luecke, democratic district chairman. "Congressman Cline is stronger right now than he ever has been."

"We will carry Allen county by between 2,500 and 3,000," was the prediction of Calvin H. Brown, democratic county chairman. "Reports coming to me are most encouraging."

Hogan Sees It Differently.

Harry G. Hogan, republican state district chairman, does not agree with the democratic leaders. "Democracy has reached the period of political hysteria," he says. "It is preparing an alibi for the unfavorable result it fears. We still believe that Mr. Fairfield and Mr. Hughes will carry the district by from 1,500 to 2,000 votes and in so doing elect the Allen county ticket."

Dr. J. E. Stults is equally as optimistic. He says: "Allen county will go republican by between 500 and 1,000. I feel confident Mr. Fairfield will carry the county."

Will Poll Three Million.

J. Lloyd Armstrong, socialist candidate for congress, predicts that the socialist party will poll three million votes in Tuesday's election and between 4,000 and 5,000 in the Twelfth congressional district. He will receive returns at his office in Pixley-Long block. His telephone number is 3677.

M. S. Willson, prohibition county chairman, predicts that the prohibitionists will poll between [illegible]

HOME PRIDE IS THE CAUSE

EVERY VOTER URGED TO DO RIGHT THING

If Anyone Opposes Convention Hall He Has Kept Very Mum.

VOTE FOR YOURSELF TOMORROW

Every citizen who casts a vote for the municipal convention hall tomorrow will vote for his own best interests. Never in the history of Fort Wayne has any proposition been of such great good to all the people that it could enlist the hand-in-hand co-operation of democrats, republicans, socialists, prohibitionists, Protestants, Catholics, bartenders, temperance workers, organized labor, employers' associations, literary societies, hospitals, singing societies, secret orders, patriotic orders, veterans, insurance men, merchants, churches, technical clubs, commercial organizations, railway men, mechanics, coal dealers, poultry fanciers, automobile dealers, engineers and scores of other widely-differing organizations, all of which have unanimously adopted ringing resolutions pleading for the erection of the Coliseum at the earliest possible date.

Is there any man in Fort Wayne who can vote against this great thing without ever afterward hanging his head in humiliation and shame?

A vote for the convention hall is a vote for yourself. Mr. Loyal Citizen. Do your duty!

It is not for fear that the municipal convention hall project is in any danger of failing to carry that the hundreds of workers will be busy all day tomorrow at the polls. It is because every man among them wants the vote to be unanimous. They know that any voter who may cast his ballot against the project will, as soon as the building is in use, feel humiliated because of his failure to see things in the right light on election day. They know that no one—unless he has been blinded by narrow, selfish motives, or has been misinformed on some point—will vote against the proposition. Therefore, it is now merely an effort to see to it that everybody does vote on the question, and to give real advice on the matter to any who may not be entirely informed.

These workers are proud of Fort Wayne and her best interests. They want all other citizens to have the same feeling. It's the thing that will make Fort Wayne a greater and a better city in the years to come.

Printers Vote for It.

At a meeting yesterday of Typographical Union No. 78, the printers passed unanimous resolutions declaring for the convention hall. Others who have taken similar action, but who have not received the proper recognition, are Henry W. Lawton Camp No. 35, United Spanish War Veterans, Zollinger Camp, and the Woman's Relief Corps of Sion S. Bass Post, G. A. R.

AMERICAN ENGINEER PAINTS DIRE ORDEAL

Tells Experiences When Captured by German Submarine.

New York, Nov. 6.—"I have been a marine engineer since 1881, but never have I gone through an ordeal like that one a German submarine put upon us a few weeks ago," declared Frederick Smith, of Hartford, Conn., who arrived here last night from Liverpool on the American liner St. Louis.

Smith stated that he was induced to sign as third engineer on the British steamship Midland by promise of good pay and assurances that the vessel was bound for China and would not enter the European war zone. When off St. Loucia he learned that the ship was bound for Vladivostok.

"After leaving the Siberian port we went to Australia, where we loaded grain for Havre," said Simth in telling the story. "At 6 o'clock we were halted by seven shots, none of which hit us.

"We had a crew of thirty-three, eight of us white and the others Lascars. I was the only American aboard. We were ordered to the life boats, fifteen in one and eighteen in another. We were ordered to approach the submarine and the German commander forced us to come aboard. He put some of his crew into our boat and they went out to the Midland and sank her. After four explosions we saw her dark hull roll over and go down.

"The Germans used only one English expression when they returned to the submarine after sinking the Midland. That was, 'Get out.' We drifted throughout the night, until daybreak, when a French trawler picked us up and kept us aboard for two days. Later it took us into St. Malo."

LANO, SUNK, WAS NOT AN AMERICAN VESSEL

London, Nov. 6.—Lloyds announces that the steamship Lano, described by the shipping agency as an American vessel, was sunk on Oct. 28 by a submarine. Thirty men from the Lano were landed atBarry by the Norwegian steamship Tromp.

Until her transfer to a Norwegian owner, the Lano was owned by Findlay Miller & Co., of Manila. She was a small vessel.

NO TAMERICAN VESSEL.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The steamer Lano is not an American owned vessel, acording to records of the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce, which show Christiana, Norway, as her home port.

ANNIVERSARY OF TIPPECANOE.

Historic Event Is Observed on Battleground Near Lafayette.

Battle Ground, Ind., Nov. 6.—The 105th anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe, which was fought on the morning of November 7, 1811, was observed here yesterday by the Society of the War of 1812 of the State of Illinois, more than 800 people being present. John Meloy Stahl, of Chicago, president of the society, acted as master of ceremonies. Early in the morning forty-six American flags were unfurled in memory of the forty-six Americans who died in the battle and from wounds. An address of welcome was given by E. Burleigh Davidson, city attorney of Lafayette, and the response and an address on historical facts was made by James Edgar Brown, of Chicago. There were also addresses by Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles, president of the National Society United States Daughters of 1812; Brigadier General R. P. Dehart, of Lafayette; William C. Royse, of Terre Haute, and Rev. G. W. Switzer, of Lafayette.

GRAND JURIES TO HIT COAL PRICE BOOSTERS

New York, Nov. 6.—An alleged conspiracy in this city to raise the price of coal will be under the formal investigation of both the Kings and Queens counties district attorneys before the end of the week, it was declared today.

Evidence bearing on the subject secured by agents of the department of justice indicated, it was said, that the alleged manipulation was in New York only, and was disclosed through the demand upon retailers for extraordinary high prices by operators who had coal in storage within the state.

Because the coal affected has already been brought into the state, the federal authorities have taken the stand that the matter rests with state rather than federal officials, they will, however, it was announced, continue their investigation and if any conspiracy of an interstate nature is uncovered a federal grand jury will be asked to act upon it.

ing that the republicans have made spirited fights in several southern states, democratic leaders today seemed chiefly concerned with the problem of getting out the vote in order to give President Wilson an unusually large plurality on Tuesday.

Although it is conceded the electoral vote of the south will go to the democartic candidate as usual, this year, the republicans have picked Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida as favorable battlegrounds and have waged hot fights for state and national tickets there. The other states have been occupied mainly with local issues and a few contests for congress.

IN NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Candidates for state offices in President Wilson's home state campaigned today up to the last minute, finishing up one of the most warmly contested political fights New Jersey has seen. Walter E. Edge, the republican gubernatorial nominee, and the republican candidate for the senate, Joseph S. Freelinghuysen, began a joint speaking tour. Otto Whitpenn, the democratic candidate for senator, will wind up the campaign in their home counties tonight. Leaders of both parties expressed confidence of victory today, declaring that the latest indications were that the pluralities already predicted would be exceeded. These were: By the republicans, 45,000, and by the democrats, 25,000.

IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Although the presidential, state, congressional and local campaigns in Illinois were practically closed Saturday night, leaders and candidates of the various parties spent today for the most part in perfecting organization in the wards and precincts A few of the candidates made speeches during the day, but the chief activity was left to the party workers who attended to details that had been overlooked heretofore. No statements were available from the chairmen of the democratic or republican committees today. The chairmen of both republican and democratic committees claim the state will cast its vote for their respective candidates for president by practically the same plurality—150,000. The republican chairman also claims that Frank O. Lowden will be chosen governor by 150,000 plurality, while the democratic chairman put forth the claim that Gov. Edward F. Dunne will be re-elected by 75,000 plurality. Women of Illinois will vote for president for the first time tomorrow, though they have not the privilege of voting for state officers with the exception of trustees of the state university.

Party leaders estimate that the total vote in the state will reach 1,800,000, of which 700,000 will be cast by the women.

IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 6.—The day before election found both republican and democratic candidates for the governorship making final appeals to the voters, although victory was claimed for each of them by the respective chairmen of their parties. Both selected this city for the scene of their last campaign activity. Gov. Whitman had on his program four noonday speeches and five tonight. Samuel Seabury, following afternoon talks in Rockland county, will return to New York for an automobile street corner tour of the west side.

The state chairmen were busy today making final arrangements for watching the polls. The final forecast of Republican State Chairman Tanner is that Gov. Whitman with his running mates will carry the state by more than 100,000. Democratic State Chairman Harris and the Tammany leaders are giving out no specific figures officially, but claim the democratic plurality in New York city will be so heavy that it will overcome the republican plurality up state.

IN WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 6.—Socialist leaders asserted today their party would poll 60,000 votes in Wisconsin tomorrow and that socialists would be elected to congress in the Fourth and Fifth (Milwaukee) districts. The democratic state chairman claimed the state for President Wilson by at least 40,000 plurality, while the republican chairman placed the Hughes plurality at 25,000.

IN MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—Both republicans and democratic leaders are satisfied that this state will favor their candidate at the polls tomorrow and there is every indication that an exceptionally heavy vote will be cast.

IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Republicans claim North Dakota by 20,000 for Hughes, but democratic leaders say peculiar political angles will give their candidates a fighting chance.

IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—Both republican and democratic party managers planned today to carry their campaign activities up to the last possible moment before the election. Governor McCall, who seeks re-election and his democratic opponent, Frederick W. Mansfield, made their final pleas on the stump in this city and rallies, many of them in the open air, were arranged for all parts of the state.

IN OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 6.—Charges that there will be a ballot shortage in tomorrow's election with the possible disfranchisement of many voters were made today at republican state headquarters. Predictions of victory were made by democratic, republican and socialist leaders for their national and local tickets in this state.

IN MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 6.—Democratic leaders declared today that the election in Missouri tomorrow will be a victory for the national and local tickets with a plurality of 50,000. Republicans said they would carry the state by 25,000 plurality for Hughes and Henry Lam for governor.

IN KANSAS.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 6.—Political meetings were announced today for every congressional district in Kansas. Charles Sessions, republican state chairman, issued a statement claiming that Kansas would go for Hughes by 35,000 and would re-elect Gov. Arthur Capper by 100,000. Hubert Lardner, democratic chairman, claimed the election of Wilson and victory for W. C. Lansdon, as governor, but did not estimate pluralities.

made a powerful advance against the front of Gen. von Belowsarm. Troops from different parts of Germany under the command of Gens. Baron Marschal von Deimlingen and von Garnier withstood the attack unshaken and inflicted a severe defeat on the enemy. The allied enemy on the entire front from Le Sarsto Bouchavemes, a distance of 20 kilometers along which they attacked suffered heavy losses and accomplished nothing except a small local gain in the northern part of St. Pierre-Vaast wood. Wherever the enemy at other places pushed his way into our line he was immediately ejected and left ten officers, 310 men and booty in our hands. Northeast of Le Sars more than 70 prisoners and eleven machine guns were brought in.

"Near Soissons an attack by a weak French detachment was repulsed."

In Rumania, southwest of Predeal, the invading Austro-German forces yesterday captured Laomu height, it is announced officially. Further progress was made southeast of Rothenthurm pass. Rumanian attacks in the region of the Szurduk pass were repulsed.

BATTLE STILL IN PROGRESS.

Petrograd, Nov. 6.—German forces yesterday several times assumed the offensive on the Russian western front in the region east of the village of Lipitiza-Dolnai and west of the village of Silaventin, with the object of capturing the commanding heights occupied by the Russians. All the German attacks, according to an officials statement by the Russian war department, were frustrated by a violent Russian artillery and infantry fire. The battle is still going on.

Great Fraternal President.

Jesse Macbeth, grand master of the I. O. O. The diplomacy of the sword is being tried out on the European field of battle—tomorrow the American people will stand by Woodrow Wilson and the diplomacy of peace. He is our great fraternal president. Mistakes he has made, no doubt. What man who ever tried to do anything did not make mistakes?

Republican Chairman Willcox predicted Hughes would receive at least 100 majority in the electoral college while Democratic Chairman McCormick gave Mr. Wilson 364 votes in that body. The necessary elective vote in the college is 266.

The larger participation of women voters in the presidential and congressional elections is of keen interest to politicians generally. The returns from the states in which women will vote it is admitted, will be closely and anxiously scanned. Fair weather and moderate temperature is forecast generally for election day and if this prediction holds true virtually a full vote it is expected will be cast throughout the country.

MUSICIAN JAILED FOR CELLO THEFT

He Said Taking of Instrument Was Like Borrowing Umbrella.

Probably George Jewett, 38, the musician who was brought here from Chicago to play in a local orchestra, had read in his musical course that two of the world's masterful symphonies were wrought by genius which picked on stolen instruments.

Or maybe it was one of his artistic moods which caused him to step into the studio of Miss Kay M. Spencer, at 250 West Wayne street, at 6 o'clock, when nobody was there, last Wednesday evening, and remove a 'cello.

Jewett ran his fingers through his long hair in temperamental disgust in police court, Monday morning, where he was charged with petit larceny because the 'cello, which the teacher missed, was found in his room.

The three-stringed 'cello, which was leaned against the fireless stove near the witness stand, was referred to by Jewett as a "beastly thing" which had cost him his job and which made him wish he had never left the Bohemian center of Chicago where harmonic eccentricities are understood. His arrest was "abominable," he told Judge Kerr, and the whole affair "a frightful outrage," he explained to Detective Sergeant Brennan, who insisted on taking Jewett's picture for Bertillon reference. He expected to notify Miss Spencer some time later that he had borrowed the instrument to practice on, he said.

"It was just like your taking an umbrella," Jewett explained to Judge Kerr. "The instrument is not worth a nickel."

But Detective Sergeant Pappert, who arrested Jewett on Saturday, said the 'cello was worth $25. Jewett was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to fifteen days in jail.

There is a banjo in the county jail and Jewett may be able to catch the spirit of the saturnalian gathering in the tambo and work out several scores of a new and wonderful symphony on the clattering strings of the snare-headed banjo.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

Acts 2:21-32.

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1916.

Let the Case Go to the Jury.

The title of the case: Charles Evans Hughes against Woodrow Wilson.

The question to be decided: Has Woodrow Wilson's record as president of the United States since March 4, 1913, entitled him to re-election on November 7, 1916, for four years beginning March 4, 1917?

WOODROW WILSON

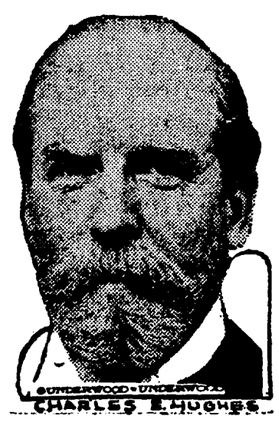
The jury: Sixteen million American voters of whom YOU are one.

For four months the case has been on trial. All of the testimony and evidence have been submitted; the arguments have been made; the case is now in the hands of the jury. The verdict, YOUR verdict, must be deposited in the ballot box tomorrow.

We feel that it would be presumptuous for us or for anyone else to argue the case further. The time for argument has passed; the time for calm, cool, dispassionate weighing of the evidence has arrived. The plaintiff in every law suit, criminal or civil, must establish his case by a preponderance of the evidence. We think it is fair that this rule should apply in this case.

The question then for you as a juror to decide in the case of Charles Evans Hughes against Woodrow Wilson is: HAS THE PLAINTIFF BY A PREPONDERANCE OF THE EVIDENCE CONVINCED ME THAT WOODROW WILSON HAS NOT MADE GOOD AS PRESIDENT AND THAT THE PLAINTIFF, CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, WILL BE A BETTER PRESIDENT DURING THE FOUR YEARS, BEGINNING MARCH 4, 1917, THAN WILL WOODROW WILSON?

Obviously, as an honest juror, you must consider the case as a whole and not base your verdict upon any one or a few parts of the case. What then is the Hughes case as a whole and what is the Wilson case as a whole? With your permission, we shall state the two sides of the case as briefly as possible and as fairly as we can.



THE HUGHES CASE:—Woodrow Wilson, as president, has kept the United States out of the European war, but, in doing so, he has sacrificed the nation's honor and reduced its prestige among the civilized nations. Hughes' chief witness in support of this charge is Theodore Roosevelt. Roosevelt testifies that President Wilson sacrificed the nation's honor when he failed to interfere to save Belgium from German invasion. He testifies further, that President Wilson again sacrificed the nation's honor when he declared the United States neutral as between the European belligerents and asked every citizen of the nation to be neutral in act and thought. Roosevelt also testifies that President Wilson again sacrificed the nation's honor when he failed to commit an act of war against Germany after the Lusitania, instead of making that tragedy the subject of diplomatic negotiation, which finally resulted in an agreement by Germany to conduct submarine war according to the law of nations and of humanity.

In sum, the Hughes case against President Wilson, as it relates to the European war, is that the PRICE which the president has paid for peace is more than peace is worth; that WAR would have been preferable and is still preferable.

As to Mexico, the Hughes case is, that President Wilson's policy has been cowardly and vacillating; that he has not protected American property and American lives in Mexico. Hughes says that had he been president since March 4, 1913, he would have protected American property and American lives in Mexico, and, that if he is president during the next four years, he will protect them. Hughes does not specify how he would do this but the only inference that can fairly be drawn from what he does say, is that he will make war on Mexico. Theodore Roosevelt, Hughes' chief witness, as to Mexico testifies that if he had been president during the past four years he would have made war on Mexico.

In respect of President Wilson's domestic policies, Hughes summed up the case for himself in a speech at Milwaukee, when he said:

"The whole democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

Included in the "whole democratic accomplishment" are the following laws enacted by congress since March 4, 1913:

The Underwood tariff law; the income tax law, the law creating a tariff commission to adjust the tariff scientifically; the federal reserve bank law; the law creating a federal trade commission; the farm loan law; the child labor law; the federal shipping law; the eight-hour law for railway employes.

In the case for Hughes, it nowhere appears in the evidence, either in his own statements or those of his witnesses, what, if any, laws he will substitute for these after he has wiped them off, except in the case of the tariff. He says that he will use the full power of his office to force congress to pass a high protective tariff law to prevent a panic "after the war."

THE WILSON CASE:—American neutrality as betwen belligerent European nations has been a fundamental policy since the days of George Washington. The first president enunciated the policy:

"Friendship for all; entangling alliances with none"

and no American president has ever deviated from it. Whatever our feelings as a nation or individually may have been when Germany invaded Belgium, it was not up to us to interfere; a mere protest would have been futile and intervention by force, which would have meant taking part in the European war, was unthinkable. The torpedoing of the Lusitania and other ships, causing the loss of American lives, was a violation of international law and the rights of America, but to have declared war on Germany because of it would not have undone what had been done. Nothing could have been accomplished by going to war with Germany that has not been accomplished by diplomacy as Germany has been forced to give her pledge that she will not again torpedo ships carrying Americans, without giving proper notice, as required by the law of nations. The nation's honor has been as fully safeguarded by diplomacy as it could have been by war. At the same time, the lives of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands of American boys, have been preserved; the happiness and prosperity of the American people have been maintained and billions of dollars that would have been wasted in war have been saved.

As to Mexico, the president admits that it has been a perplexing business and that he has no doubt made mistakes, but not in purpose or object. Fundamentally, his policy has been to give the Mexicans the same chances to work out their problems that this country had at the time of the revolution. The president says that the only alternative to what he has done in respect to Mexico is to declare war against Mexico and subdue the country. He says that there is not now and never has been a popular demand in this country for war with Mexico; that the only demand for it comes from American capitalists who have invested money in Mexico on a gamble, knowing that it was a hazardous investment. The president says that he will not send hundreds of thousands of American boys into Mexico, and spend billions of dollars of American money in response to such a demand.

In the matter of domestic policies and accomplishments, President Wilson says that all of the laws enacted by congress since he has been president, which Hughes says he will "wipe out," are progressive laws enacted in the interest of the great mass of the American people; that their enactment proves that the democratic party, whatever it may or may not have been in the past, is under his leadership, the party of progress, and that the laws passed by the democratic congress, taken as a whole, make up the greatest program of constructive legislation in the interest of business, labor and the farmer, in the history of the nation.

He says that the threat by Hughes to "wipe out" these laws without stating specifically what he will substitute for them, stamps Hughes and the republican party, as at present constituted, as the party of destruction and reaction. In further proof of this charge the president submits as exhibits: Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts; Senator Reed Smoot of Utah; Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, and others, who he says will control legislation in the interest of Wall Street, if the jury returns a verict FOR Hughes and AGAINST him. The president closes his case with the assertion that the country is enjoying the greatest era of prosperity in the history of the world and that while some of this is undoubtedly due to the European war, it is due in large measure to the laws which have been passed during his administration.

This is the Wilson case.

And now, gentlemen of the jury, you have heard all of the testimony and the arguments.

WHAT IS YOUR VERDICT?

The Sentinel is glad to commend to its readers the Allen county democratic ticket as composed of men of high calibre, the fair and free choice of the voters in the primary last spring, pledged to capable and economical county government, and with the ability and the purpose to redeem every pledge made to the people.

Besides assisting in the election of a president tomorrow, Fort Wayne voters have an opportunity to do another big thing on their own account. That is to make certain that this city shall have a municipal convention hall. You will find the resolution at the very top of the voting machine. Be sure to vote FOR it.

The United States district attorney at Chicago believes he has unearthed evidence of collusion in price-fixing on foodstuffs and proposes to have the federal grand jury see about it. And busting the food trust would make a corking argument for him if he desires to run for something in the next campaign.

The outpouring in honor of Vice President Marshall Saturday evening was a splendid testimonial of the fact that the old home folks are still with "Tom" Marshall. You can make your friendship still more emphatic by voting for President Wilson and his running mate on Tuesday.

Northeastern Indiana voters should not fail to give State Treasurer George A. Bittler and the balance of the democratic state candidates a record vote at the polls tomorrow. Their election will mean a continuance of progressive and efficient state government.

There can at least be no reasonable doubt as to the contents of the suitcases carried on the trains which the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will establish solely as liquor-carriers between Charleston and Ashland. An alibi will be extremely difficult if not wholly impossible.

Kern and Taggart are needed in the senate to uphold the president, and Mr. Cline is needed in the lower house for the same purpose. With an adverse congress, Wilson's hands would be tied. Do your part in giving him continued full power.

Mr. Prendergast, at the Hughes meeting in New York Saturday night, introduced Mr. Roosevelt as "the next secretary of state," which amounts to official confirmation of the Hughes program.

Wilson chooses the peaceful pathways of diplomacy rather than the blood-red highways of war for the adjustment of international differences. If that course meets your approval, vote for him tomorrow.

Sketches from Life . . . By Temple

The Boy She Leaves Behind

George A. Bittler as State Treasurer

Now, do you grasp EXACTLY what that means—all you people of Indiana—for it is one of the big, vital outstanding facts of this political campaign? It's the strong, unbreakable plank on which the present democratic state officials come to you to ask re-election at your hands—for had not their administration been good, prudent, efficient and economical—

Indiana would not be out of debt.

There is, however, one particular official whom the important fact that our great state stands forth free and radiant from financial burdens recommends to the voters of Indiana in particular. And that man is—

George A. Bittler, present incumbent of the office of treasurer of state.

Mr. Bittler comes before the state to ask your approval of what he has done to lighten the burden of taxation, for he has saved the taxpayers of Indiana in interest on two items alone a total of $243,969.40, as follows: Indiana university bonds, compounded, at 5 per cent interest, $242,366.11; Vincennes university bonds issue, $1,603.29.

He has PAID ALL FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC obligations amounting to more than $3,000,000.00.

Two years ago it was predicted that George A. Bittler "would make a fine state treasurer, and that he would run a finely managed office, because, being of an inquiring turn of mind, he would not rest until he had spied out all the best run state treasurers' offices and had adopted the best suggestions that the other states had to offer him."

And that is exactly what has happened. Bittler has made a record in the office of which the democrats of the state have every right to be proud.

He's the kind of man who goes right ahead paying state debts and doing other tremendous things that most everybody else would think impossible. But Bittler does not know that some things are impossible, so he goes right ahead and does them.

Keen, energetic, with capacity above the average, he has worked tirelessly and efficiently in the conduct of his office, and his record is one of the high spots of the administration. Turn on the searchlight—the office of the state treasurer is ready for the most searching investigation.

Mr. Bittler comes from Fort Wayne where he held responsible positions in business until he entered the services of the state. Like most of our other politicians, he moved up to the king row from the teacher's desk in that famous little red schoolhouse that has started so many of our public men on the road to fame.

Then one day he was discovered giving a good account of himself in the employ of a big trust company in Fort Wayne.

Next he filled an important position with the public accounting office, in the employ of the state. It is to be noted that with each change of position Mr. Bittler went up on and up, a big promotion coming to him each time as a recognition of his ability and faithful performance of duty.

And then the people of Indiana sent him to the state house to look after their finances—and how well he has filled the trust his public record itself tells in big, illuminated letters that all may read.

Personally George A. Bittler is a clean, honorable, trustworthy young man who has gone straight and worked hard for what he got. He looks at the world fearlessly and is not afraid to say no.

His personality is winning and affable and the people of Indiana have found him a courteous official to do business with, as well as a keenly competent one.

His re-election is an endorsement of his public work which he has fairly earned.

(From Life.)

"Good morning, Life."

"Good morning, Charles. Being a one hundred per cent candidate, I presume you prefer that familiarity?"

"Oh, quite so."

"I am glad you called. I wanted to ask you some questions."

"And I wanted to solicit your suffrage."

"What?"

"I want you to vote for me."

"Well, what do you stand for this year?"

"I stand for straight Americanism, for legislation without coercion, for national honor, for order in Mexico, for efficiency in government, for America first and America efficient, for trained men in the cabinet, for—"

"Yes, yes; that means a lot. So do I, Charles; but let us be specific. Do you think we should have protested when Belgium was violated?"

"I am not allowed to refer to that, Life. You must see my manager."

"Which one—Col. Roosevelt or Dr. Hexamer?"

"Will you repeal the eight-hour bill if you are elected?"

"That, again, I am forbidden to reveal."

"Well, will you intervene in Mexico?"

"I am very sorry, Life, I cannot let you know that, either."

"At least tell me whether you privately favor universal military service or the federalization of the militia."

"No; I cannot tell that. You embarrass me. If I commit myself on any of those questions I may alienate some votes. But now I give satisfaction to everyone. The colonel has endorsed me, and so has Mr. Root—a combination of progress and reaction that cannot be duplicated. Mr. Bacon and Jeremiah O'Leary both agree I am a suitable candidate—thus joining patriots and the Truth society. I stand for protection and prosperity, for high wages and fair prices, for—"

"For bumper crops, Charles, and money in the bank; and you are opposed to infantile paralysis and Wilson; is that right?"

"That's right, Life. And now you will vote for me?"

"I don't believe so, Charles. You're too mysterious. You're almost uncanny. The testimony of the experts who have seen you near to is so conflicting that, for all I can find out, you might be a Chinaman. If there was a Chinese vote I doubt if you would deny Mongolian ancestry. Goodday, Charles."

"LABOR CAN'T BE FOOLED"

"Republican's Final Effort to "Deliver" the Labor Vote Exposed"

There appears in the leading newspapers of the United States today a page advertisement containing alleged labor testimonials in support of Candidate Hughes and censuring President Wilson.

This is the last desperate effort of the Republican National Committee to hoodwick the public to believing that even one reputable labor man of prominence is supporting their candidate. A few days ago they were gleefully quoting a six-year-old statement made by John M. O'Hanlon, editor of the official organ of the New York State Federation of Labor. Even after Mr. O'Hanlon had issued a public statement calling attention to the fact that for months he had been supporting President Wilson.

This time the republicans are leaning upon Frank Feeney, named by Martin M. Mulhall in the famous Tobby scandal at Washington as his "closest friend and adviser," while Mulhall was the strike-breaker of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Feeney is notoriously known as the labor agent and political henchman of the Penrose-McNichol machine in Philadelphia. Mulhall swort that he had Feeney on his payroll and that he had documents to prove it. Two weeks ago the Democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania publicly charged that Senator Boies Penrose had been put in charge of $400,000 to attempt to influence the Labor Unions of the country. That Penrose had objected to "doing the dirty work" with so small a slush fund. That charge has not been denied.

Nearly a week ago the Democratic National Committee exposed Frank Feeney's employment by Penrose in this campaign to circulate fake labor endorsements of Mr. Hughes. The alleged resolutions appearing in today's page advertisement of the republicans are the work of Feeney and his agents. The Chicago Building Trades council did NOT adopt the pro-Hughes resolution quoted in the republican advertisement, and the republicans know it. The false report that such a resolution had been adopted was promptly denounced by Simon O'Donnell, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council, and by Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The alleged pro-Hughes resolution, offered at a meeting in the Philadelphia Building Trades Council, was defeated. Leonard Kraft, Feeney's closest friend, then drew enough proxies from his pocket to jam it through. A week later, November 3rd, the council officially denounced the act as a conspiracy and repudiated the alleged pro-Hughes resolution. Feeney tried to get similar resolutions adopted in Cincinnati and other cities—and FAILED. When the attention of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was called to the Republican's page advertisement last night, he issued the following statement:

To the Workingmen of The United States, Greeting

"As predicted by me a few days ago, there is some scheme to spring a canard upon you when it will be too late to disapprove and radicate the falsehoods and fictitious allegations or declarations.

"The information comes to me that a pretended labor leader has secured some fake declarations of a few supposedly labor organizations attacking the character and the policy of the labor representation committee of the American Federation of Labor, and that they are to be published as advertisements in the newspapers of the country today (Monday.)

"The American Federation of Labor has without a dissenting voice or vote proclaimed the political policy to stand by the friends of labor and justice and to defeat its enemies.

In the campaign Woodrow Wilson stands for all that is true to Labor, Justice, Patriotism, Freedom and Humanity.

"The friends of labor will fail in their purpose to deceive."

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, of Wildwood avenue, on Sunday evening, was given in honor of his birthday anniversary. Yellow chrysanthemums and plumosus made a very pretty decoration for the table and diningroom. There were a dozen friends at the table. During the evening Mr. Schmidt was presented with an innocent looking box which had the appearance of being a gift and he proceeded with considerable interest and animation to unwrap it. At least he tried to do so. Mischievous friends, hinting at a possible lack of activity, had so tied up and retied and repacked the box that Mr. Schmidt had one long struggle with his fingers to get at its contents. But he did and the gift was handsome enough to repay him for the good-natured laughter and gibes of his friends.

Mrs. Henry Ranke gave an informal but quite lovely kaffee klatsch at her home in Beaver avenue, on Friday afternoon. The ladies took their sewing and visited and greatly enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess.

Curls for Girls

Girls! Try this! Before curling or waving your hair with pins, papers or a heated iron, just moisten each strand with atalpa water and you will be delighted how natural the curls and waves appear and how long they last in spite of wind, dampness or perspiration. A few ounces of atalpa water will cost very little at any drug store and there is nothing better to help retain the curls and waves or to soften, gloss or fluff the hair and to make it look thick and abundant.—Advertisement.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Rose Stahl in "Our Mrs. McChesney," Tuesday Evening.

The theatre patrons here are indeed fortunate in having the opportunity to see Rose Stahl in "Our Mrs. McChesney." She is scheduled for the Majestic tomorrow evening.

Miss Stahl this season is under the Charles Frohman management, which means that the production will be a splendid one and that the cast will be composed of capable people.

"Our Mrs. McChesney" is a dramatization of Edna Ferber's Emma McChesney stories which have been widely read and enjoyed. Miss Ferber makes the characters of her stories true to life and none of them is more interesting that Mrs. McChesney. Miss Stahl has brought Mrs. McChesney to life and will introduce her over the footlights.

The play is punctuated with laughs throughout. The keen wit of Emma McChesney and the methods she employs to keep the Featherbloom Petticoat out of bankruptcy together with the manner in which she makes a man of her son all combine to form an interesting play.

"Little Peggy O'Moore" Thursday Afternoon and Evening.

Fort Wayne is one of the cities which will have the pleasure of seeing "Little Peggy O'Moore" this season. This offering is described as a brilliant play of joy and youth and the advance reports which have been received praise the cast very highly.

As the character of Peggy requires a particular type of girl only two "Little Peggy O'Moore" companies have been sent out. This city is fortunate in seeing Peggy while the play is yet a big hit in the large cities. It will no doubt prove the artistic treat of the present season.

Appreciating the Dancing of Maud Allan, Who Comes Saturday.

To understand the values of the symphonic dancing of Maud Allan, who will appear here on Saturday night, at the Majestic, it is necessary that the public be taught to distinguish between the nude and the naked. A lack of such discernment is responsible for a lot of harm. It shows gross ignorance of the thought animating art and artists and the forces to which they are giving expression.

"The Vision of Salome," the dance that made Maud Allan famous in every country of the world, will be included in her program for Fort Wayne.

AT THE PALACE

ELECTION RETURNS.

New Palace Will Receive Frequent Bulletins Tuesday Evening.

The New Palace will receive frequent bulletins Tuesday evening and these will be read to the audience to give them an intimation of how the election is decided.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Eva Fay will have the women of the city at the New Palace at a special matinee for women only, when they may ask this famous mystic the most personal questions and she will answer them. Mrs. Fay is one of the wonders of vaudeville, possessing a certain power that never has been properly classified. It is the power to read questions people have written on pieces of paper and retained in their own possession and then answer the questions, telling where lost relatives are, what has become of misplaced articles ,etc. The act is beautifully staged and Mrs. Fay seated on a great throne erected in the middle of the stage presents a lovely picture.

Among the othe rfavorites at the New Palace are Bobbe and Nelson, the oddly assorted team of singing and talking funsters; the Emmett wonder dogs in a series of clever tricks; the Gorman brothers, song writers, who are singing their own compositions; Bruce Duffett and company, in the comedy sketch "A Corner in Wireless," a bit of playlet with a novelty idea in it, and Walker and Walker, a pair of ventriloquists, a man and woman with two funny dummies.

AT THE GRAND.

First Episode of "The Scarlet Runner" is Shown Today.

All lovers of Earl Williams will be pleased to know that the little Grand will feature this popular screen star every Monday and Tuesday in a two reel episode of "The Scarlet Runner."

The stories take their series title from a very high-powered and speedy motor car. The opening scene discloses the fact that a popular young Englishman has exhausted the patience of his wealthy uncle with his reckless manner of living. The uncle threatens to cut off his allowance and also to leave the rich estate to charity. This is a bot of a shock to Christopher Race, so he proposes that his uncle stop the allowance, but grant him one year in which to make good. The uncle agrees and names the condition that Christopher show an earning power of one hundred guineas.

The young man sells most of his effects and with the proceeds purchases a motor called "the Scarlet Runner." He proposes to rent his car and his services to special parties to tour in any part of the world, but before long he is forced to take out a regular license to carry public fares. His first customer is a certain king visiting London incognito. One of the king's servants is intriguing to prevent the marriage of another representative of the government. Christopher saves the life of the young man and also exposes the villainy of the minister to the king.

AT THE TEMPLE.

"The Belle of Richmond" Will Please Patrons This Week.

"The Belle of Richmond," a delightful play of southern life, is the offering at the Temple this week, and it promises to thoroughly delight patrons of that popular playhouse.

"The Belle of Richmond" has a striking plot wherin a clever crook flings suspicion upon a young man, and threatens to break up the old ties which bind two southern families in the closest friendship. The test brings out the old-time loyalty of "The Belle of Richmond," who is Miss Nellie Mason. She stands by the accused, who is in danger of conviction ror stealing a large sum from the bank in which he is employed, and prevents an injustice being done. In the end the guilty man is found and the story ends happily. All the scenes are laid in southern Virginia shortly after the civil war. A colored servant, Mose, is a comedy all by himself. Miss Ann Bert makes a charming "Belle of Richmond" and Mr. Jack Doty, as Gerald Gordon, a prominent young attorney in love with Miss Nellie Mason, has a very pleasing and forceful part. Following the performance tonight there will be a reception and dance on the Temple stage to which all are invited. Popular prices will prevail at all times. Matinees will be as usual on Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays. Next week the great military drama, "Arizona," will be at the Temple.

MERELY ONE MORE UNEXPECTED DUTY

Washington, Nov. 6.—Of the many unexpected duties the United States has found thrust upon it by the world war, one of the strangest is that of rescuing adventurous boys who enlist in the European armies.

There have been more than a thousand such cases since the war began, and even now letters praying for the release of young soldiers of fortune pour into the state department at the rate of fifty a day. It has been necessary to assign an official to give special attention to the subject.

The story almost always is the same. The youngster, generally between sixteen and twenty, suddenly disappears and is next heard from when he writes home from Canada or England that he has had enough of war and wants to come home.

Then follows an almost tornado-like correspondence in which officials, parents, congressmen and persons who think they can hurry the processes of diplomacy by their influence, become sympathetic, tearful, inportunate or mandatory. The red tape of governmental business, however, unwinds slowly and finally the consul general in London or Ottawa, or somewhere else or perhaps the American embassy, makes representations to the foreign government and the adventurer is released and sent home.

Until recently the British government has been promptly releasing all Americans under 21 on the request of the United States government on the ground that it is illegal for such a person to enlist in a foreign army without parents' consent. Recently the British government has shown a disposition to reduce the age limit to eighteen when minors become of age in a military sense.

The sheriff's office will be kept open this evening until 10 o'clock to qualify the election sheriffs.

BOOM TOWN AGAIN GONE.

Fire Wipes Out Wirt, Okla., for Second Time in Past Year.

Wirt, Okla., Nov. 6.—For the second time in a year fire last night virtually destroyed this little boom town in the Healdton oil field. Fifty buildings were destroyed with a loss of $125,000. More than 300 homeless persons were taken to Ardmore.

A lot in Shady Brook Park will be an excellent investment. Its beauty is unexcelled by any other offering. Its future as a high class residence district is already assured. For particulars phone 357.

WILL DENY LICENSE TO SEERS.

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.—Residents of Indianapolis in the future may have to exist without having their "fortunes told" if City Comptroller Sullivan enforces a new rule he has made. Mr. Sullivan recently has been refusing to issue licenses to the "fortune tellers," although there is an ordinance saying the license fee for such work shall be $1. The comptroller, who is a lawyer, says the city ordinance is invalid because of the nature of the business licensed. A number of old licenses have some time to run, but when they expire no new ones will be issued, Mr. Sullivan says.

MARSHALL IS GIVEN WONDERFUL OVATION

Asserting that the way for Woodrow Wilson to have assured his re-election would have been to have plunged the American nation into war and that the president was today getting the same kind of disloyal treatment which people of the north gave Abraham Lincoln, Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, Saturday night, addressed two large audiences at the Palace theater and on the court house square.

Judge Carl Yaple, of the superior court; Congressman Cyrus Cline and Fred L. Feick presided at the court house meeting and Peter O'Hara and Harry H. Hilgemann at the theater meeting. Parade of automobile and horseback riders, one of the largest ever held in Fort Wayne, to which Columbia City contributed a prominent party, preceded the addresses of the evening. The vice president closed the campaign in Fort Wayne.

Two Parties, He Says.

"There are two parties in this country—the democratic party and the aristocratic party," declared the speaker. "America taught the world equality and we are all brothers, not half-brothers or step-brothers, but full brothers before God. It is the business of a republic to have a peaceable and not a forceful revolution and you are uncertain of your heritage unless you have justice on American life.

"I am for the eight-hour law. Any employer can get more in eight hours with happy and contented men than he can get in ten hours with sullen and uncontented men. I have been for the eight-hour law ever since it was made a standard in the state of Indiana and I am for it now. The law was not passed by force. The president sent for the men, they did not go to the president.

Get Back of President.

"It should be your duty to get back of your president and when you do you get back of a policy that stands for peace with honor with all the nations of the earth. He should be surrounded by a democratic congress. As to Mexico, there is more to Mexico than just Mexico, but we are concerned there with the Central and South American republics and we will either have to throw off the Monroe doctrine or get a navy of 2,000,000 men to defend the Monroe doctrine," closed the vice president.

Congressman Cline, the vice president, State Senator Kent E. Keller, of Illinois; Judge John H. Aiken and Judge R. K. Erwin spoke at meetings held in the court house. At the out-door meeting they spoke on a platform erected on the southeast corner of the court house.

"The democratic party," said Mr. Cline, "has written into law practically everything for which the sincere progressive stood four years ago." He referred to the child labor law and the election of United States senators by direct vote. The currency system was also discussed.

The vice president and Mrs. Marshall were appreciative of their reception in Fort Wayne. The vice president asserted Woodrow Wilson would be returned to the white house for another four years by an easy margin.

BOARDING HOUSES ARE PUT ON BLINK

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—High cost of eggs, butter, meat, potatoes and other foods have driven a score of boarding houses in this city, including some of the largest and more exclusive, out of business within the last few days and announcement was made today that probably a dozen more will follow this week.

"It is impossible to continue in business even with an increase in the price of meal tickets," one proprietor said. "If we charged more there would be little or no profit and so we are going to close." Others made similar statements. But the boarders side of the case was stated thus: Pittsburg is prosperous, but cannot eat war contracts and announcements of big dividends. We have got to have food at prices we can afford.

All restaurants have increased the price of pie from 5 to 10 cents a cut.

BIOLOGISTS PUZZLED.

Washington, Nov. 6.—An unsolved mystery which is puzzling government biologists is the hiding place of the chimney swift during the five months they are absent from the United States during their winter migration. The flocks of these birds drift slowly south until on the northern coast of the Gulf of Mexico they become an innumerable host. Then they disappear and for five months their haunt is a mystery.

AID FIGHT ON CHOLERA.

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 6.—American physicians and missionaries in Korea are energetically co-operating with the Japanese authorities in stamping out cholera. An epidemic of the disease broke out at Chemulpo, but is abating. There are no fresh cases at Seoul. The Japanese thankfully accepted the aid of the Americans.

BIG FIGHT IS WON, DECLARES WILSON

President Wires Thanks, But Urges Continued Vigilance.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 6.—President Wilson last night wired his final word of the campaign to the men who have worked to bring about his re-election. The telegram, sent to every state and county chairman in the country, follows:

"I thank you heartily for the splendid work done by you and by all the workers in the cause of progressive principles at issue in this campaign.

"The fight is won, I fully believe; though I take this means of urging you to renewed exertions and vigilance to see that belated efforts to confuse the public judgment do not succeed.

"Our country is prosperous, secure and happy; and its prosperity is upon a sound basis. Steps to protect our commerce and industry in any emergency after the European war ends have been taken. The anti-dumping clause of the so-called war revenue act provides the executive with ample power to prevent the 'dumping upon us of Europe's surplus manufactures on our markets.' The tariff commission will shortly be appointed and at work to provide the facts which will determine what other legislation is necessary or desirable. I need not add that the federal reserve act is a guarantee against panics and that the federal trade commission will aid, as it already has helped, to preserve the stability of our domestic and foreign commerce.

"I am confident that the time has passed in America when votes can be bought, the ballot box defiled by corrupt practices, or the judgments of the American people determined or influenced in any way by the use of money. It is, however, our duty to take every precaution, less conscienceless agents of the sinister forces working in opposition to progressive principles and popular government resort in their desperation to industrial coercion or to the evil and insidious practices of a decade and more ago."

POLES HAIL PROMISE OF NATION'S REBIRTH

Warsaw, Nov. 5.—(Via London, Nov. 6.)—The manifesto of Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph again calling into existence the ancient kingdom of Poland, was read at noon today to the assembled Polish representatives in the royal palace by General von Beseler. Outside in the great square before the castle and in the spacious court yard of the venerable fourteenth century pile inhabitants of the old Polish capital gathered by the thousands to attend the ceremony of what is designated as the rebirth of the Polish nation—a concept, the importance and bearing on which are making their way into the minds of the people more or less rapidly after its long sleep of more than a century.

The ceremony was short and simple. Precisely at noon General von Beseler, wearing the decorations granted for the reduction of Antwerp and the Polish fortresses, mounted the dais in the gala ball room of the old Jagellonian castle and in the name of Germany's sovereign read the imperial manifesto. When he ceased the Polish count, Hutton-Czapkisk, read from a leather bound pamphlet to the Polish notables a translation of the manifesto in their own language. Then came cheers from the hitherto silent crowd.

President Brudzinski of the council, who is rector of the University of Warsaw, advanced before the dias and in the Polish tongue gave thanks for the imperial decree. He asserted the determination of the Poles would be found worthy of the liberties conferred and asked that as the first step toward the formation of the government a regent be appointed for the kingdom, since the time was not ripe for the nomination of the heriditary sovereign promised in the manifesto.

Why Rheumatism Comes With Cold Weather

By Valentine Mott Pierce, M. D.

A close connection exists between these two—cold weather and rheumatism. Prof. Alex Haig, of London, has the most followers in the medical profession in the belief that the presence in the system of uric acid, or its salts in excess, is the real cause of rheumatism. Every one has recognized the difference in the appearance of their water as soon as it gets cold; there is often a copious sediment of "brickdust."

Several causes may lead up to an accumulation of uric acid in the system, which, in turn, causes rheumatism or gout, or creaky joints, swollen fingers, or painful joints. For one reason the skin does not throw off the uric acid, by profuse sweating, as in the hot weather, and the kidneys are unable to take care of the double burden. Another reason is that people do not drink as much water in cold weather as in summer, which helps to flush the kidneys. Again, they eat more meat in cold weather, and some people are so susceptible that they soon develop rheumatism after eating meat.

At all such times persons should drink copiously of hot water, say, a pint morning and night, and take Anuric three or four times a day. This Anuric comes in tablet form and can be had at almost any drug store. It dissolves the uric acid in the system and carries it outward. I would advise everyone to take it occasionally, and continue for three or four weeks, and in that way avoid rheumatism, gout and many of the painful disorders due to uric acid in the system.

Make yourself healthy and strong by open-air exercise and diet. Then clean the liver by occasionally stimulating its action with a pleasant laxative composed of the May-Apple, dried juice of aloes, and root of jalap. Sugar-coated and long sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Advertisement.

PROGRESSIVE TIDE TURNING TO WILSON

(By Harry B. Hunt.)

Boston, Nov. 6.—The tide of the progressive vote in New England, and to a great extent throughout the country, has turned toward the president. There is a very much larger element of progressives going to vote for Wilson than anyone had any idea of two months ago.

"The feeling among the progressives about their betrayal at Chicago in June is very strong, and I believe that the progressive vote will be one of the vital factors—as it should be—in the re-election of President Wilson, Nov. 7."

Such is the view of Matthew Hale, acting chairman of the progressive national committee. Hale, as staunch a progressive as ever, following the same ideals that made him a leader in the party organized four years ago for the advancement of social justice, but deprived of an opportunity to work for that cause through the progressive party, has turned his support to President Wilson. He is campaigning through New England, urging all progressives who are really interested in progress to vote for Wilson as the only candidate in any way meeting progressive specifications.

"The result in New England," says Hale, "depends on the labor vote. This is nominally republican. If President Wilson's attitude toward labor, the passage of the eight-hour, child labor and other labor laws, wins the workers for him, then it's all off with Hughes. Any decided switch in the labor vote will do the trick.

And there seems absolutely no doubt but that the progressive, the independent and the labor vote is turning his way.

"Wilson's strong position lies in his attitude toward labor and his work for peace.

"He has done more to establish the rights of labor than any other man ever in public life.

"He has kept the country at peace at a time when influences of every sort were pulling and pushing to get us into war. And yet our peace is not a pacifist's peace. It is a peace maintained with full honor. We have surrendered no rights. It is simply that we have refused to aggress on the rights of others.

"Most of the claim for the return of progressives to the republican fold is based on the course of Roosevelt, Perkins and their personal followers. But canvass the field over; you will find few or none of the small progressive leaders who are working for Hughes.

"Roosevelt is out touring the country shouting that we need a man of acts in the white house, not a man of words.

"I should say Wilson has shown himself to be a man of deeds; Roosevelt a man of words.

"Roosevelt is flaying Wilson on the ground that his deeds do not square up with his words.

"Match Roosevelt's acts of today with his words four years ago. The very men on whom he declared undying warfare four years ago—the old reactionary ring that has stood squarely across the path of progress in the republican party for years—are the men with whom he is working hand in glove today, trying to kick out of the white house the man who has actually achieved more forward legislation than any president we ever had.

"The rank and file of progressives are becoming more and more awake to this fact. And the more they awaken to it, the greater the tide of progressive followers to Wilson."

Women Win the Vote in Canada

Miss Rose Peers, first woman to be honored with membership in Vancouver Board of Trade.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 2.—Votes for women carried at the recent provincial election. The fair sex in British Columbia is jubilant over the victory.

The shortage of men, owing to the war, gave the cause of suffrage a decided boost. Now women are preparing to wage political campaigns against the sterner sex for various positions, once the sole right of men.

At the last meeting of the North Vancouver board of trade Miss Rose Peers was elected to membership. She is the first woman in Canada to be honored with such a distinction.

"Women have the same right and the same ability as men to deal with important questions," she declared. "Feminine opinion will prove valuable in many places throughout the province. It is well they have been given political recognition."

"WHO'S LOONY NOW"

Mr. Wilcox had better file his dying political wail with some of the leading newspapers supporting Mr. Hughes, notably the New York Sun and the Chicago Tribune, from whose telegraphic reports of Mr. Hughes' Milwaukee speech this quotation was taken:

The Sun's account of the Milwaukee speech, printed on the first page in its issue of September 21, 1916, said:

"The first burst of applause when he (Hughes) said that the Lafollette shipping bill must be repealed, the next when he said that the Undewood tariff must be replaced by a protective tariff, and the third when he declared that the whole democratic legislative accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

"Why this eleventh hour buncombe about a statement which has appeared repeatedly in cartoons and advertisements of our publicity bureau, Sept. 21, without its authenticity being questioned? Even though it comes in this manner, I am glad to know that Mr. Hughes approves of the accomplishments of President Wilson and his administration. His speeches during the last four months have evidently led me to reach an erroneous conclusion."

The foregoing statement was sent to all New York morning newspapers last evening by Chairman Vance C. McCormick, of the Democratic National Committee in reply to a letter by Chairman William B. Willcox, of the Republican National Committee, denying that Candidate Hughes had said it at Milwaukee on September 20th.

"The whole Democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books."

The New York Tribune, Sun and Herald, supporting Candidate Hughes, published the Wilcox letter in full, but ignored the reply. These three papers are fond of boasting about "Ethics" and of calling themselves newspapers.

Frank Emrick Has Proven Efficient as Prosecutor

FRANK A. EMRICK.

Frank Emrick, prosecuting attorney of Allen county and democratic candidate for re-election to that office, has demonstrated during his brief term in office that he is capable, efficient, conscientious and absolutely fair in the conduct of his position.

The office of prosecuting attorney in Allen county is an important one. Each year it is called upon to represent the people in the investigation and prosecution of offenses of varied character, and to assist in upholding law and order and making for public safety.

Mr. Emrick, trained lawyer that he is, took hold of this work with a lofty conception of his duties. He is fearless in the prosecution of wrong-doers, yet is everywhere admitted to be entirely fair, and he enjoys the confidence of the public to the utmost degree. In the multiplicity of his duties Mr. Emrick finds time to make careful investigation, to weigh cases thoroughly and to fulfill his duty to the letter. On his official record Mr. Emrick deserves your vote at the election next Tuesday.—Advertisement.

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—Supt. Frank T. Schultz, of the city power plant, while working about the plant Saturday, ran into a large iron bar being used about the plant and was knocked unconscious. Supt. Schultz has been busy at the plant for the past three days working with the Corliss engine that went out of commission last Wednesday noon, when the key twisted and it had to be sent to Fort Wayne for repairs. Supt. Schultz was rushing about getting the large engine in repair for Saturday night when he bumped the large iron bar with his head. He fell to the floor and his arms and legs were stiff for several minutes. Later he relaxed and after being unconscious for three minutes rallied. After resting for an hour and a half he was able to continue the work.

BOXES ARE ON THE WAY.

Montpelier, Ind., Nov. 6.—The big street boxes, fourteen in number, to be used on the street corners for depositing mail in, when the free delivery is started on the first of December, have been shipped, and they will arrive here in a short time and be placed. The government is making all of its preparations for getting the service started on the date set, and will have everything ready by that time. When the free delivery is started, Montpelier will be on the same footing as other cities, even larger than this and the people should feel complimented in saying that our town has free mail delivery.

ENROLLMENT IS 200.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—The enrollment of the Auburn high school has reached the 200 mark, the largest enrollment in the history of the school. Miss Grenivere Myers enrolled in the high school last week, thus making the number 200. The enrollment stands as follows: Girls, 107; boys, 93. This gives some idea of what the Auburn high school will be when the new building is completed.

CHURCH NEARING COMPLETION.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 6.—Work on the new Evangelical church building is proceeding rapidly and well. The brick masons will put the finishing touches on Tuesday. Fred Linn, the contractor, is following rapidly with the carpenter work, and the joists for the ceiling are being laid. In about a week or ten days it is believed that the roof will be placed. The church is fast assuming handsome proportions and already it can be seen that the building will be fully worthy of the expectations.

DIES AT STURGIS.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Mrs. John Gale, formerly a well known resident of Kendallville, died quite suddenly Friday evening at Sturgis, Mich. Upon receipt of the message Grant Gale, a son, residing on Diamond street, departed on the night train for Sturgis. Mr. and Mrs. Gale lived here for some years, making their home on Diamond street. About two years ago they moved to Sturgis. At one time the family lived at Wolf Lake and later at Kimmel. Mrs. Gale spent most of her life in Noble county and has a wide acquaintance.

DIVORCE CASE SETTLED.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The Hall divorce case, which has been on trial in circuit court for the past two and one-half days, was compromised Saturday when the attorneys on both sides agreed to allow Hazel E. Hall a divorce from the defendant, Austin A. Hall, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and giving her the custody of the two children, Johanna and Clifford, together with $10 per month, beginning May 1, 1917, for the support of the children.

TELEPHONE WIRES CUT.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—The cutting of three cables of the Home Telephone company, an act occurring on Hallowe'en night, has resulted in Pinkerton detectives being brought to Portland to work on the case and if possible to apprehend the guilty perpetrators. The investigation is being made in an apparently open manner, the detectives employed by the telephone company, officials of the company and city police officers working together.

GARRETT CHILD DEAD.

Garrett, Ind., Nov. 6.—Ethel May Dull, 10 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dull, died Sunday morning from the effects of leakage of the heart and dropsy. She had been a sufferer for some time. The child is survived by the parents and one sister, seven years old.

WHY WALL STREET WOULD BEAT WILSON

New York, Nov. 6.—Last week one of the really big captains of Wall street made this statement, in confidence, so far as his name is concerned, in reply to a question as to why Wall street was so frantic for Hughes:

"Wall street never before put up as much money in a presidential campaign as it has put up this year to elect Hughes. Committees of bankers have put the pressure on every man in the financial district to get him to give. The reason given the public is a protective tariff, but that isn't the real reason.

"The real reason is the income tax.

"But that, of course, can't be used as a political argument with the public. Hence the calamity howl and the tariff advertising which is being paid for by Wall street money. Wall street doesn't like the income tax and is afraid Wilson will enforce its payment. I don't know what is expected from Hughes, but I do know that the street is for him—AND WALL STREET GENERALLY KNOWS WHAT IT WANTS."

Wall street knows that there will be agitation before the coming session of congress for publicity of income tax returns, and that there will be a demand that the millionaires pay the preparedness bill. The big fellows want the tax extended to take in all who have an income of $1000, and the munition makers would like to have the tax taken off of munitions.

This may explain why the Rockefellers, Morgans, Davisons, Guggenheims, Vanderbilts, Armours, Perkinses, Havemeyers, Stotesburys, Fields and other multi-millionaire families are contributing so liberally this year.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

Mining Claim, Prospector's Last Stake Years Ago, Worth $100,000.

"I'LL CALL YE ON MY LAST WHITE," SAID THE STRANGER AS HE THREW THE LAST CHIP HE HAD INTO THE "KITTY."

Chapter One.

A tired, disgusted traveler dragged his way along a narrow valley in the Montana rockies. He was one of the thousands who had rushed west in the early eighties with the first cries of "Gold" and returned empty-handed.

"Empty-handed!" the traveler shuddered. He looked about and saw stakes here and there, the only "proofs" of other prospectors' claims on the land.

What a fool he was! He could do as much and return home with a "mining claim."

The traveler picked up a pebble, threw it over his left shoulder and wished for good luck. Where the pebble fell, he staked his "claim." He felt relieved.

Chapter Two.

Shortly afterward interest among the score of miners and loungers in a Helena saloon, centered at a round table where five men sat at a card game.

Tobacco smoke penetrated the large room and only the snapping of the cards and clinking of chips broke the tense of silence.

Four of the players, who knew one another well, were raking in chips from the fifth, a stranger.

"Well," sighed the stranger, "I'll call ye on m' last white," and he threw the only chip he had into the "kitty." The others showed their hands. It broke him.

But the stranger wanted to win enough to get back east.

"Over in the Blossburg district, right along the stream."

They laughed at him. "Not worth the water runnin' by," was their comment. But the stranger pleaded. He wanted a stake to continue in the game.

"Swede Sam" Wallin, the biggest winner, "took him up."

The deal was made. Cards were drawn. The stranger lost again.

"Swede Sam" was the object of ridicule in Helena.

"Whut'll ye do with the rocks when they sprout, Sam?" "Y' might git somethin' out o' the stake." Such were the cuts launched at him. Sam didn't mind. In fact, he felt the same way about the claim, too.

Chapter Three.

That was thirty years ago.

Today "Swede Sam" Wallin's claim is worth $100,000. A rich vein of ore ran through it.

A neighboring prospector struck the vein and followed it into Sam's claim.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved.

Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of these spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Casey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin; so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside bathing will have them looking, feeling and being better in every way.

WARNS MEXICO TO GUARD NEUTRALITY

Note in Friendly Spirit and Not at Suggestion of Entente Powers.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The American government has informed the de facto government that precautions should be taken to prevent any violation of Mexico's neutrality by operation of belligerent submarines within its territorial waters or the establishment of a submarine base on the Mexican coast. The information was conveyed to a state department official today in a wholly friendly spirit and not at the suggestion of any of the entente powers.

It was said today the Mexican government is without sufficient means to insure portection of its neutrality and that it might be comparatively easy for a foreign power to establish a submarine base at some unsuspected point along that coast. Serious complications between Mexico, Great Britain or France might bring the United States into the controversy.

ELECTION DAY WILL BE WARM AND FAIR

If the prediction of the weather man, who states that Tuesday will be a fair day, comes true, it will be the second time in recent years in Fort Wayne that election day was a bright sunshiny day. The local weather map, however, shows a barometric disturbance which is carrying a storm with it in Manitoba, Canada, Monday. Chances are that it will move directly east, thereby missing Fort Wayne and vicinity. Yet it is possible that slight effects may be felt sometime during the day. Slight sprinkles may be the result. However, it would be a safe bet that twenty-four hours out of the next twenty-four will bring good weather.

A heavy dew fell Sunday night about 7 o'clock. Monday morning there was quite a heavy frost. The day itself was a warm one for this time of the year, the thermometer reaching the 71 degree mark.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNED TO JAIL

John Van Allen was drinking in the lingering autumn warmth on Calhoun street, Monday morning, when Robert Armstrong, turnkey at the county jail, laid a heavy hand on his shoulder. Van Allen had escaped from the yard of the jail two weeks before, while he was serving a sentence for petit larceny. He was supposed to be beating rugs when he suddenly ran away. He must serve forty-two days yet. "Gee, it is fine weather outside," Van Allen grumbled as he walked towards the prison.

William Toby, one of the men sentenced a week ago for stealing an adding machine from the Railroad Y. M. C. A. office, made his escape from the road gang, Saturday afternoon. He was doing street repair work on Harrison street when he made his get-away. He ran around the corner of a building and was on his way down the L. E. and W. tracks before it was known that he had left the gang. His companion, John Furey, made no effort to escape at the time.

RESTING AT SHADOW LAWN.

President Will Motor to Princeton to Vote Tuesday.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 6.—President Wilson spent most of the day resting at Shadow Lawn, waiting for the election tomorrow. He planned no more campaign activities. This morning he read many telegrams and letters from democratic leaders in various parts of the country, all predicting his election. Tomorrow morning President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, will go by automobile to Princeton to cast his ballot.

HAD BEEN READER OF SENTINEL 70 YEARS

"Jacob Deitrick, whose death was noted by the Fort Wayne papers Saturday, was a reader of The Sentinel for over seventy years," said William Wurtle, the son-in-law of the deceased. "He would take no other paper and when from any cause The Sentinel failed to arrive, he lost no time in looking it up," continued Mr. Wurtle. "In the biographical sketches of Mr. Deitrick in the city papers, it was stated that he was 92 years old, which was an error. Daddy Deitrick was born in 1820 and was upwards of 96 years old when he died. In company with a younger brother, he came here in 1836, when he was 16 years old, and took employment at construction work on the canal, which was then only partly finished. The two boys, one 14 and the other 16, walked from Toledo to Fort Wayne, nearly 100 miles, being three or four days on the road. They were stout, husky lads and immediately found work on the canal. With the exception of a few years in Adams county, during which he continued to read The Sentinel, Mr. Deitrick resided in Allen county ever since 1836," continued Mr. Wurtle.

MOTHER AND BABE HURT WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

Mrs. E. E. Cory, of Payne, and Babe Seriously Injured.

When the steering device on the Ford touring car owned and driven by E. E. Cory, of Payne, Ohio, broke Monday morning at a point on the Bluffton road, two and a half miles south of the city the car turned over in the ditch and his wife and thirteen-months-old baby were seriously injured. Telephone linemen who witnessed the accident ran to the assistance of the injured and took them to Hope hospital in their truck, where they were attended by Dr. E. H. Kruse.

At the hospital it was found that Mrs. Cory is suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries and the baby had suffered a fractured skull. The attending physician believes that both will recover.

Mr. Cory who escaped without anything more than a few scratches, states the accident occurred so quickly that he does not know just how it happened. The steering device broke while he was going at a rate of possibly twenty miles an hour. The car headed straight for the ditch where it turned turtle. Mr. Cory was thrown clear of the car but his wife and babe were pinned beneath.

Buehrer, engineer at the Everett high school, member of the citizens' posse shot in the chest, is likely to die. T. C. Gorrell, Spokane, student of the University of Washington, who was on the wharf and was shot through the chest, is in a dangerous condition, as also is Harry Blackburn, shot in the chest.

SUCCESSFUL NOMINEE SETTLES IT HIMSELF

Washington, Nov. 6.—The choice of the American people for president at tomorrow's election would, according to custom, take the oath of office March 4, 1917, but that day comes on Sunday and Washingtonians, vastly interested in an inauguration, are curious to know whether the ceremony will be held March 3 or March 5. One investigator learned today from the authorities in the congressional library that the two recorded precedents showed Rutherford B. Hayes was inaugurated March 3 and Zachary Taylor on March 5. Apparently it is a matter for the successful candidate to settle for himself.

Saving the Babies.

Dr. G. C. Cromer, founder of the All Prayer Foundling Home, of Louisville, Kentucky, has saved 89 per cent of the 296 baby waifs he has handled in the eleven years of his work. In the last two years he has cared for sixty babes and has not lost one. This is an unheard of record in this line of work. He will tell how he did it next Wednesday night at the First Methodist church, illustrating his lecture with stereopticon views. His work is peculiar in that he never exposes his needs or solicits gifts except of the Lord in prayer. His lecture at the Salem Reformed church last night was highly appreciated.

REPUBLICANS KNOW NOTHING ABOUT IT

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Alvin T. Hert, manager of western republican national headquarters, today issued a statement denying that republican leaders have any knowledge of the alleged attempt to colonize negroes brought from the south in certain northern states.

"The only negro voters from the south who have come into the north have been brought here by farmers and manufacturers to work, and there are only a few of the negroes who have made the migration," Mr. Hert said. "These few, if they have been in the north long enough to establish a residence, probably will vote, as they have a right to do."

FOUR AUTO THIEVES SENT TO STATE FARM

Young Men Asked For Leniency Because They Were Intoxicated.

William Anderson, Walter Hoffman, Gerald Fish and Albert Rukofski, four youths charged with stealing the automobile belonging to W. W. Anspach, from in front of the Jefferson theatre, last Wednesday night, were fined $25 and costs each and sentenced to sixty days at the state farm.

Each of the young men pleaded that intoxication was the cause for their taking the car and each one made an effort to pass the responsibility onto his companion. Their cases looked similar to Judge Kerr, who dealt the same penalty to all.

Max Diehl is held under $500 bond for trial, Thursday, on a charge of stealing an automobile. Diehl is charged with having taken the the machine belonging to Walter Wagner, from the curbing on Harrison street. The machine was out of order and stalled for Diehl, two squares away. Police were notified by a man to whom Diehl tried to sell the car, it is said. Diehl was arrested at once.

Drove Machine While Drunk.

Edward Moran was driving an automobile snake fashion, from one curbing to the other, late Saturday night when a patrolman halted the zig-zag advance. Moran said he would leave the car and walk home when the officer told him he was too drunk to be a chaffeur. But Moran came back in a few minutes and tried to move the car on its way again.

He was arrested and in police court fined $50 and costs for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. His friend, John Humbricht, who just chanced to be along at the time, was fined $5 and costs.

Weaver Fined.

Louis Weaver was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 150 days at the state farm because he stole fixtures from the abandoned handle factory along the Lake Shore railroad. Weaver was taken in custody by Detective Sergent Junk, Saturday, when Weaver also had two automobile tires and a radiator in his possession, which had been removed from a barn belonging to David Schwartz. Weaver served a term in the penitentiary, three years ago, for larceny.

Boy Given Clothes.

Joseph Dean is 16 years old and small at that. He was arrested with George Andrews and Frank Smith, when Captain Baunk, of the Nickel Plate railroad, caught them trying to bum a ride. The boy came from Missouri and was on his way east, he said. His parents are dead.

E. Shuman, East Wayne street, who chanced to be in police court, told Prosecutor Hoffman that he would find a suit of clothes for the boy and would try and secure him work. Joseph says he will stay in Fort Wayne and go to work. The transformation wrought by the new clothes were very gratifying.

Frank Smith, who was arrested with the lad was released and George Andrews, the other member of the party, was fined $5 and costs because he carried a revolver.

Trouble in Double House.

Misunderstanding between two families, who are trying to adjust themselves in a double house at 1326 Zollars avenue, caused Edward Woenker to be arrested on charge of striking Mrs. Mary Sargeant. Both families have children and the fact that one of the sons of Mrs. Sargeant fell from a piece of furniture belonging to Woenker, started the trouble. Woenker will be tried on Thursday.

Other Police Court Cases.

Cases of public intoxication were Daniel Conners, $5; James Miller, $5; James Murphy, James Jones, James Cum Cunningham, Frank Watson, William Nipper and James Dailey were released.

Purdue Alumni Are Boosters

Gold and black, the fighting colors of Purdue, will flutter and wave and intermingle in weird formations at the Purdue alumni banquet in the large dining room of the Elks hall Thursday evening, November 9. More than one hundred of the state school men will be present to join in song and glowing prophecy on the outcome of the Indiana-Purdue football game.

"Vellie much pep" will be injected into the meeting by Non Lam, E. E. '15, native of China, who will deliver a talk. Mr. Lam was a member of the Cosmopolitan club at Purdue. He is a member of the Alumni association at Schenectady, but will be in Fort Wayne on the night of the banquet.

Crystal gazing will be one of the favorite pastimes of the get together banquet. From their knowledge of the past, and especially the game between Purdue and Chicago Saturday, several of the men will look into their shining tumblers about the festal board and behold a glorious trampling of Indiana colors on Saturday, November 25.

The Purdue banquet will open at 6:30 p. m. Nearly all Purdue men have been asked to attend by special letters sent out by Messrs. Sunier and Nordstrum. The banquet fee is four bits.

Committee made up of X. J. Divens, A. W. Kettler and J. R. McKay have arranged for special interurban cars from Fort Wayne to Lafayette. The cars will leave Fort Wayne at 6:30 on the morning of the game and start the return trip from Lafayette at 7:30 that night.

Round trip tickets can be secured through the committee for $3.30. Reserved seats for the game are $1.50.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE FRIAR FOOTBALL GAME.

Tension ran high throughout the game Sunday and there never was a single minute passed but that something sensational was pulled off. Can you imagine how high tension would have run had the Pine Village crew made a touchdown and the boy lying flat holding the ball ready to be kicked? What's the use, it didn't happen, anyway.

Talking about generalship, you should have seen Dorias yesterday. Gus surely does use his head. There is absolutely nothing slow about his tackling, either. Ask several members of the Pine Village outfit if you want to know for sure.

Monday several Pine Villagers were nursing a sore stomach as the result of getting in the way of Chris Chambers' head on line plunges. The fans surely did hate to see him get hurt.

Feeney pulled a new one yesterday. After the ball was passed he would leave his position in the line and help form the interference.

The game was minus the usual rough stuff Sunday and fans liked it a great deal better. Handshaking was frequent, but on line plunges there seemed to be nothing like friendship.

The Elks' band helped to liven things up. "Come again," say the fans.

There was a weak spot in the line somewhere in the first half. The visitors hit the spot often for big gains. No one was pulled out, however, and in the last half there didn't seem to be such a thing as a weak spot in the Friars' line. "Cap" Byroade knows his business.

This left-handed passing stuff on the part of Sheridan puzzles a lot of players. However, the visitors did not get very far with their forward passes Sunday.

Thanks to Chris for a shutout. The fans went wild when he went through the line and intercepted a drop kick in the third quarter.

Whet up your pipes and keep your voices in trim for next Sunday's game. Evanston, who beat the Friars last year, will be here.

Whenever the fans want a big gain they call for Pliska or Chambers.

Every member of the Friar crew deserves credit, as all were on their toes Sunday playing every minute of the game. Captain Edwards delights to get in the mix-ups and he usually is in a large percentage of them.

Who was at the game Sunday with the big megaphone calling for cheers for the various players? Guess. That's right, it was Jakie.

TRANSLATE BASEBALL INTO FRENCH TONGUE

College Faculty Interprets National Game for Canadian Colleges.

Baseball has been translated into the French in order to remove one of the obstacles to further popularity of the game among French speaking people. The faculty of Assumption college at Worcester, Mass., has drawn up a manual of play in that language. It presents baseball in terms scarcely recognizable to most of the followers of the nation's pastime.

In announcing the result of its work, the faculty of Assumption college stated that while the game was already popular among the students of the French speaking colleges in this country and Canada, it fell short of the interest and support of faculties of those institutions to which it was entitled, largely because of difficulties of the teachers in becoming familiar with the terms of the game. It was to bring the language of baseball within reach of strange ears that the manual was devised, the announcement said.

Those who drew up the manual were assisted by a member of the faculty who had seen baseball played behind the battle lines in France, and so made observations of the phrases used by French soldiers to describe players and position in the game.

START SEASON WITH TWO BIG VICTORIES.

The Columbia City team which plays the Exenda basketball team of this city on the latter's floor next Friday evening has started its season with two wins. It is rumored that they are after the semi-pro championship of northern Indiana this year, but the local team is endeavoring to stop the gait the team has been traveling. The Exendas will go through a strenuous signal practice Monday evening. The game Friday evening will be played at the hall at Washington and Webster streets.

ONLY ON HIS OWN TERMS.

Welsh Will Insist on Details If He Is to Meet Kilbane.

Toledo, O., Nov. 6.—Freddie Welsh will accept a boxing bout with Johnny Kilbane only on his own terms, according to a message received by local promoters from Welsh's manager. The communication was in response to an offer made by the club for a twelve round no decision bout between the two champions. The lightweight champions accepted the offer of $10,000, but his demand is that the weight shall be 135 pounds at 2 o'clock the afternoon of the bout. Kilbane is said to insist on articles of agreement calling for 133 pounds ringside, the ultimate fighting limit.

FRIARS WIN FROM PINE VILLAGE AND ARE STATE CHAMPS

FRIARS ARE GRIDIRON CHAMPIONS OF STATE

If there were any Wabash scouts in the vast crowd at the Friar-Pine Village game yesterday they must have returned to their old home town with bad news. The way the locals performed against the Villagers is enough to give Wabash cold feet. There is no reason under the sun why the Friars cannot claim the championship of the state and the locals will probably wear the title for some days, unless Wabash—

The Friars went into the game yesterday knowing that they had the hardest contest of the year and determined to come out on the long end, and they did. A cleaner game has not been seen on the field this year and the fans were well pleased. The officials worked fast and no arguing slowed up the game. Then the score had a great deal to do with the interest. During the first half both teams went scoreless and seemed evenly matched. Dorias got away for a touchdown and then kicked the goal in the third quarter, but even this was not a big enough lead to feel safe about and as a result the spectators were on edge during the whole game. When the final whistle blew it left about six-fifths of the crowd wondering how the time had passed so quickly.

At all times during the game twenty-two men were working their hardest and to choose individuals who starred is next to impossible. Of course Gus Dorias, the little Friar quarter, played a game such as is seldom seen in independent circles, but he played with the team in such a way that his work did not stand out as much as it might have. Figuratively speaking, he is a whale at every department—running, tackling, interference and anything else that is necessary. In carrying the ball around end he seems to find holes that aren't there and he makes such good speed that a good distance is covered before opposing players wake up to where the ball is.

Two new men showed up yesterday in the persons of Daly and Hunter, the former an ineligible Purdue man and the latter a lean end who carries the goods, and for some good reason sees fit to cover his real identity. Al Feeney played the pivot position yesterday and did more real work than three centers generally do. He helped form the interference on the offensive and played his usual stellar game in the secondary defense when the visitors had the ball. In giving individual credit the whole team must be named one by one for every man delivered as if his life depended on it or as if he were playing in a college game. Pliska and Johnson played a game yesterday that couldn't be beat, and Chris Chambers worked till he dropped. Then Bull Young went in and worked just as hard. Smith went in for Pliska and showed up with a fifteen yard run that almost resulted in a second touchdown.

Ball, Daly, Edwards and Jones formed the center of the line and nothing could pass. Once or twice short gains were made on the line but only when the opposing line showed unusual class. There was nothing slow about the visitors' front wall, either, but the Friars were just a little bit better.

The man who stood out for the Villagers yesterday was the right half. He was the most dangerous man they had and while in this city he sported the monnicker "Dalbo." This was rather a big name, when it is remembered that according to all reports his name is just plain King and he is only an all-American halfback from Harvard. The whole team worked great and were dangerous at all times.

When the game was still young the Friars were penalized when they could hardly afford it. After the initial kickoff the ball changed hands often, neither team being able to gain an advantage. The visitors got the ball on the locals' twenty-five yard line as a result of the penalty. The locals held, however, and an attempted drop kick proved a miserable failure. The locals soon got out of the difficulty and were never very seriously pressed after that, although they were never very safe, either.

In th second quarter another attempt to kick was made by the Villagers and this was also a failure. Late in the period Dorias tried a kick which seemed to miss only by millimeters. In the second half, after a punt went out of bounds at the fifty yard line, the Friars started the march that resulted in a touchdown. Everybody figured in the attack, with Chambers and Dorias probably the most prominent. "Dory" finally put the ball over by plunging around end from the three yard line. Dorias then went through the line. He followed up by kicking the goal.

After this the locals were never menaced, and nearly put over a second touchdown. With only a few seconds to play Gus attempted a drop kick, which was blocked, four Villagers going in pursuit. Gus spilled this and the whistle blew for the end.

SALE OF RED SOX FIRST OF CHANGES

Other Teams Expected to Be Put on the Market is the Rumor.

New York, Nov. 6.—The sale of the Boston American league club, within a month after the team had won the world's championship, is thought by many close followers of baseball politics to mark the first of a number of changes and readjustments in major league circles. Former President J. J. Lannin made no secret of the fact that the Red Sox were for sale and if rumors and inner circle gossip can be accepted at face value, several other club owners are just as willing to dispose of their holdings but lack the frankness of Lannin.

The president of the Boston Americans placed a price of $750,000 upon the club early in the present year and, it is understood, was offered and refused $500,000. Under the circumstances the sale of the Red Sox, while the glamor of the world's series victory was still fresh, at $675,000 appears in the light of a compromise. Judging from past results and attendance figures at Boston the new owners made an excellent deal when the value of the club, franchise and park property is taken into consideration.

The Boston club entered the American league in 1901 and since that season has won the junior league pennant five times and the world's championship three times. In the sixteen years the Red Sox have finished fourth or better every season except in 1906-7-8 and 1911. The average position of the team for the full period works out as 3¼. Furthermore Boston has always been noted as a good baseball town, supporting its clubs with consistency whether winners or losers.

Harry Frazee, the new head of the club, while a young man, has always been a close follower of sports and is far from being a novice in the promoting line. In addition to his many theatrical ventures, he has backed several sporting events of more than ordinary prominence, including the heavyweight championship bout at Havana, Cuba, when Jess Willard wrested the title from Jack Johnson. As a result he does not enter big league baseball circles without preliminary training. Because of his close knowledge of the amusement trend of the American public, Frazee should give a valuable addition to the roster of baseball magnates.

WOLVERINES MEET CORNELL.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—Two games loom up ahead of Michigan football performers that will keep them fairly busy during the coming five days of preparation. One of the contests is the Cornell-Michigan and the other is the clash between the all-freshman crew and Heidelberg.

Both Coach Yost and Coach McGinnis of the yearlings, realize they have something to think about, and there will be some active work done on Ferry field, beginning with today's drill. Sparks is very much better and, although there is a good chance that he will not play the entire game next Saturday he will take an active part in practice this week along with the other cripple, Sharpe.

Coach McGinnis of the all-fresh is well pleased with the way his gridders performed at Evanston and cherishes fond hopes that they will be able to trim Heidelberg next Saturday. This will be the final game on the yearling schedule and the record of the Ohio school is evidence that it will probably be the hardest.

West Ends Win From Bluffton

WEST ENDS TAKE GOOD GAME FROM BLUFFTON

Playing the preliminary to the Friar game yesterday, the Bluffton Maroons and the West Ends put up one of the best amateur games ever played on the field. The locals took the lead in the third period and held it the rest of the time, the game ending with a 14 to 6 marker.

This is the first time that a Fort Wayne team has been able to put over a win on the Maroons for many moons. The game was well played and full of thrills and made a big hit with the fans. Herring went over for the first count on a short buck and Bradley kicked the goal. Shortly after this Bauer of the Maroons grabbed off a pass and scored for Bluffton. Hilgeman came in for the feature work and made a long run for a touchdown after knocking off a pass by Herring.

The Maroons had a hundred rooters in the stands and they sure did pull for their favorites. Many local fans went early and pulled for the West Ends and all were satisfied with the contest.

The line-up and scoring was as follows:

Men in Mining School at University of California Given Much Practical Work Along With Bookish Portion of Education.

By C. A. CLAY.

What the man with the pick and shovel is doing for industry.

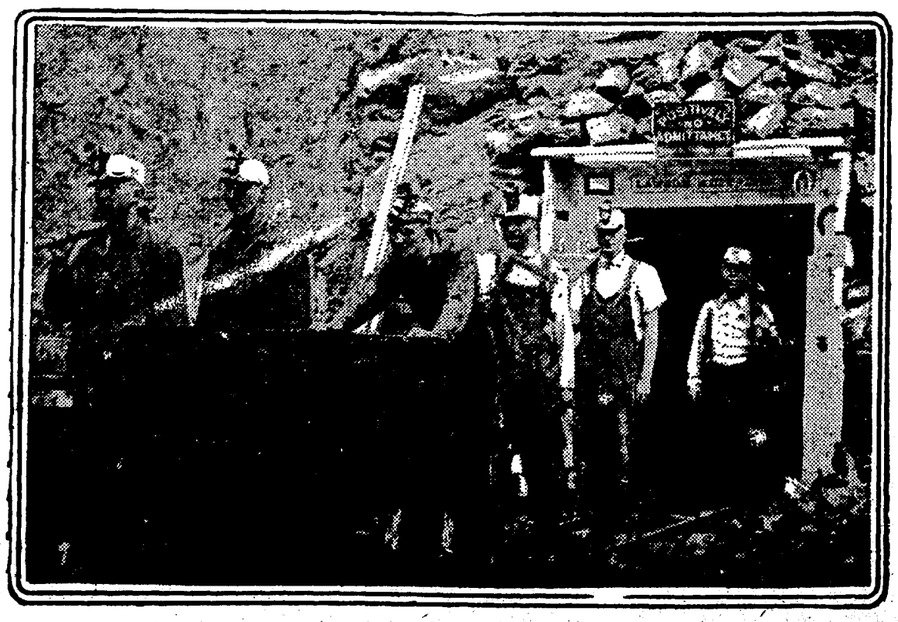
What the man in the office should know of the man on the job.

These are some of the intensely practical things being taught to the men in the mining school at the University of California. The broad wisdom of such instruction applies not only to mining, but to all lines of industry. And the value of it should carry a cheering note to the workaday world.

Prof. Frank H. Probert is the man who is doing the teaching. He has spent a life time at mine work. He has learned that the problems of finance and construction are not the only ones in the upbuilding of a big work.

HE IS TELLING HIS BOYS THAT AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MEN WHO TOIL FOR A LIVING AND A FULL APPRECIATION OF THE DIFFICULTIES THEY HAVE TO OVERCOME FORM A VASTLY IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN MANAGERIAL SUCCESS.



The university miners are learning [illegible] of the dignity of a real mine. They are driving a tunnel under the university campus—the only one of its kind in the world.

They are getting the smell of the underground. By sweat of brow and aching muscles they are learning what the toiler is doing in actual work of industry. They are handling and firing explosives as the tunnel is being pushed farther underground. They break rock, muck dirt and tram it to the exit. They are doing the hard work of timbering and drilling—finding out by the expenditure of their own elbow grease the feel of manual labor and the things of life in such work. They are doing every phase of mine work as it is done in the whirring industries of the real world.

"The only gold we are seeking [illegible] is the gold of actual experience," said Professor Probert, "and that is more valuable even than the precious metal itself.

"The one big thing I want the men to get is the appreciation of the physical effort required to do a certain amount of work; to get the viewpoint of the man who does the real toil in not direct, a work successfully unless he knows how to do it himself.

"A man must understand the nice adjustment of capital and labor if he is to succeed as a manager. He must know what the other fellow is trying to do before he can be in sympathy with his efforts; before he can thoroughly realize the relation between management and men.

"This is true in all phases of industry and it is particularly true in mining. That is why we are having the boys here get acquainted with underground working conditions; why we are having them grapple with all the problems of labor, capital, finance and mechanical construction, just as they will find them in working life.

"Mining is a business and we are teaching it both as a business and as a science."

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, lookout for you are liable to contract some very serious disease. This succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

October 31st 1916

To Whom it may Concern:

I will work for and vote for the Republican Ticket because I confidently believe that the welfare of the Country demands the restoration of the Republican Party to control of Public affairs. No Wage earner should be deceived or confused by fake issues advanced by the Democrat's. The over shadowing issue before the American Laborer to-day is the re-establishment of the protective Tariff system. Every thoughtful man knows that the present Industrial activity in this Country is due entirely to War Orders from Europe and that when the Foreign War comes to an end we will be confronted with Democratic Free Trade, which never has failed to bring disaster to the American Wage earner. The four Years will prove a crucial period in our national life. This Government must be administered by competent and efficient men. If the interests of the Workmen and their Families are to be safeguard the Republican Ticket must win at the Polls next Tuesday.

From the standpoint of the American laborer, we are of the opinion that the most important issue is protection, for in no other way can the standards of living we now have be maintained.

This year particularly, this issue is of paramount importance. Every laboring man knows that before the European War commenced many workmen were out of employment in this country, and that there had been much suffering during the previous winter and there was every indication of an acute condition in the immediate future. The war has temporarily prevented this conditions but it will certainly recur as soon as the war is over unless some steps are taken to repeal the Democratic free trade law now on the statute books; for every Democratic tariff which has been passed since the Civil War has brought disaster to the American wage-earner, and the present law from the standpoint of protection is the least favorable to the maintenance of our national standards of any of the laws for which the Democratic Party is responsible.

No other party than the Republican can be depended upon to restore a suitable protective tariff system and we shall, therefore, work and vote for the Republican ticket, believing that we are doing the best thing possible to safe-guard the interests with which we are charged.

CHICAGO LABOR FOR HUGHES.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Oct 21.—One branch of organized labor swung into line for Charles E. Hughes tonight when the Chicago Building Trades Council, of which Simon O'Donnell is president, adopted resolutions urging the defeat of President Wilson because of "lack of sympathy with the American workmen."

Arthur D Burbank, chairman of the legislative board of railroad trainmen in Illinois, issued a statement declaring that railroad employes are turning from President Wilson

"It is the first time our national officers have attempted to tell us how we must vote, and there are thousands like myself who will not stand for such dictation," said Mr Burbank. "I am convinced that the sentiment among the railroad men for Hughes is growing stronger every day."

This is Labor's Answer to the Attempt To Deliver the American Workingman's Vote

THE labor vote cannot be delivered to the Democratic party. The bulk of it throughout the country will go to Hughes, was the positive declaration of Thomas J. Williams, one of the most prominent trade unionists in the United States, in course of an interview in Pittsburgh on Nov. 1, 1916.

Mr. Williams is National President of the Building Trades department of the American Federation of Labor, which includes every craft in any way identified with the building industry.

It has a membership of nearly one and a half million men, all mechanics, which is more than fifty per cent. of the entire membership of the organization of which Samuel Gompers is the head.

Mr. Williams has just completed a tour of the south and middle west, in course of which he talked with representatives of every industry and addressed seven national conventions of labor organizations.

"No man or group of men can deliver the labor vote to the Democratic party," said Mr. Williams. "The American workingman always has supported the Republican ticket, and for a very practical reason.

"He knows that the Republican party stands for the great principle of protection to American industry, and that without such protection there can be no prosperity for him. The wage earners of this country today consider the re-establishment of the protective tariff system the one great issue before them, and they will vote accordingly next Tuesday.

"No sensible laboring man is deceived by the present abnormal industrial activity in the United States. We all know that war orders from Europe are responsible for it.

"If the foreign conflict should end tomorrow, the wage earners of this country would be confronted with precisely similar conditions to those which confronted them during the first two years of the Wilson administration—idle mills, dead locomotives, men out of employment, and business depression everywhere.

"The workingman will vote next Tuesday for the Republican ticket because he will then vote for his own material welfare.

"In my trip through the south and west, discussed the political situation with hundreds of laboring men. I found no indication anywhere of a pronounced trend of sentiment in the ranks of the wage-earners towards the Democratic party."

The Republican Protective Tariff protects workingmen's wages without increasing the cost of living. The question is shall we have a Democratic tariff that only pretends to help the wage-earner or a Republican tariff that really protects him?

LABOR LEADERS INDORSE HUGHES

Declaring that President Wilson has proven himself an enemy of organized labor and that, on the contrary, Mr. Hughes has shown himself the friend of labor throughout his whole career, a series of resolutions supporting the candidacy of Mr Hughes was passed last night at a meeting of the Philadelphia Building Trades Council, representing in all about 60,000 men. The meeting was held in the Parkway Building, and the resolutions were passed after a spirited discussion. Frank J Schneider presided.

A standing vote was taken The resolution declared that until his entrance into politics six years ago, President Wilson had proved himself a "harsh, bitter and unjust critic" of labor unions, and had shown by his speeches and his writings, in his books, that he had no sympathy with the labor movement The statement was attributed to him that "Labor unions dragged the highest men to the level of the lowest," and he was quoted as being a "fierce partisan of the open shop."

The passage was cited from President Wilson's book, "The History of the American People," where he asserted that the Chinese labor was preferable to the Polish, Slavonic or Italian On the other hand, it was declared that Mr Hughes had been shown by his words, his deeds and his record, that he had been a friend of labor and of labor unions during his entire career

Mr Hughes' utterance, that he regarded labor unions as a "fine opportunity for the improvement of the condition of the workingman," was quoted, and his statement, "the interests of labor are the interests of all people, and the protection of the wage earner in the security of life and health by every practical means, is one of the most sacred trusts of society."

"We vigorously condemn," read the resolution, "the action of labor leaders in endeavoring to create opposition to Mr. Hughes, and with the belief in mind that all labor unions should be kept free from political parties, we urge all our members as well as those of other unions and locals, to cast their votes as their interest best demands."

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 6.—The bulletin of the ministry of agriculture, gives the condition of the cotton crop in Lower Egypt as 10 per cent. and in Upper Egypt as four per cent. below the average. The pink boll worm attack has considerably increased in intensity throughout Upper Egypt.

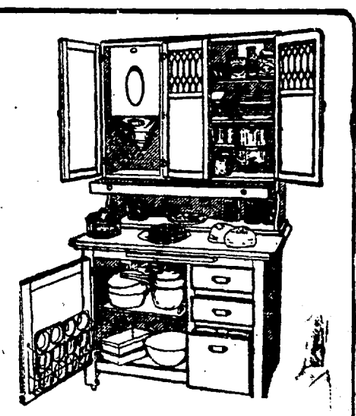
Save Time, Labor and Youth

Without a Boone Kitchen Cabinet you must be constantly on the jump—into the pantry and out again—into this drawer and that reaching up to shelves—bending over to drawers—hunting for lost articles—perhaps spoiling something you are cooking when you can't lay your hand on just what you want. All these things make kitchen work drudgery, sap strength and vitality, put wrinkles in your face and discontent into your heart, cut off your pleasure time and make you prematurely old.



Boone Kitchen Cabinets

banish this drudgery by providing a handy place for almost every kitchen utensil and baking material. They systematize your work, cut the labor in half, give you time to dress up and freshen up, and allow you to spend a good many hours daily enjoying yourself.

MOST OF SHOPS CLOSE AT NOON

Two, Bass and Wabash, to Be Closed All Day on Account of Election.

Not for many years have the shops in Fort Wayne been as busy during a presidential election as they are this year and as a result none will close longer than they have to. The Knitting Mills announce that the plant and offices will be open to operations all day, but be individual voters will be given the allotted time at the polls. The Bass Foundry and Machine company, which finds it impracticable to close a part of the day, put up notices that operations would be suspended for the entire day. The Wabash shops also announces a full day suspension of work. Other shops in the city, including the General Electric works, the Pennsylvania, S. F. Bowser & Co. and the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump works, will be in operation until noon and closed in the afternoon. The usual suspension of traffic at the freight houses will take place.

Then it was given out that the Wabash never had such a rush of freight as it is getting at present. "Every locomotive that can pull a train, every car that can move over the rails and every trainman and engineman is being worked to the limit," continued the employe. The shops are also running up to their full capacity.

BOSTON TROOPS GO EAST.

Saturday night, as the democratic parade was in progress, a train loaded with national guards en route from the Mexican border was standing at the depot, and the soldiers got out and lined up on the elevation bridge to watch and cheer as the procession passed south on Harrison and north on Calhoun street. The soldiers had been on the border four months and were glad that they were being sent home. Their train consisted of thirty-five cars, including the passenger and freight cars.

PRINTERS SAY ADVANCE IS NECESSARY

High Prices Compelled Publisher to Raise Prices of Papers.

Typographical union, No. 78, at its meeting yesterday in Harmony hall, adopted a resolution, declaring that it was absolutely necessary, because of the tremendous advance in the price of material, for the publishers to raise prices in newspaper publications. The resolution, which received unanimous support, reads as follows:

"Whereas, The prevailing increase in the price of all materials entering into the production of a newspaper have compelled the proprietors thereof in Fort Wayne to not only increase the price of their publication to the readers, but also to ask increased rates for advertising service, we, the members of Typographical union, No. 78, would make this statement to the public:

"Such increases have been made absolutely necessary and are wholly within the bounds of reason; otherwise to continue the old rates would necessarily mean not only a curtailment of the efficiency of the news and telegraph departments of the papers, but would react upon the means of livelihood of numerous members of our organization;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we ask the business men and others doing business with the newspapers to cheerfully accept the new rates and conditions as adopted.

John Wanamaker

Yesterday's daily papers throughout the country carried a full page advertisement which talked of "deception" and was signed "A Half Democrat who cannot vote for Wilson." The man who PAID for it and who HID behind a false and misleading signature, was John Wanamaker, always an Old Guard Republican and Postmaster General under President Harrison. It was the latest of a series of page Republican advertisements for which Mr. Wanamaker is paying. This "Half-Democrat" gave various reasons why he could not vote for Wilson, but not the real reasons.

From 1898 to 1910, the House of Wanamaker withheld thousands of dollars in customs revenue. Twelve years of deception in connection with shipments from the Wanamaker Paris office!

On March, 1913, the day before President Wilson took office, John Wanamaker paid the Government $100,000 in settlement. Extreme haste marked the compromise, Secretary MacVeagh and Collector Loeb exerting extraordinary efforts to close and hide the case.

But Secretary McAdoo re-opened the case. On June 16, 1914, Wanamaker confessed again and paid over another $100,000. In addition, Secretary McAdoo cleaned out the customs service at Philadelphia, putting trusted men on guard.

Barron is owner of the Wall Street Journal, the Boston News Bureau and the Stock Ticker. In the investigation into the wrecking of the New Haven Railroad, Barron was compelled to admit that he had shared in the loot, receiving money for "advice" and even netting $50,000 in one lump. Barron led in the fight on the confirmation of Brandeis as Supreme Court Justice, but when put on the stand, his testimony proved nothing but hearsay venom.

There you have it! The costly, hypocritical and absolutely misleading pages of Republican advertisements that have crowded the newspapers in these last weeks were dictated and paid for by these men!

Get the idea! Then decide whether you will let them continue to insult your intelligence byspecious pleas to vote for Hughes, Roosevelt and the Old Guard.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—Advertisement.

LUBIN PLAN COMMANDS INTEREST IN LONDON

International Commerce Commission Idea Wins Much Favor There.

London, Oct. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Representatives of thirteen of the trans-Atlantic steamship lines, in a meeting just held in London, listened with great attention to arguments in favor of the proposed International Commerce commission by David Lubin, of New York and California, who succeeded in getting through congress resolutions endorsing the idea, which has for its object the steadying of prices of staples through the fixing of freight rates on ocean bulk traffic.

Mr. Lubin has succeeded in interesting the big shipping men here in his plan, among them being Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, who is a member of a wealthy shipping family. The meeting was called by Sir Norman Hill, a great Liverpool shipping magnate. Among the lines represented were the American, Allen, Atlantic Transport, Associated Lines, Canadian Pacific, Cunard, Dominion, Furness Withy, Harrison, Leyland, White Star and Wilson.

Mr. Lubin's address was followed by questions from practically all attending that revealed general interest in the plan. To questioners who feared the result of such a strict control of the lines as to compel them to conform to special rates, Mr. Lubin pointed to the benefits sustained by the railroads in the United States from the Interstate Commerce commission's rules.

"Before the Interstate Commerce commission came into being the price of the leading American railway stocks on your market here were as uncertain as those of common wildcat schemes offered to the public," he said. "But the stabilizing effect of the Interstate Commerce commission's control has, as you know of your own personal knowledge, converted them into the highest gilt-edged securities."

Wilson and Peace with Honor?

Hughes with Roosevelt and War?

Roosevelt says we should hang our heads in shame because we are not at WAR with Germany in behalf of Belgium!

Roosevelt says that following the sinking of the Luscitania he would have foregone diplomacy and seized every ship in our ports flying the German flag. That wouldhave meant WAR

Hughes Says He and Roosevelt are in Complete Accord!

Senator Fall, who has vast interests in Mexico and is Candidate Hughes' adviser as to Mexican Affairs, declares "a Hughes war would be preferable to a Wilson peace."

Read the published list of Heavy Subscribers to the Republican campaign fund, then look up the list of Americans with enormous interests in Mexico and learn why those who place the almighty dollar ahead of human life would not hesitate to plunge this country into an ignoble war of conquest—would not stop at sacrificing thousands and thousands of American lives in their greed for oil and gold.

Look again at this list. Then you will see why the "Old Guard" appeals frantically for a protective tariff—

That breeder of strikes, of starvation wages, and of every panic that ever cursed this country—

And which made billions for organized wealth by putting honest competition out of business.

You will see why in sheer desperation and bereft of all decency the Republican "Old Guard" is capitalizing the lamentable incidents in Mexico and trying to discredit your President for sparing you the horrors that would come with intervention.

Mr. Hughes "Would Name a STRONG Cabinet."

Read the list still again. Note the names of men heavily intrenched financially in the protective tariff system and in vicious special privilege.

Read and see why millions are being spent to reenact the Payne-Aldrich tariff—to wipe out the Federal Reserve System—to repeal the Eight Hour law and other progressive laws—to undo the Wilson Record of unparalleled achievement.

Then understand why Candidate Hughes said in his Milwaukee speech: "The whole list of Democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

The Lesson is Plain:

If You Want WAR Vote for HUGHES!

If You Want Peace With Honor

VOTE FOR WILSON!

and Continued Prosperity

Why Despair When Credit Brings to You the Assurance of a Brighter, Happier Home

Are you "down in the dumps?" Are you in danger of joining the discouragingly large army of "quitters," whose creed is "I can't"? Let us hope not. This is an age and a time when everyone should be optimistic; "up on their toes," cheerfully battling with any odds that stand in the way of their future and their happiness. And if your future and your happiness lie in the upbuilding of a home, more success to you. We feel proud in the knowledge that we have helped many, many people out of the rut and onto the high road to success by extending to them the broad privileges of our Credit System. And if you feel that you have need for credit, we'll be very glad to give it. For a modest sum down and small payments each month you can buy most any article in this store. And if you merely want to investigate our Credit System come in any time and we will be pleased to explain it.

HOG PRICES DROP TO NINE CENTS A POUND

Yorkers took a fall of 25 cents a hundred pounds Monday on the local markets. The topnotch price for hogs now is $9.00 a hundredweight. No explanation for the drop in price is offered by local packers and live stock dealers. No indications are given as to any further changes.

Anticipation on election returns has put a real-for-sure crimp in the markets locally as well as in trading centers. The receipts at the Fort Wayne markets have been very light and prices remained unchanged.

Only twenty loads of hay and grain appeared at the city scales Monday morning, which is very light for Monday and considering the pleasant and favorable weather. Old corn has been taken from the scalemaster's report as the receipts in this department are a thing of the past. New corn brought 75 cents a bushel.

All other prices were the same and the markets were quiet. Eggs remain at the same level. Poultry follows suit.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Rains in southern Argentina gave a downward slant today to wheat prices here. Besides demand was poor on account of reluctance to make new commitments in the face of a general holiday tomorrow. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to 1c lower, with December at $1.81⅞@1.82¼ and May at $1.83¼@1.83¾, were followed by decided further setbacks interrupted by brief transient rallies.

The close was strong, 1¼c to 2½c net higher, with December at $1.84⅝ and May at $1.86½.

The close was strong at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

Oats gave way as a result of depression in other cereals. Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 6.—Today's strong opening was in marked contrast with the trend of last week's closing prices. Gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded at the outset. United States Steel rose almost a point on its first transaction of 7,000 shares, with 1 to 2 point advances in Colorado Fuel, Republic Iron and Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Anaconda Copper and the leading petroleums. Central Leather's rise of 2¾ to the new maximum of 101 was the conspicuous feature of the more speculative industrials. Columbia Gas also attained a new

M. DUKES COMPANY TO QUIT BUSINESS

Announcement Causes Surprise in the Business Circles of the City.

The announcement by M. Dukes, president of the Dukes Clothing company, one of the leading clothing firms of Fort Wayne, intended to go out of business, came as a great surprise. Mr. Dukes says his company will discontinue the clothing business in this city, several reasons being assigned. One of the principal reasons, he says, is the unfavorable conditions as regards their present location. The excessive rentals asked elsewhere makes moving prohibitive in view of the fact that desirable locations at reasonable rent are hard to find. Mr. Dukes also says there are personal reasons for the company's decision to go out of business.

The Dukes Clothing company has been in business in Fort Wayne for the past eleven years and has enjoyed a splendid trade during that time. Some of the best brands of clothing on the market are handled by the firm. Now that the decision has been reached to quit business the entire stock will be sold at remarkable reductions. Every article in the store will be marked down.

M. Dukes and his son, M. H. Dukes, are not ready to announce their plans for the future, as they have not been sufficiently developed.

BABY BONDS FOR CHILD'S EDUCATION

Many a mother, in moderate circumstances, is willing to sacrifice almost anything, that her child may have a good education. Here is what one mother is doing for her child by investing in Baby Bonds. On the child's first birthday she purchased a Baby Bond realizing that the six per cent. interest would amount to considerable by the time the child reached the age of twenty, and that the safety of the money was insured as Baby Bonds were secured by first mortgages on local real estate. Each succeeding birthday she plans to purchase another Baby Bond, and when the child is ready for college there will be a sufficient fund to cover the tuition, board, etc. As Baby Bonds come in $10.00 denominations, their purchase is always easy and they are ideal for this purpose. For further details regarding them see the Wildwood Sales Company.—Advertisement.

Public Invited When Eagles Pay Respect to Their Dead Members.

A general invitation has been extended to the public by the president of the Fort Wayne Aerie, No. 248, Fraternal Order of Eagles, when this order will hold its annual memorial services next Sunday in the lodge hall. The floral ceremony will be used and this will be the public's first opportunity of witnessing this part of the services.

After the meeting is called to order at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon by the president, Lew Nicklas, Rev. A. J. Folsom, of the Plymouth Congregational church, will invoke the divine blessing. After a selection has been rendered by the Barner orchestra the floral services will be exemplified.

Rev. Folsom will deliver a general eulogy for the dead. The Aerie quartet will render a selection after which Avery M. Groves will deliver the individual eulogies.

WHO'S THE HUGGER? THAT'S THE QUESTION

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Pretty Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond, of 6252 South Loomis street, got a hug. Now, the question is, who took it?

This quizzical interrogation unavoidably instigates some others: Is there a Jack the Hugger, a predatory squeeze pirate, cruising the south side? Does he wear a change of scenery, enabling him to steal a kiss, beat it to cover, shift his makeup and come from his guilty sanctuary all blandly innocent, with his mouth puckered for the same?

Volplaning gracefully from the realm of hypothesis to the ground of fact, here is the evidence:

Mrs. Hammond, accompanied by her sister, was hugged Saturday night as she was passing the corner of Sixty-third street and Racine avenue. She pointed out Cornelius Van Laten, of 6240 South Elizabeth street, as the hugger.

"He wore a black hat when he hugged me," said Mrs. Hammond. "He's got on a light one now, but that dupes me no dupes. He embraced me five times before I could get away. I ought to know him in any or no hat."

Van Laten was occupied in tearing a small flag from a republican parade machine when the police took him.

"I just came from my rooming house," said he. "My mother and several acquaintances saw me come out."

"That's the hugger," said Mrs. Hammond, grimly.

Mrs. Van Laten came up demanding an explanation.

"He's the hugger," said Mrs. Hammond.

"He's no hugger," said Mrs. Van Laten. "He's had a couple glasses of beer, that's all."

Van Laten's case was to come up in court today.

CLINE FIGHTS HARDEST FOR HIS CONSTITUENTS

That Cyrus Cline is known in Washington as the congressman who fights hardest for his constituents, and that the Twelfth district will make a sad mistake if it fails to return Mr. Cline to congress is the view of J. T. McElfatrick, a former Fort Wayne man who has had frequent opportunity during his numerous visits to Washington to observe the work of Mr. Cline and to know his standing there. Mr. McElfatrick is the eastern representative of the D. & T. Manufacturing company, of St. Louis, producers of hot water regulators and circulators, located at Buffalo. He has written from Buffalo to Charles W. Comparet, 1117 Elmwood avenue, Fort Wayne, under date of October 29, as follows:

"Dear Brother:—Only a little over a week now until the election, and I feel that I should remind you of the fact that I should give you a few facts that may influence you when you go to the polls.

"You know that for the past thre years I have been getting into Washington every five or six weeks regularly. It has only been my pleasure to meet your Congressman Cline once during this time, but I have learned the following facts, all of which seem to be common talk in that city, and should be known in the district which he represents:

"Mr. Cline is known as the congressman who fights for the interest of his constituents in Washington.

"He has always been found hard at work for any bill that might in any measure improve the condition of the working classes.

"He is a democrat, but not the kind that is party-blind, and in the few cases where party legislation has not met with his full support, it was because his good sense and clear judgment would not permit hi mto support a bill which he believed to be wrong.

"He has now been in congress long enough to be of some real service to his district, and holding the respect, as he does, of democrats and republicans alike in Washington, I believe the Twelfth district of Indiana will make a sad mistake if it fails to return Cyrus Cline to congress this fall.

"No man there has fought harder for the district he represents, for the people of his district, and for sound, sane legislation where it would affect the entire country.

"To besure, I no longer have a vote there, and have, in fact, no interest in the election or defeat of anyone in that or any other district, but I do know when a man is trying hard to fulfill his pledges and believe that Mr. Cline should have your vote and that of any of your friends whom you can influence.

CHILD HURT IN ACCIDENT.

Norine Connelly, 5, daughter of James Connelly, received severe cuts across her forehead, Saturday evening, when the windshield was broken on the automobile in which she was riding. The automobile ran against the rear of another machine. Lawrence Connelly, uncle of the girl, was driving the car which collided with the rear of the automobile belonging to Sidney Sowers, 1540 Edsall avenue. A physician was called to attend the girl, whose head was cut by flying glass from the shattered shield.

BROKEN FAMILIES CHIEF CAUSE.

Alcoholism Next as Producer of Social Ills in Indiana.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—The social service department of Indiana university, which so far has confined the greater part of its work to Indianapolis, where the greatest need for social service work has been reported, is trying to extend its influence. The service is paid for by the state at large. In connection with the more extended work, more than sixty-five towns in the state already have been visited by the state worker, Miss Edith Spray.

Statistics compiled from Idianapolis cases indicate that most of the persons involved entered on the city from the [illegible] social service work in such communities. Investigations by the department show that broken families are productive of more social ills than any other single cause. Alcoholism ranks next.

WILSON AND HUGHES EACH EXPECT TO WIN

McCormick Claims 364 Electoral Votes for Wilson, While Willcox Says Hughes Will Have 100 Majority There

New York, Nov. 6.—President Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, candidates of the dominant parties for president remained quietly at their homes, resting from the labor of the long campaign. The last word sent forward by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

President Wilson planned to remain quietly at home today and his only activity tomorrow will be a trip to Princeton to cast his ballot. Tomorrow night, with only the members of his family about him, he will receive the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon but later visited the national republican headquarters chiefly, it was stated, to thank the workers there for their efforts in his behalf. He intended to take a drive through the parks this afternoon and spend the rest of the day quietly at his hotel.

Tomorrow he will vote in his home district and tomorrow night he will get the returns in his hotel rooms. Like Mr.

Tremendous Activity Everywhere Marks Preparation for Tomorrow.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—One of the heaviest votes ever recorded is expected to be cast in Ohio at tomorrow's election. Both republican and democratic state chairmen claim the election of all of their candidates by substantial majorities.

W. L. Finley, democratic state chairman, issued a statement saying President Wilson and the entire state ticket will carry Ohio by 100,000 votes, while Charles Hatfield, republican state chairman, predicted that Hughes, Gov. Willis and Myron T. Herrick will carry the state by "from 60,000 to 100,000."

Both campaign headquarters were agreed that there is seemingly more interests in Ohio over the election of a president than over the state ticket. State issues, including taxation and workmen's compensation insurance have been the principal issues at stake in the campaign of Gov. Frank B. Willis, republican, and ex-Governor James M. Cox, democrat.

Much interest centers around the vote for United States senator. Senator Atlee Pomerene, democrat, and Myron T. Herrick, republican, have waged a warm campaign on national issues.

IN KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Activity in connection with the political campaign in Kentucky shifted today to county and precinct organizations which began final preparations for the election tomorrow. Both republican and democratic leaders are claiming the state, and each party will make a strong effort to get its full strength to the polls. The vote is expected to be the largest in recent years in this state.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Final preparations for tomorrow's election were completed today by the various party leaders throughout the state. The democratic leaders expect the largest democratic vote ever registered in this city will be polled for President Wilson. Meanwhile the republican leaders anticipate a majority of 150,000 or more for Hughes in Philadelphia and claim he will carry the state by 200,000. Close fights are expected in several of the congressional districts, but the republican leaders declare they will elect the four congressmen-at-large and representatives from 27 of the 32 congressional districts. The democrats are making strenuous efforts to increase their present representation of six from this state.

IN MICHIGAN.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—Casting of ballots in Detroit tomorrow will be more closely guared and watched than ever before in the city's history. An army of trained civilians, federal agents, uniformed policemen and private detectives has been assembled and at least two men are to be placed in every voting booth in the city. This step grows out of charges made recently that fully 3,000 illegal registrations had been entered on the registration books.

Republican and democartic leaders resting after one of the most acrimonious campaigns in years stood by their earlier claims that their respective candidates would be victorious tomorrow. Republicans claimed the state for Hughes by 100,000, while the democrats predicted Wilson would win by "from 5,000 to 10,000."

Six Dead and Fifty Hurt in Wharf Battle at Everett, Wash.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Six men are dead and fifty are suffering today from bullet wounds as the result of a battle yesterday at Everett, Wash., thirty miles north of Seattle, when 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World attempted to land in that city from the steamer Veronia, which had carried them from Seattle.

The boat was met by Sheriff David McCrea, of Snohomish county, who with a posse forbade the men to land. A shot fired from the Veronia, according to the boat's officers, was followed immediately by firing from both sides. The steamer hastened back to Seattle with the dead and wounded. The Seattle police took the dead to the morgue, the wounded to the city hospital and the unwounded to the city jail.

One member of the Everett citizens' posse, C. O. Curtis, formerly second lieutenant in the Washington national guard, was killed, and nineteen others wounded. Including the wounded there are 294 men and three women under arrest here. Forty-one men were taken from a second steamer which failed to reach Everett. The women were taken from a motor bus which had conveyed them from the northern boundary of Seattle, where they had disembarked from an Everett interurban car.

The fight was the result of the contest between the Industrial Workers and the citizens of Everett over the right to hold street meetings in the city. The national guard and naval militia at Seattle are under orders today to meet any emergency. Sheriff McCrea, who is suffering from two gunshot wounds in the leg, asserted that the first shot was fired by a man in front of the pilot house of the steamer Veronia.

HANLY TALKS DOWN TO FINAL MINUTE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Activities at the republican and democratic state headquarters continued, on this, the last day of the 1916 campaign, while J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential nominee, started this morning on a whirlwind trip through the state with thirteen speeches before him.

Leaders of the two major parties, while they labored over plans to get out the vote tomorrow, reiterated their claims that victory would come to their respective parties.

CARLSTROM FINISHING RECORD-BREAKING FLIGHT AT 110 MILES AN HOUR.

His first stop, made because of engine trouble, was at Erie, Pa., 452 miles from Chicago, which he did in four hours and seventeen and one-half minutes, establishing a new American non-stop record over his flight of 416 miles, between Newport News, Va., and New York, which he had made in four hours and one minute. He was eight hours and thirty-seven minutes in the air in the 975 mile trip from Chicago to New York, and averaged 110 miles an hour.

HALF HOUR HALT WOULD BRING VAST BLOCKADE

Pittsburg Rail Men Working Furiously to Keep Freight Moving.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—Operating officers of the railroads entering Pittsburg were all on duty today in an effort to prevent what some of them asserted would become the greatest [illegible] ade ever known if the long streams of traffic pouring into the [illegible] halted for as much as half an hour.

It was said that 10,000 loaded cars were moving between Chicago and Pittsburg on the Pennsylvania northwest system alone and the situation on the southwest system was equally interesting. Every provision known to modern railroading, it was asserted, had been taken and barring such possible eventualities as heavy fogs in the valley or sudden drop in temperature, there would be no stoppage.

NEIGHBORS CALL ON FIRST AT JAIL

Many of the farmer folk who live in the neighborhood of the place tenanted by Charles First, near Aboit, came to Fort Wayne, Sunday afternoon, to visit the man accused of the killing of Mrs. Bessie Keller. The stock expression used by First, the self-confessed murderer, who has been buried away in the county jail for a week, was that he would like to be out on the farm again to look after things.

Some of the farmers' wives brought big red apples to the dark-eyed man who is shut away from the orchard's wealth. Others only inquired of the farmer if his appetite remained hearty since he was not allowed the sturdy exercise which has been his lot for the six years he has farmed the Crawford place. All had words of sympathy for the man.

To inquiring outsiders several of the farmers said that First was known as a good-natured, plodding, sober fellow. His neighbors will furnish a part of the funds, if need be, for keeping First from the electric chair, they said. Most of them promised First that they would call to see him again.

The oldest son of First called at the jail Saturday afternoon and again Sunday. He assured his father that the farm was being looked after.

GERMAN ATTACKS PROVE EFFECTIVE

Today's War News Given in Summary

Neither the British nor the French were able to retain in its entirety the ground won from the Germans on the Somme front during Saturday's fighting. Heavy counter attacks were delivered by German troops last night on the new British positions in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlancourt, south of the Albert-Bapaume railroad, and London today announced the British were compelled to give up portions of them. Similarly the French lines were attacked and Paris states that while the Germans were held off on the line between Sailley-Saillizel-St. Pierre-Vaast wood, they were able to recapture some positions in the wood and in the village of Saillisel, just to the north.

After a long interval the resumption of active operations in Dobrudja is reported from Bucharest and announces a Rumanian victory. Rumanian troops are declared to have taken the offensive north of Hirshova and driven Field Marshal von Makensen's troops from several villages which were set on fire as they were evacuated.

The steamer Lanao, a 692-ton vessel last reported at Suez on October 9 on her way from French Cochin China to Havre, was sunk by a submarine on October 28, it is announced in London. Thirty men from her have been landed by the Norwegian steamer Tromp at Barry, Wales. The Lanao was an American vessel up till September, when it was sold to a Norwegian company.

Berlin in a lenghty official statement today regarding the fighting on the Somme front, declares that yesterday's operation consisted of a thrust of the most powerful character by the British and French along a twelve-mile front, but that it accomplished nothing except a small gain for the French in St. Pierre-Vaast wood. The Germans captured about 400 prisoners and eleven machine guns. Regarding the fighting on the Rumanian frontier, Berlin reports Teutonic gains southwest of Predeal.

London, Nov. 6.—A strong German counter-attack last night compelled the British to relinquish a portion of the ground they had captured in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt on the Somme front, the war office announced today. The statement says:

"During the night a strong enemy counter-attack forced us to relinquish a portion of the ground we had won in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt. East of Les Boeufs we secured yesterday's gains.

"We conducted three successful raids on trenches in the Armentieres and Ypres sections."

ADMIT GERMAN GAINS.

Paris, Nov. 6.—A violent attack by German troops was made last night on the position captured by the French between Sailley-Saillisel and the St. Pierre Vaast wood. The war office today announced that this assault was repulsed with heavy loss to the Germans. Some ground was gained by the Germans in the wood and the village of Saillisel.

On the Verdun front there has been active cannonading in the Damloup region, but no infantry engagements occurred. Elsewhere on the front the night was calm.

Von Mackensen's Men Retire.

Bucharest, Nov. 6.—The war office announces that Rumanian forces in Dobrudja have compelled the retirement of Teutonic troops which in their retreat set fire to several villages.

GERMAN TROOPS UNSHAKEN.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The British and French using the strongest forces made continued attacks yesterday on the Somme front. The war office announces that the German troops withstood these attacks unshaken.

The statement follows: "Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht. In the continuous battle on the Somme the fifth of Nov. was another fighting day of the first class. The British and French with the strongest forces and employing the whole firing capacity of their artillery

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 6.—Arrivals here today from Chihuahua stated that General Trevino, Carranza commander, is concentrating his forces into two bodies, one with Chihuahua City as a base and the other a large command which will operate as a unit from Escalon. This is being done, they said, to prevent mobile bodies of Villistas from attacking isolated Carranza garrisons.

"I'll stick to Chihuahua till the last cartridge," was the statement made by General Trevino to a delegation who called on him, according to one of the passengers. He said that the general expressed to the consuls that the placing of cannon on a train has given rise to the report that he intended to evacuate the city. This train, the general added, was armored so as to be sent to any point on the line as military necessities demanded. He then told the consuls that his new system of fortifications would stand any attacked except by explosive shells of large calibre, which Villa did not have and could not obtain.

Despite the efforts of the consuls to quiet rumors in the foreign colony, five French women, several Germans and other foreigners and some twenty Mexican women above the peon class, all with children, came to Juarez last night. Juan Trevino, who is not a relative of the commandant of Chihuahua City, was one of the few men passengers. He brought his family here and said he was on his way to Kansas City because of business connected with the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railway, of which he is Mexican manager.

ROADS ADMIT ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATE PLAN

Effective December 1 Unless Commerce Commission Intervenes.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Railroad officers here admitted today that the roads represented by the Central Freight association covering Ohio, Indiana and parts of Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania, have prepared new freight tariffs to become effective Dec. 1, unless prepared by the interstate commerce commission in which many schedules are increased.

The new tariffs which in some cases amount to an increase of 173 per cent., over those now in effect, will affect shipments made by manufacturers and producers of groceries, furniture, clothing and other commodities. The larger increases are in rates for distances not exceeding sixty-five miles which are claimed by the roads to be abnormally low. Six classes of freight are affected.

ROAD PLANNING TO SPEND $15,000,000

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central railroad, informed the Ohio public utilities commission that his road intends to spend approximately $15,000,000 for new equipment next year. Announcement of the proposed expenditure was made in an application for authority to issue $12,000,000 of equipment trust certificates to be sold at not less than 97. The application states that the equipment to be purchased will include 4,000 steel box cars to cost $5,000,000; 3,000 all steel coal cars to cost $4,500,000; ten electric locomotives to cost $750,000; 100 steel passenger coaches to cost $2,000,000; 100 baggage cars to cost $1,100,000, and 30 multiple unit cars to cost $750,000.

The commission will hold a hearing on the application Friday.

RESTAURANT TAKES TWO FORGED CHECKS

Detectives are hunting the man with the strong nerve who cashed two worthless checks at the same place on two different days. The Imperial restaurant, 117 East Main street, managed by Paul De Wood, got the two worthless papers and is out $4.70 and two meals.

The man who tendered the checks signed his name on both occasions as Frank Rogers. He represented himself as being employed by the Fort Wayne Tile and Cement company. On Wednesday he left one check for $10. He took a meal ticket, supper and $1.95 in change.

The stranger was back two days later. He handed in a second check for $8.25. Dinner, a meal ticket and $2.75, were his profits. From the Tri-State Loan and Trust company came back the checks, to the restaurant, on Saturday, marked "No Account." Police have not found Rogers yet.

BOTH SIDES SEE VICTORY

BUT SOMEBODY IS SURE TO BE FOOLED

THE PREDICTIONS.

I predict an overwhelming victory for the entire democratic ticket.—Martin H. Luecke, democratic district chairman.

Allen county will go democratic by between 2,500 and 3,000.—Calvin H. Brown, democratic county chairman.

We still believe that Mr. Fairfield and Mr. Hughes will carry the district by from 1,500 to 2,000.—Harry G. Hogan, republican district chairman.

The republicans will carry Allen county by from 500 to 1,000.—Dr. J. E. Stults, republican county chairman.

The prohibitionists will poll between 1,500 and 1,800 votes in Allen county.—M. S. Willson, prohibition county chairman.

The socialists will poll three million votes at tomorrow's election and between 4,000 and 5,000 in this district.—J. Lloyd Armstrong, socialist candidate for congress.

Somebody is going to be dreadfully disappointed in Tuesday's election judging from the predictions that have been made by the various political leaders. One thing is certain—they all can't be right.

Both democratic and republican leaders are confident of victory in this district. At both headquarters there was a feeling of confidence Monday and the predictions given were the honest convictions of those who for the past several weeks have done little else but devote their time and energies to the cause of the party of their faith.

Democratic leaders were rejoicing over the unprecedented success of the Marshall demonstration on Saturday evening. It was the greatest thing of the campaign and it is believed, judging from reports reaching democratic headquarters, resulted in many converts to the cause of democracy.

Both the democrats and republicans never had better organizations throughout the entire district than they have had this year.

Not a single precinct was overlooked. Both sides are ready, as they have not been perhaps in many campaigns, for the battle tomorrow. Today has been devoted principally to the final preparations for work at the polls Tuesday.

Hoffman Predicts Success.

Edward G. Hoffman, democratic national committeeman from Indiana, predicts that Indiana will go democratic by 25,000 and that Congressman Cyrus Cline and the Allen county democratic ticket will be elected by handsome majorities. He says that reports he has received from throughout the entire country indicate a sweeping victory for Woodrow Wilson.

"I predict an overwhelming victory for Wilson in the nation, and the entire democratic state and county tickets," declared Martin H. Luecke, democratic district chairman. "Congressman Cline is stronger right now than he ever has been."

"We will carry Allen county by between 2,500 and 3,000," was the prediction of Calvin H. Brown, democratic county chairman. "Reports coming to me are most encouraging."

Hogan Sees It Differently.

Harry G. Hogan, republican state district chairman, does not agree with the democratic leaders. "Democracy has reached the period of political hysteria," he says. "It is preparing an alibi for the unfavorable result it fears. We still believe that Mr. Fairfield and Mr. Hughes will carry the district by from 1,500 to 2,000 votes and in so doing elect the Allen county ticket."

Dr. J. E. Stults is equally as optimistic. He says: "Allen county will go republican by between 500 and 1,000. I feel confident Mr. Fairfield will carry the county."

Will Poll Three Million.

J. Lloyd Armstrong, socialist candidate for congress, predicts that the socialist party will poll three million votes in Tuesday's election and between 4,000 and 5,000 in the Twelfth congressional district. He will receive returns at his office in Pixley-Long block. His telephone number is 3677.

M. S. Willson, prohibition county chairman, predicts that the prohibitionists will poll between 1,500 and 1,800 votes in Allen county, which is more

HOME PRIDE IS THE CAUSE

EVERY VOTER URGED TO DO RIGHT THING

If Anyone Opposes Convention Hall He Has Kept Very Mum.

VOTE FOR YOURSELF TOMORROW

Every citizen who casts a vote for the municipal convention hall tomorrow will vote for his own best interests. Never in the history of Fort Wayne has any proposition been of such great good to all the people that it could enlist the hand-in-hand co-operation of democrats, republicans, socialists, prohibitionists, Protestants, Catholics, bartenders, temperance workers, organized labor, employers' associations, literary societies, hospitals, singing societies, secret orders, patriotic orders, veterans, insurance men, merchants, churches, technical clubs, commercial organizations, railway men, mechanics, coal dealers, poultry fanciers, automobile dealers, engineers and scores of other widely-differing organizations, all of which have unanimously adopted ringing resolutions pleading for the erection of the Coliseum at the earliest possible date.

Is there any man in Fort Wayne who can vote against this great thing without ever afterward hanging his head in humiliation and shame?

A vote for the convention hall is a vote for yourself, Mr. Loyal Citizen. Do your duty!

It is not for fear that the municipal convention hall project is in any danger of failing to carry that the hundreds of workers will be busy all day tomorrow at the polls. It is because every man among them wants the vote to be unanimous. They know that any voter who may cast his ballot against the project will, as soon as the building is in use, feel humiliated because of his failure to see things in the right light on election day. They know that no one—unless he has been blinded by narrow, selfish motives, or has been misinformed on some point—will vote against the proposition. Therefore, it is now merely an effort to see to it that everybody does vote on the question, and to give real advice on the matter to any who may not be entirely informed.

These workers are proud of Fort Wayne and her best interests. They want all other citizens to have the same feeling. It's the thing that will make Fort Wayne a greater and a better city in the years to come.

Printers Vote for It.

At a meeting yesterday of Typographical Union No. 78, the printers passed unanimous resolutions declaring for the convention hall. Others who have taken similar action, but who have not received the proper recognition, are Henry W. Lawton Camp No. 35, United Spanish War Veterans, Zollinger Camp, and the Woman's Relief Corps of Sion S. Bass Post, G. A. R.

AMERICAN ENGINEER PAINTS DIRE ORDEAL

Tells Experiences When Captured by German Submarine.

New York, Nov. 6.—"I have been a marine engineer since 1881, but never have I gone through an ordeal like that one a German submarine put upon us a few weeks ago," declared Frederick Smith, of Hartford, Conn., who arrived here last night from Liverpool on the American liner St. Louis.

Smith stated that he was induced to sign as third engineer on the British steamship Midland by promise of good pay and assurances that the vessel was bound for China and would not enter the European war zone. When off St. Lucia he learned that the ship was bound for Vladivostok.

"After leaving the Siberian port we went to Australia, where we loaded grain for Havre," said Smith in telling the story. "At 6 o'clock we were halted by seven shots, none of which hit us.

"We had a crew of thirty-three, eight of us white and the others Lascars. I was the only American aboard. We were ordered to the life boats, fifteen in one and eighteen in another. We were ordered to approach the submarine and the German commander forced us to come aboard. He put some of his crew into our boat and they went out to the Midland and sank her. After four explosions we saw her dark hull roll over and go down.

"The Germans used only one English expression when they returned to the submarine after sinking the Midland. That was, 'Get out.' We drifted throughout the night, until daybreak, when a French trawler picked us up and kept us aboard for two days. Later it took us into St. Malo."

LANO, SUNK, WAS NOT AN AMERICAN VESSEL

London, Nov. 6.—Lloyds announces that the steamship Lano, described by the shipping agency as an American vessel, was sunk on Oct. 28 by a submarine. Thirty men from the Lano were landed at Barry by the Norwegian steamship Tromp.

Until her transfer to a Norwegian owner, the Lano was owned by Findlay Miller & Co., of Manila. She was a small vessel.

NO TAMERICAN VESSEL.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The steamer Lano is not an American owned vessel, acording to records of the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce, which show Christiana, Norway, as her home port.

ANNIVERSARY OF TIPPECANOE.

Battle Ground, Ind., Nov. 6.—The 105th anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe, which was fought on the morning of November 7, 1811, was observed here yesterday by the Society of the War of 1812 of the State of Illinois, more than 800 people being present. John Meloy Stahl, of Chicago, president of the society, acted as master of ceremonies. Early in the morning forty-six American flags were unfurled in memory of the forty-six Americans who died in the battle and from wounds. An address of welcome was given by E. Burleigh Davidson, city attorney of Lafayette, and the response and an address on historical facts was made by James Edgar Brown, of Chicago. There were also addresses by Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles, president of the National Society United States Daughters of 1812; Brigadier General R. P. Dehart, of Lafayette; William C. Royse, of Terre Haute, and Rev. G. W. Switzer, of Lafayette.

GRAND JURIES TO HIT COAL PRICE BOOSTERS

New York, Nov. 6.—An alleged conspiracy in this city to raise the price of coal will be under the formal investigation of both the Kings and Queens counties district attorneys before the end of the week, it was declared today.

Evidence bearing on the subject secured by agents of the department of justice indicated, it was said, that the alleged manipulation was in New York only, and was disclosed through the demand upon retailers for extraordinary high prices by operators who had coal in storage within the state.

Because the coal affected has already been brought into the state, the federal authorities have taken the stand that the matter rests with state rather than federal officials, they will, however, it was announced, continue their investigation and if any conspiracy of an interstate nature is uncovered a federal grand jury will be asked to act upon it.

ing that the republicans have made spirited fights in several southern states, democratic leaders today seemed chiefly concerned with the problem of getting out the vote in order to give President Wilson an unusually large plurality on Tuesday.

Although it is conceded the electoral vote of the south will go to the democratic candidate as usual, this year, the republicans have picked Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida as favorable battlegrounds and have waged hot fights for state and national tickets there. The other states have been occupied mainly with local issues and a few contests for congress.

IN NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Candidates for state offices in President Wilson's home state campaigned today up to the last minute, finishing up one of the most warmly contested political fights New Jersey has seen. Walter E. Edge, the republican gubernatorial nominee, and the republican candidate for the senate, Joseph S. Freelinghuysen, began a joint speaking tour. Otto Whitpenn, the democratic candidate for senator, will wind up the campaign in their home counties tonight. Leaders of both parties expressed confidence of victory today, declaring that the latest indications were that the pluralities already predicted would be exceeded. These were: By the republicans, 15,000, and by the democrats, 25,000.

IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Although the presidential, state, congressional and local campaigns in Illinois were practically closed Saturday night, leaders and candidates of the various parties spent today for the most part in perfecting organization in the wards and precincts. A few of the candidates made speeches during the day, but the chief activity was left to the party workers who attended to details that had been overlooked heretofore. No statements were available from the chairmen of the democratic or republican committees today. The chairmen of both republican and democratic committees claim the state will cast its vote for their respective candidates for president by practically the same plurality—150,000. The republican chairman also claims that Frank O. Lowden will be chosen governor by 150,000 plurality, while the democratic chairman put forth the claim that Gov. Edward F. Dunne will be re-elected by 75,000 plurality. Women of Illinois will vote for president for the first time tomorrow, though they have not the privilege of voting for state officers with the exception of trustees of the state university.

Party leaders estimate that the total vote in the state will reach 1,800,000, of which 700,000 will be cast by the women.

IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 6.—The day before election found both republican and democratic candidates for the governorship making final appeals to the voters, although victory was claimed for each of them by the respective chairmen of their parties. Both selected this city for the scene of their last campaign activity. Gov. Whitman had on his program four noonday speeches and five tonight. Samuel Seabury, following afternoon talks in Rockland county, will return to New York for an automobile street corner tour of the west side.

The state chairmen were busy today making final arrangements for watching the polls. The final forecast of Republican State Chairman Tanner is that Gov. Whitman with his running mates will carry the state by more than 100,000. Democratic State Chairman Harris and the Tammany leaders are giving out no specific figures officially, but claim the democratic plurality in New York city will be so heavy that it will overcome the republican plurality up state.

IN WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 6.—Socialist leaders asserted today their party would poll 60,000 votes in Wisconsin tomorrow and that socialists would be elected to congress in the Fourth and Fifth (Milwaukee) districts. The democratic state chairman claimed the state for President Wilson by at least 40,000 plurality, while the republican chairman placed the Hughes plurality at 25,000.

IN MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—Both republicans and democratic leaders are satisfied that this state will favor their candidate at the polls tomorrow and there is every indication that an exceptionally heavy vote will be cast.

IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Republicans claim North Dakota by 20,000 for Hughes, but democratic leaders say peculiar political angles will give their candidates a fighting chance.

IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—Both republican and democratic party managers planned today to carry their campaign activities up to the last possible moment before the election. Governor McCall, who seeks re-election and his democratic opponent, Frederick W. Mansfield, made their final pleas on the stump in this city and rallies, many of them in the open air, were arranged for all parts of the state.

IN OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 6.—Charges that there will be a ballot shortage in tomorrow's election with the possible disfranchisement of many voters were made today at republican state headquarters. Predictions of victory were made by democratic, republican and socialist leaders for their national and local tickets in this state.

IN MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 6.—Democratic leaders declared today that the election in Missouri tomorrow will be a victory for the national and local tickets with a plurality of 50,000. Republicans said they would carry the state by 25,000 plurality for Hughes and Henry Lam for governor.

IN KANSAS.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 6.—Political meetings were announced today for every congressional district in Kansas. Charles Sessions, republican state chairman, issued a statement claiming that Kansas would go for Hughes by 35,000 and would re-elect Gov. Arthur Capper by 100,000. Hubert Lardner, democratic chairman, claimed the election of Wilson and victory for W. C. Lansdon, as governor, but did not estimate pluralities.

BOTH ADMIT GERMAN GAIN

made a powerful advance against the front of Gen. von Belowsarm. Troops from different parts of Germany under the command of Gens. Baron Marschal von Deimlingen and von Garnier withstood the attack unshaken and inflicted a severe defeat on the enemy. The allied enemy on the entire front from Le Sarsto Bouchavemes, a distance of 20 kilometers along which they attacked suffered heavy losses and accomplished nothing except a small local gain in the northern part of St. Pierre-Vaast wood. Wherever the enemy at other places pushed his way into our line he was immediately ejected and left ten officers, 310 men and booty in our hands. Northeast of Le Sars more than 70 prisoners and eleven machine guns were brought in.

"Near Soissons an attack by a weak French detachment was repulsed."

In Rumania, southwest of Predeal, the invading Austro-German forces yesterday captured Laomu height, it is announced officially. Further progress was made southeast of Rothenthurm pass. Rumanian attacks in the region of the Szurduk pass were repulsed.

BATTLE STILL IN PROGRESS.

Petrograd, Nov. 6.—German forces yesterday several times assumed the offensive on the Russian western front in the region east of the village of Lipitza-Dolnaj and west of the village of Silaventin, with the object of capturing the commanding heights occupied by the Russians. All the German attacks, according to an officials statement by the Russian war department, were frustrated by a violent Russian artillery and infantry fire. The battle is still going on.

Great Fraternal President.

Jesse Macbeth, grand master of the I. O. O. F. in Indiana, gave out the following interview Monday: "I have been so busy attending lodge meetings in every county of the state that I have had no time to attend political meetings. The diplomacy of the sword is being tried out on the European field of battle—tomorrow the American people will stand by Woodrow Wilson and the diplomacy of peace. He is our great fraternal president. Mistakes he has made, no doubt. What man who ever tried to do anything did not make mistakes?

"Woodrow Wilson's loyalty and wisdom will meet all present conditions the war will bring to our country. The tariff will be adjusted satisfactory to business and all concerned.

"If Mr. Hughes had pursued arguments, as have Mr. Taft and Mr. Root, instead of being influenced too much by Mr. Roosevelt, he would have had a better chance. A campaign of criticism has not impressed the American people, who owe a debt of gratitude to our good president and are satisfied to leave well enough alone.

The sheriff's office will be kept open this evening until 10 o'clock to qualify the election sheriffs.

Most of the shops will close at noon Tuesday in order to give the employes an opportunity to vote. Party leaders are urging all who can to vote in the morning in order to avoid congestion at the various voting places during the afternoon hours.

What Chairmen Claim.

Republican Chairman Willcox predicted Hughes would receive at least 100 majority in the electoral college while Democratic Chairman McCormick gave Mr. Wilson 364 votes in that body. The necessary elective vote in the college is 266.

The larger participation of women voters in the presidential and congressional elections is of keen interest to politicians generally. The returns from the states in which women will vote it is admitted, will be closely and anxiously scanned. So far as congress is concerned an entirely new house and 33 members of the senate will be elected.

Fair weather and moderate temperature is forecast generally for election day and if this prediction holds true virtually a full vote it is expected will be cast throughout the country.

MUSICIAN JAILED FOR CELLO THEFT

He Said Taking of Instrument Was Like Borrowing Umbrella.

Probably George Jewett, 38, the musician who was brought here from Chicago to play in a local orchestra, had read in his musical course that two of the world's masterful symphonies were wrought by genius which picked on stolen instruments.

Or maybe it was one of his artistic moods which caused him to step into the studio of Miss Kay M. Spencer, at 250 West Wayne street, at 6 o'clock, when nobody was there, last Wednesday evening, and remove a 'cello.

Jewett ran his fingers through his long hair in temperamental disgust in police court, Monday morning, where he was charged with petit larceny because the 'cello, which the teacher missed, was found in his room.

The three-stringed 'cello, which was leaned against the fireless stove near the witness stand, was referred to by Jewett as a "beastly thing" which had cost him his job and which made him wish he had never left the Bohemian center of Chicago where harmonic eccentricities are understood. His arrest was "abominable," he told Judge Kerr, and the whole affair "a frightful outrage," he explained to Detective Sergeant Brennan, who insisted on taking Jewett's picture for Bertillon reference. He expected to notify Miss Spencer some time later that he had borrowed the instrument to practice on, he said.

"It was just like your taking an umbrella," Jewett explained to Judge Kerr. "The instrument is not worth a nickel."

But Detective Sergeant Pappert, who arrested Jewett on Saturday, said the 'cello was worth $25. Jewett was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to fifteen days in jail.

There is a banjo in the county jail and Jewett may be able to catch the spirit of the saturnalian gathering in the tambo and work out several scores of a new and wonderful symphony on the clattering strings of the snare-headed banjo.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

Acts 2:21-32.

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

Let the Case Go to the Jury.

The title of the case: Charles Evans Hughes against Woodrow Wilson.

The question to be decided: Has Woodrow Wilson's record as president of the United States since March 4, 1913, entitled him to re-election on November 7, 1916, for four years beginning March 4, 1917?

WOODROW WILSON

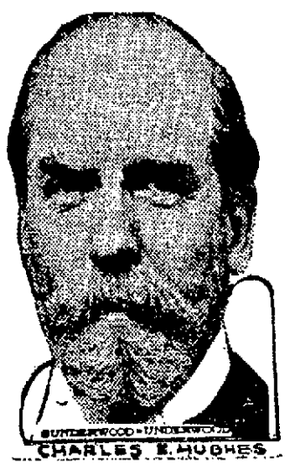
The jury: Sixteen million American voters of whom YOU are one.

For four months the case has been on trial. All of the testimony and evidence have been submitted; the arguments have been made; the case is now in the hands of the jury. The verdict, YOUR verdict, must be deposited in the ballot box tomorrow.

We feel that it would be presumptuous for us or for anyone else to argue the case further. The time for argument has passed; the time for calm, cool, dispassionate weighing of the evidence has arrived. The plaintiff in every law suit, criminal or civil, must establish his case by a preponderance of the evidence. We think it is fair that this rule should apply in this case.

The question then for you as a juror to decide in the case of Charles Evans Hughes against Woodrow Wilson is: HAS THE PLAINTIFF BY A PREPONDERANCE OF THE EVIDENCE CONVINCED ME THAT WOODROW WILSON HAS NOT MADE GOOD AS PRESIDENT AND THAT THE PLAINTIFF, CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, WILL BE A BETTER PRESIDENT DURING THE FOUR YEARS, BEGINNING MARCH 4, 1917, THAN WILL WOODROW WILSON?

Obviously, as an honest juror, you must consider the case as a whole and not base your verdict upon any one or a few parts of the case. What then is the Hughes case as a whole and what is the Wilson case as a whole? With your permission, we shall state the two sides of the case as briefly as possible and as fairly as we can.



BUTTERWOOD-UNDERWOOD
CHARLES E. HUGHES

THE HUGHES CASE:—Woodrow Wilson, as president, has kept the United States out of the European war, but, in doing so, he has sacrificed the nation's honor and reduced its prestige among the civilized nations. Hughes' chief witness in support of this charge is Theodore Roosevelt. Roosevelt testifies that President Wilson sacrificed the nation's honor when he failed to interfere to save Belgium from German invasion. He testifies further, that President Wilson again sacrificed the nation's honor when he declared the United States neutral as between the European belligerents and asked every citizen of the nation to be neutral in act and thought. Roosevelt also testifies that President Wilson again sacrificed the nation's honor when he failed to commit an act of war against Germany after the Lusitania, instead of making that tragedy the subject of diplomatic negotiation, which finally resulted in an agreement by Germany to conduct submarine war according to the law of nations and of humanity.

In sum, the Hughes case against President Wilson, as it relates to the European war, is that the PRICE which the president has paid for peace is more than peace is worth; that WAR would have been preferable and is still preferable.

As to Mexico, the Hughes case is, that President Wilson's policy has been cowardly and vacillating; that he has not protected American property and American lives in Mexico. Hughes says that had he been president since March 4, 1913, he would have protected American property and American lives in Mexico, and, that if he is president during the next four years, he will protect them. Hughes does not specify how he would do this but the only inference that can fairly be drawn from what he does say, is that he will make war on Mexico. Theodore Roosevelt, Hughes' chief witness, as to Mexico testifies that if he had been president during the past four years he would have made war on Mexico.

In respect of President Wilson's domestic policies, Hughes summed up the case for himself in a speech at Milwaukee, when he said:

"The whole democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

Included in the "whole democratic accomplishment" are the following laws enacted by congress since March 4, 1913:

The Underwood tariff law; the income tax law; the law creating a tariff commission to adjust the tariff scientifically; the federal reserve bank law; the law creating a federal trade commission; the farm loan law; the child labor law; the federal shipping law; the eight-hour law for railway employes.

In the case for Hughes, it nowhere appears in the evidence, either in his own statements or those of his witnesses, what, if any, laws he will substitute for these after he has wiped them off, except in the case of the tariff. He says that he will use the full power of his office to force congress to pass a high protective tariff law to prevent a panic "after the war."

THE WILSON CASE:—American neutrality as betwen belligerent European nations has been a fundamental policy since the days of George Washington. The first president enunciated the policy:

"Friendship for all; entangling alliances with none"

and no American president has ever deviated from it. Whatever our feelings as a nation or individually may have been when Germany invaded Belgium, it was not up to us to interfere; a mere protest would have been futile and intervention by force, which would have meant taking part in the European war, was unthinkable. The torpedoing of the Lusitania and other ships, causing the loss of American lives, was a violation of international law and the rights of America, but to have declared war on Germany because of it would not have undone what had been done. Nothing could have been accomplished by going to war with Germany that has not been accomplished by diplomacy as Germany has been forced to give her pledge that she will not again torpedo ships carrying Americans, without giving proper notice, as required by the law of nations. The nation's honor has been as fully safeguarded by diplomacy as it could have been by war. At the same time, the lives of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands of American boys, have been preserved; the happiness and prosperity of the American people have been maintained and billions of dollars that would have been wasted in war have been saved.

As to Mexico, the president admits that it has been a perplexing business and that he has no doubt made mistakes, but not in purpose or object. Fundamentally, his policy has been to give the Mexicans the same chances to work out their problems that this country had at the time of the revolution. The president says that the only alternative to what he has done in respect to Mexico is to declare war against Mexico and subdue the country. He says that there is not now and never has been a popular demand in this country for war with Mexico; that the only demand for it comes from American capitalists who have invested money in Mexico on a gamble, knowing that it was a hazardous investment. The president says that he will not send hundreds of thousands of American boys into Mexico, and spend billions of dollars of American money in response to such a demand.

In the matter of domestic policies and accomplishments, President Wilson says that all of the laws enacted by congress since he has been president, which Hughes says he will "wipe out," are progressive laws enacted in the interest of the great mass of the American people; that their enactment proves that the democratic party, whatever it may or may not have been in the past, is under his leadership, the party of progress, and that the laws passed by the democratic congress, taken as a whole, make up the greatest program of constructive legislation in the interest of business, labor and the farmer, in the history of the nation.

He says that the threat by Hughes to "wipe out" these laws without stating specifically what he will substitute for them, stamps Hughes and the republican party, as at present constituted, as the party of destruction and reaction. In further proof of this charge the president submits as exhibits: Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts; Senator Reed Smoot of Utah; Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, and others, who he says will control legislation in the interest of Wall Street, if the jury returns a veriet FOR Hughes and AGAINST him. The president closes his case with the assertion that the country is enjoying the greatest era of prosperity in the history of the world and that while some of this is undoubtedly due to the European war, it is due in large measure to the laws which have been passed during his administration.

This is the Wilson case.

And now, gentlemen of the jury, you have heard all of the testimony and the arguments.

WHAT IS YOUR VERDICT?

The Sentinel is glad to commend to its readers the Allen county democratic ticket as composed of men of high calibre, the fair and free choice of the voters in the primary last spring, pledged to capable and economical county government, and with the ability and the purpose to redeem every pledge made to the people.

Besides assisting in the election of a president tomorrow, Fort Wayne voters have an opportunity to do another big thing on their own account. That is to make certain that this city shall have a municipal convention hall. You will find the resolution at the very top of the voting machine. Be sure to vote FOR it.

The United States district attorney at Chicago believes he has unearthed evidence of collusion in price-fixing on foodstuffs and proposes to have the federal grand jury see about it. And busting the food trust would make a corking argument for him if he desires to run for something in the next campaign.

The outpouring in honor of Vice President Marshall Saturday evening was a splendid testimonial of the fact that the old home folks are still with "Tom" Marshall. You can make your friendship still more emphatic by voting for President Wilson and his running mate on Tuesday.

Northeastern Indiana voters should not fail to give State Treasurer George A. Bittler and the balance of the democratic state candidates a record vote at the polls tomorrow. Their election will mean a continuance of progressive and efficient state government.

There can at least be no reasonable doubt as to the contents of the suitcases carried on the trains which the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will establish solely as liquor-carriers between Charleston and Ashland. An alibi will be extremely difficult if not wholly impossible.

Kern and Taggart are needed in the senate to uphold the president, and Mr. Cline is needed in the lower house for the same purpose. With an adverse congress, Wilson's hands would be tied. Do your part in giving him continued full power.

Mr. Prendergast, at the Hughes meeting in New York Saturday night, introduced Mr. Roosevelt as "the next secretary of state," which amounts to official confirmation of the Hughes program.

Wilson chooses the peaceful pathways of diplomacy rather than the blood-red highways of war for the adjustment of international differences. If that course meets your approval, vote for him tomorrow.

Indiana is out of debt—the sinking fund IS NO LONGER NEEDED.

Now, do you grasp EXACTLY what that means—all you people of Indiana—for it is one of the big, vital outstanding facts of this political campaign? It's the strong, unbreakable plank on which the present democratic state officials come to you to ask re-election at your hands—for had not their administration been good, prudent, efficient and economical—

Indiana would not be out of debt.

There is, however, one particular official whom the important fact that our great state stands forth free and radiant from financial burdens recommends to the voters of Indiana in particular. And that man is—

George A. Bittler, present incumbent of the office of treasurer of state.

Mr. Bittler comes before the state to ask your approval of what he has done to lighten the burden of taxation, for he has saved the taxpayers of Indiana in interest on two items alone a total of $243,969.40, as follows: Indiana university bonds, compounded, at 5 per cent interest, $242,366.11; Vincennes university bonds issue, $1,603.29.

He has PAID ALL FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC obligations amounting to more than $3,000,000.00.

Two years ago it was predicted that George A. Bittler "would make a fine state treasurer, and that he would run a finely managed office, because, being of an inquiring turn of mind, he would not rest until he had spied out all the best run state treasurers' offices and had adopted the best suggestions that the other states had to offer him."

And that is exactly what has happened. Bittler has made a record in the office of which the democrats of the state have every right to be proud.

He's the kind of man who goes right ahead paying state debts and doing other tremendous things that most everybody else would think impossible. But Bittler does not know that some things are impossible, so he goes right ahead and does them.

Keen, energetic, with capacity above the average, he has worked tirelessly and efficiently in the conduct of his office, and his record is one of the high spots of the administration. Turn on the searchlight—the office of the state treasurer is ready for the most searching investigation.

Mr. Bittler comes from Fort Wayne where he held responsible positions in business until he entered the services of the state. Like most of our other politicians he moved up to the king row from the teacher's desk in that famous little red schoolhouse that has started so many of our public men on the road to fame.

Then one day he was discovered giving a good account of himself in the employ of a big trust company in Fort Wayne.

Next he filled an important position with the public accounting office, in the employ of the state. It is to be noted that with each change of position Mr. Bittler went up on and up, a big promotion coming to him each time as a recognition of his ability and faithful performance of duty.

And then the people of Indiana sent him to the state house to look after their finances—and how well he has filled the trust his public record itself tells in big, illuminated letters that all may read.

Personally George A. Bittler is a clean, honorable, trustworthy young man who has gone straight and worked hard for what he got. He looks at the world fearlessly and is not afraid to say no.

His personality is winning and affable and the people of Indiana have found him a courteous official to do business with, as well as a keenly competent one.

His re-election is an endorsement of his public work which he has fairly earned.

(From Life.)

"Good morning, Life."

"Good morning, Charles. Being a one hundred per cent candidate, I presume you prefer that familiarity?"

"Oh, quite so."

"I am glad you called. I wanted to ask you some questions."

"And I wanted to solicit your suffrage."

"What?"

"I want you to vote for me."

"Well, what do you stand for this year?"

"I stand for straight Americanism, for legislation without coercion, for national honor, for order in Mexico, for efficiency in government, for America first and America efficient, for trained men in the cabinet, for—"

"Yes, yes; that means a lot. So do I, Charles; but let us be specific. Do you think we should have protested when Belgium was violated?"

"I am not allowed to refer to that, Life. You must see my manager."

"Which one—Col. Roosevelt or Dr. Hexamer?"

"Will you repeal the eight-hour bill if you are elected?"

"That, again, I am forbidden to reveal."

"Well, will you intervene in Mexico?"

"I am very sorry, Life, I cannot let you know that, either."

"At least tell me whether you privately favor universal military service or the federalization of the militia."

"No; I cannot tell that. You embarrass me. If I commit myself on any of those questions I may alienate some votes. But now I give satisfaction to everyone. The colonel has endorsed me, and so has Mr. Root—a combination of progress and reaction that cannot be duplicated. Mr. Bacon and Jeremiah O'Leary both agree I am a suitable candidate—thus joining patriots and the Truth society. I stand for protection and prosperity, for high wages and fair prices, for—"

"For bumper crops, Charles, and money in the bank; and you are opposed to infantile paralysis and Wilson; is that right?"

"That's right, Life. And now you will vote for me?"

"I don't believe so, Charles. You're too mysterious. You're almost uncanny. The testimony of the experts who have seen you near to is so conflicting that, for all I can find out, you might be a Chinaman. If there was a Chinese vote I doubt if you would deny Mongolian ancestry. Goodday, Charles."

"LABOR CAN'T BE FOOLED"

"Republican's Final Effort to "Deliver" the Labor Vote Exposed"

There appears in the leading newspapers of the United States today a page advertisement containing alleged labor testimonials in support of Candidate Hughes and censuring President Wilson.

This is the last desperate effort of the Republican National Committee to hoodwick the public to believing that even one reputable labor man of prominence is supporting their candidate. A few days ago they were gleefully quoting a six-year-old statement made by John M. O'Hanlon, editor of the official organ of the New York State Federation of Labor. Even after Mr. O'Hanlon had issued a public statement calling attention to the fact that for months he had been supporting President Wilson.

This time the republicans are leaning upon Frank Feeney, named by Martin M. Mulhall in the famous Tobby scandal at Washington as his "closest friend and adviser," while Mulhall was the strike-breaker of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Feeney is notoriously known as the labor agent and political henchman of the Penrose-McNichol machine in Philadelphia. Mulhall swort that he had Feeney on his payroll and that he had documents to prove it. Two weeks ago the Democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania publicly charged that Senator Boies Penrose had been put in charge of $400,000 to attempt to influence the Labor Unions of the country. That Penrose had objected to "doing the dirty work" with so small a slush fund. That charge has not been denied.

Nearly a week ago the Democratic National Committee exposed Frank Feeney's employment by Penrose in this campaign to circulate fake labor endorsements of Mr. Hughes. The alleged resolutions appearing in today's page advertisement of the republicans are the work of Feeney and his agents. The Chicago Building Trades council did NOT adopt the pro-Hughes resolution quoted in the republican advertisement, and the republicans know it. The false report that such a resolution had been adopted was promptly denounced by Simon O'Donnell, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council, and by Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The alleged pro-Hughes resolution, offered at a meeting in the Philadelphia Building Trades Council, was defeated. Leonard Kraft, Feeney's closest friend, then drew enough proxies from his pocket to jam it through. A week later, November 3rd, the council officially denounced the act as a conspiracy and repudiated the alleged pro-Hughes resolution. Feeney tried to get similar resolutions adopted in Cincinnati and other cities—and FAILED. When the attention of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was called to the Republican's page advertisement last night, he issued the following statement:

To the Workingmen of The United States, Greeting

"As predicted by me a few days ago, there is some scheme to spring a canard upon you when it will be too late to disapprove and radicate the falsehoods and fictitious allegations or declarations.

"The information comes to me that a pretended labor leader has secured some fake declarations of a few supposedly labor organizations attacking the character and the policy of the labor representation committee of the American Federation of Labor, and that they are to be published as advertisements in the newspapers of the country today (Monday.)

"The American Federation of Labor has without a dissenting voice or vote proclaimed the political policy to stand by the friends of labor and justice and to defeat its enemies.

In the campaign Woodrow Wilson stands for all that is true to Labor, Justice, Patriotism, Freedom and Humanity.

"The friends of labor will fail in their purpose to deceive."

Mrs. Frederick Newton Freeman, who is visiting relatives in the city, met a few family and neighborhood friends of Mrs. A. E. Hoffman and Mrs. Nellie Mellick this afternoon at a very small company and in an entirely informal manner at their home in West Wayne street.

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, of Wildwood avenue, on Sunday evening, was given in honor of his birthday anniversary. Yellow chrysanthemums and plumosus made a very pretty decoration for the table and diningroom. There were a dozen friends at the table. During the evening Mr. Schmidt was presented with an innocent looking box which had the appearance of being a gift and he proceeded with considerable interest and animation to unwrap it. At least he tried to do so. Mischievous friends, hinting at a possible lack of activity, had so tied up and retied and repacked the box that Mr. Schmidt had one long struggle with his fingers to get at its contents. But he did and the gift was handsome enough to repay him for the good-natured laughter and gibes of his friends.

Mrs. Henry Ranke gave an informal but quite lovely kaffee klatsch at her home in Beaver avenue, on Friday afternoon. The ladies took their sewing and visited and greatly enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess.

A dinner party this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sinclair, of West DeWald street, is in honor of the fifty-sixth anniversary of their marriage. Aside from the family relatives there will be present members of two families, the Crosby and Birbeck families, both of whom have lived in their present homes forty-five years, with Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair as neighbors for a like period of time. Covers for the dinner are to be laid to the number of twenty-six.

Curls for Girls

Girls! Try this! Before curling or waving your hair with pins, papers or a heated iron, just moisten each strand with atalpa water and you will be delighted how natural the curls and waves appear and how long they last in spite of wind, dampness or perspiration. A few ounces of atalpa water will cost very little at any drug store and there is nothing better to help retain the curls and waves or to soften, gloss or fluff the hair and to make it look thick and abundant.—Advertisement.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Rose Stahl in "Our Mrs. McChesney," Tuesday Evening.

The theatre patrons here are indeed fortunate in having the opportunity to see Rose Stahl in "Our Mrs. McChesney." She is scheduled for the Majestic tomorrow evening.

Miss Stahl this season is under the Charles Frohman management, which means that the production will be a splendid one and that the cast will be composed of capable people.

"Our Mrs. McChesney" is a dramatization of Edna Ferber's Emma McChesney stories which have been widely read and enjoyed. Miss Ferber makes the characters of her stories true to life and none of them is more interesting that Mrs. McChesney. Miss Stahl has brought Mrs. McChesney to life and will introduce her over the footlights.

The play is punctuated with laughs throughout. The keen wit of Emma McChesney and the methods she employs to keep the Featherbloom Petticoat out of bankruptcy together with the manner in which she makes a man of her son all combine to form an interesting play.

"Little Peggy O'Moore" Thursday Afternoon and Evening.

Fort Wayne is one of the cities which will have the pleasure of seeing "Little Peggy O'Moore" this season. This offering is described as a brilliant play of joy and youth and the advance reports which have been received praise the cast very highly.

As the character of Peggy requires a particular type of girl only two "Little Peggy O'Moore" companies have been sent out. This city is fortunate in seeing Peggy while the play is yet a big hit in the large cities. It will no doubt prove the artistic treat of the present season.

Appreciating the Dancing of Maud Allan, Who Comes Saturday.

To understand the values of the symphonic dancing of Maud Allan, who will appear here on Saturday night, at the Majestic, it is necessary that the public be taught to distinguish between the nude and the naked. A lack of such discernment is responsible for a lot of harm. It shows gross ignorance of the thought animating art and artists and the forces to which they are giving expression.

"The Vision of Salome," the dance that made Maud Allan famous in every country of the world, will be included in her program for Fort Wayne.

AT THE PALACE

ELECTION RETURNS.

New Palace Will Receive Frequent Bulletins Tuesday Evening.

The New Palace will receive frequent bulletins Tuesday evening and these will be read to the audience to give them an intimation of how the election is decided.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Eva Fay will have the women of the city at the New Palace at a special matinee for women only, when they may ask this famous mystic the most personal questions and she will answer them. Mrs. Fay is one of the wonders of vaudeville, possessing a certain power that never has been properly classified. It is the power to read questions people have written on pieces of paper and retained in their own possession and then answer the questions, telling where lost relatives are, what has become of misplaced articles ,etc. The act is beautifully staged and Mrs. Fay seated on a great throne erected in the middle of the stage presents a lovely picture.

Among the othe rfavorites at the New Palace are Bobbe and Nelson, the oddly assorted team of singing and talking funsters; the Emmett wonder dogs in a series of clever tricks; the Gorman brothers, song writers, who are singing their own compositions; Bruce Duffett and company, in the comedy sketch "A Corner in Wireless," a bit of playlet with a novelty idea in it, and Walker and Walker, a pair of ventriloquists, a man and woman with two funny dummies.

AT THE GRAND.

First Episode of "The Scarlet Runner" is Shown Today.

All lovers of Earl Williams will be pleased to know that the little Grand will feature this popular screen star every Monday and Tuesday in a two reel episode of "The Scarlet Runner."

The stories take their series title from a very high-powered and speedy motor car. The opening scene discloses the fact that a popular young Englishman has exhausted the patience of his wealthy uncle with his reckless manner of living. The uncle threatens to cut off his allowance and also to leave the rich estate to charity. This is a bot of a shock to Christopher Race, so he proposes that his uncle stop the allowance, but grant him one year in which to make good. The uncle agrees and names the condition that Christopher show an earning power of one hundred guineas.

The young man sells most of his effects and with the proceeds purchases a motor called "the Scarlet Runner." He proposes to rent his car and his services to special parties to tour in any part of the world, but before long he is forced to take out a regular license to carry public fares. His first customer is a certain king visiting London incognito. One of the king's servants is intriguing to prevent the marriage of another representative of the government. Christopher saves the life of the young man and also exposes the villainy of the minister to the king.

AT THE TEMPLE.

"The Belle of Richmond" Will Please Patrons This Week.

"The Belle of Richmond," a delightful play of southern life, is the offering at the Temple this week, and it promises to thoroughly delight patrons of that popular playhouse.

"The Belle of Richmond" has a striking plot wherin a clever crook flings suspicion upon a young man, and threatens to break up the old ties which bind two southern families in the closest friendship. The test brings out the old-time loyalty of "The Belle of Richmond," who is Miss Nellie Mason. She stands by the accused, who is in danger of conviction for stealing a large sum from the bank in which he is employed, and prevents an injustice being done. In the end the guilty man is found and the story ends happily. All the scenes are laid in southern Virginia shortly after the civil war. A colored servant, Mose, is a comedy all by himself. Miss Ann Bert makes a charming "Belle of Richmond" and Mr. Jack Doty, as Gerald Gordon, a prominent young attorney in love with Miss Nellie Mason, has a very pleasing and forceful part. Following the performance tonight there will be a reception and dance on the Temple stage to which all are invited. Popular prices will prevail at all times. Matinees will be as usual on Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays. Next week the great military drama, "Arizona," will be at the Temple.

MERELY ONE MORE UNEXPECTED DUTY

Washington, Nov. 6.—Of the many unexpected duties the United States has found thrust upon it by the world war, one of the strangest is that of rescuing adventurous boys who enlist in the European armies.

There have been more than a thousand such cases since the war began, and even now letters praying for the release of young soldiers of fortune pour into the state department at the rate of fifty a day. It has been necessary to assign an official to give special attention to the subject.

The story almost always is the same. The youngster, generally between sixteen and twenty, suddenly disappears and is next heard from when he writes home from Canada or England that he has had enough of war and wants to come home.

Then follows an almost tornado-like correspondence in which officials, parents, congressmen and persons who think they can hurry the processes of diplomacy by their influence, become sympathetic, tearful, importunate or mandatory. The red tape of governmental business, however, unwinds slowly and finally the consul general in London or Ottawa, or somewhere else or perhaps the American embassy, makes representations to the foreign government and the adventurer is released and sent home.

Until recently the British government has been promptly releasing all Americans under 21 on the request of the United States government on the ground that it is illegal for such a person to enlist in a foreign army without parents' consent. Recently the British government has shown a disposition to reduce the age limit to eighteen when minors become of age in a military sense.

The sheriff's office will be kept open this evening until 10 o'clock to qualify the election sheriffs.

WILL DENY LICENSE TO SEERS.

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.—Residents of Indianapolis in the future may have to exist without having their "fortunes told" if City Comptroller Sullivan enforces a new rule he has made. Mr. Sullivan recently has been refusing to issue licenses to the "fortune tellers," although there is an ordinance saying the license fee for such work shall be $1. The comptroller, who is a lawyer, says the city ordinance is invalid because of the nature of the business licensed. A number of old licenses have some time to run, but when they expire no new ones will be issued, Mr. Sullivan says.

MARSHALL IS GIVEN WONDERFUL OVATION

Asserting that the way for Woodrow Wilson to have assured his re-election would have been to have plunged the American nation into war and that the president was today getting the same kind of disloyal treatment which people of the north gave Abraham Lincoln, Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, Saturday night, addressed two large audiences at the Palace theater and on the court house square.

Judge Carl Yaple, of the superior court; Congressman Cyrus Cline and Fred L. Feick presided at the court house meeting and Peter O'Hara and Harry H. Hilgemann at the theater meeting. Parade of automobile and horseback riders, one of the largest ever held in Fort Wayne, to which Columbia City contributed a prominent party, preceded the addresses of the evening. The vice president closed the campaign in Fort Wayne.

Two Parties, He Says.

"There are two parties in this country—the democratic party and the aristocratic party," declared the speaker. "America taught the world equality and we are all brothers, not half-brothers or step-brothers, but full brothers before God. It is the business of a republic to have a peaceable and not a forceful revolution and you are uncertain of your heritage unless you have justice on American life.

"I am for the eight-hour law. Any employer can get more in eight hours with happy and contented men than he can get in ten hours with sullen and uncontented men. I have been for the eight-hour law ever since it was made a standard in the state of Indiana and I am for it now. The law was not passed by force. The president sent for the men, they did not go to the president.

Get Back of President.

"It should be your duty to get back of your president and when you do you get back of a policy that stands for peace with honor with all the nations of the earth. He should be surrounded by a democratic congress. As to Mexico, there is more to Mexico than just Mexico, but we are concerned there with the Central and South American republics and we will either have to throw off the Monroe doctrine or get a navy of 2,000,000 men to defend the Monroe doctrine," closed the vice president.

Congressman Cline, the vice president, State Senator Kent E. Keller, of Illinois; Judge John H. Aiken and Judge R. K. Erwin spoke at meetings held in the court house. At the out-door meeting they spoke on a platform erected on the southeast corner of the court house.

"The democratic party," said Mr. Cline, "has written into law practically everything for which the sincere progressive stood four years ago." He referred to the child labor law and the election of United States senators by direct vote. The currency system was also discussed.

The vice president and Mrs. Marshall were appreciative of their reception in Fort Wayne. The vice president asserted Woodrow Wilson would be returned to the white house for another four years by an easy margin.

BOARDING HOUSES ARE PUT ON BLINK

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—High cost of eggs, butter, meat, potatoes and other foods have driven a score of boarding houses in this city, including some of the largest and more exclusive, out of business within the last few days and announcement was made today that probably a dozen more will follow this week.

"It is impossible to continue in business even with an increase in the price of meal tickets," one proprietor said. "If we charged more there would be little or no profit and so we are going to close." Others made similar statements. But the boarders side of the case was stated thus: Pittsburg is prosperous, but cannot eat war contracts and announcements of big dividends. We have got to have food at prices we can afford.

All restaurants have increased the price of pie from 5 to 10 cents a cut.

BIOLOGISTS PUZZLED.

Washington, Nov. 6.—An unsolved mystery which is puzzling government biologists is the hiding place of the chimney swift during the five months they are absent from the United States during their winter migration. The flocks of these birds drift slowly south until on the northern coast of the Gulf of Mexico they become an innumerable host. Then they disappear and for five months their haunt is a mystery.

AID FIGHT ON CHOLERA.

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 6.—American physicians and missionaries in Korea are energetically co-operating with the Japanese authorities in stamping out cholera. An epidemic of the disease broke out at Chemulpo, but is abating. There are no fresh cases at Seoul. The Japanese thankfully accepted the aid of the Americans.

BIG FIGHT IS WON, DECLARES WILSON

President Wires Thanks, But Urges Continued Vigilance.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 6.—President Wilson last night wired his final word of the campaign to the men who have worked to bring about his re-election. The telegram, sent to every state and county chairman in the country, follows:

"I thank you heartily for the splendid work done by you and by all the workers in the cause of progressive principles at issue in this campaign.

"The fight is won, I fully believe; though I take this means of urging you to renewed exertions and vigilance to see that belated efforts to confuse the public judgment do not succeed.

"Our country is prosperous, secure and happy; and its prosperity is upon a sound basis. Steps to protect our commerce and industry in any emergency after the European war ends have been taken. The anti-dumping clause of the so-called war revenue act provides the executive with ample power to prevent the 'dumping upon us of Europe's surplus manufactures on our markets.' The tariff commission will shortly be appointed and at work to provide the facts which will determine what other legislation is necessary or desirable. I need not add that the federal reserve act is a guarantee against panics and that the federal trade commission will aid, as it already has helped, to preserve the stability of our domestic and foreign commerce.

"I am confident that the time has passed in America when votes can be bought, the ballot box defiled by corrupt practices, or the judgments of the American people determined or influenced in any way by the use of money. It is, however, our duty to take every precaution, less conscienceless agents of the sinister forces working in opposition to progressive principles and popular government resort in their desperation to industrial coercion or to the evil and insidious practices of a decade and more ago."

POLES HAIL PROMISE OF NATION'S REBIRTH

Warsaw, Nov. 5.—(Via London, Nov. 6.)—The manifesto of Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph again calling into existence the ancient kingdom of Poland, was read at noon today to the assembled Polish representatives in the royal palace by General von Beseler. Outside in the great square before the castle and in the spacious court yard of the venerable fourteenth century pile inhabitants of the old Polish capital gathered by the thousands to attend the ceremony of what is designated as the rebirth of the Polish nation—a concept, the importance and bearing on which are making their way into the minds of the people more or less rapidly after its long sleep of more than a century.

The ceremony was short and simple. Precisely at noon General von Beseler, wearing the decorations granted for the reduction of Antwerp and the Polish fortresses, mounted the dais in the gala ball room of the old Jagellonian castle and in the name of Germany's sovereign read the imperial manifesto. When he ceased the Polish count, Hutton-Czapkisk, read from a leather bound pamphlet to the Polish notables a translation of the manifesto in their own language. Then came cheers from the hitherto silent crowd.

President Brudzinski of the council, who is rector of the University of Warsaw, advanced before the dias and in the Polish tongue gave thanks for the imperial decree. He asserted the determination of the Poles would be found worthy of the liberties conferred and asked that as the first step toward the formation of the government a regent be appointed for the kingdom, since the time was not ripe for the nomination of the heriditary sovereign promised in the manifesto.

PROGRESSIVE TIDE TURNING TO WILSON

(By Harry B. Hunt.)

Boston, Nov. 6.—The tide of the progressive vote in New England, and to a great extent throughout the country, has turned toward the president. There is a very much larger element of progressives going to vote for Wilson than anyone had any idea of two months ago.

"The feeling among the progressives about their betrayal at Chicago in June is very strong, and I believe that the progressive vote will be one of the vital factors—as it should be—in the re-election of President Wilson, Nov. 7."

Such is the view of Matthew Hale, acting chairman of the progressive national committee. Hale, as staunch a progressive as ever, following the same ideals that made him a leader in the party organized four years ago for the advancement of social justice, but deprived of an opportunity to work for that cause through the progressive party, has turned his support to President Wilson. He is campaigning through New England, urging all progressives who are really interested in progress to vote for Wilson as the only candidate in any way meeting progressive specifications.

"The result in New England," says Hale, "depends on the labor vote. This is nominally republican. If President Wilson's attitude toward labor, the passage of the eight-hour, child labor and other labor laws, wins the workers for him, then it's all off with Hughes. Any decided switch in the labor vote will do the trick.

And there seems absolutely no doubt but that the progressive, the independent and the labor vote is turning his way.

"Wilson's strong position lies in his attitude toward labor and his work for peace.

"He has done more to establish the rights of labor than any other man ever in public life.

"He has kept the country at peace at a time when influences of every sort were pulling and pushing to get us into war. And yet our peace is not a pacifist's peace. It is a peace maintained with full honor. We have surrendered no rights. It is simply that we have refused to aggress on the rights of others.

"Most of the claim for the return of progressives to the republican fold is based on the course of Roosevelt, Perkins and their personal followers. But canvass the field over; you will find few or none of the small progressive leaders who are working for Hughes.

"Roosevelt is out touring the country shouting that we need a man of acts in the white house, not a man of words.

"I should say Wilson has shown himself to be a man of deeds; Roosevelt a man of words.

"Roosevelt is flaying Wilson on the ground that his deeds do not square up with his words.

"Match Roosevelt's acts of today with his words four years ago. The very men on whom he declared undying warfare four years ago—the old reactionary ring that has stood squarely across the path of progress in the republican party for years—are the men with whom he is working hand in glove today, trying to kick out of the white house the man who has actually achieved more forward legislation than any president we ever had.

"The rank and file of progressives are becoming more and more awake to this fact. And the more they awaken to it, the greater the tide of progressive followers to Wilson."

Women Win the Vote in Canada

Miss Rose Peers, first woman to be honored with membership in Vancouver Board of Trade.

Vancouver, B. C. Nov. 2.—Votes for women carried at the recent provincial election. The fair sex in British Columbia is jubilant over the victory.

The shortage of men, owing to the war, gave the cause of suffrage a decided boost. Now women are preparing to wage political campaigns against the sterner sex for various positions, once the sole right of men.

At the last meeting of the North Vancouver board of trade Miss Rose Peers was elected to membership. She is the first woman in Canada to be honored with such a distinction.

"Women have the same right and the same ability as men to deal with important questions," she declared. "Feminine opinion will prove valuable in many places throughout the province. It is well they have been given political recognition."

Her Son Subject to Croup.

"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

Why Rheumatism Comes With Cold Weather

By Valentine Mott Pierce, M. D.

A close connection exists between these two—cold weather and rheumatism. Prof. Alex Haig, of London, has the most followers in the medical profession in the belief that the presence in the system of uric acid, or its salts in excess, is the real cause of rheumatism. Every one has recognized the difference in the appearance of their water as soon as it gets cold: there is often a copious sediment of "brickdust."

Several causes may lead up to an accumulation of uric acid in the system, which, in turn, causes rheumatism or gout, or creaky joints, swollen fingers, or painful joints. For one reason the skin does not throw off the uric acid, by profuse sweating, as in the hot weather, and the kidneys are unable to take care of the double burden. Another reason is that people do not drink as much water in cold weather as in summer, which helps to flush the kidneys. Again, they eat more meat in cold weather, and some people are so susceptible that they soon develop rheumatism after eating meat.

At all such times persons should drink copiously of hot water, say, a pint morning and night, and take Anuric three or four times a day. This Anuric comes in tablet form and can be had at almost any drug store. It dissolves the uric acid in the system and carries it outward. I would advise everyone to take it occasionally, and continue for three or four weeks, and in that way avoid rheumatism, gout and many of the painful disorders due to uric acid in the system.

Make yourself healthy and strong by open-air exercise and diet. Then clean the liver by occasionally stimulating its action with a pleasant laxative composed of the May-Apple, dried juice of aloes, and root of jalap. Sugar-coated and long sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Advertisement.

RETURNS CALL OF VATICAN.

Tokio, Nov. 6.—Yagoro Miura, Japanese minister to Switzerland, has been instructed to proceed to the vatican at Rome to return the visit made to the Japanese court early this year by Archbishop Petrelli, special apostolic delegate, who conveyed to Emperor Yoshihito the coronation congratulations of Pope Benedict. Minister Miura will present to the pope an autograph letter from Emperor Yoshihito.

There is no indication here that Japan intends to inaugurate permanent diplomatic relations with the vatican.

"WHO'S LOONY NOW"

Mr. Wilcox had better file his dying political wail with some of the leading newspapers supporting Mr. Hughes, notably the New York Sun and the Chicago Tribune, from whose telegraphic reports of Mr. Hughes' Milwaukee speech this quotation was taken:

The Sun's account of the Milwaukee speech, printed on the first page in its issue of September 21, 1916, said:

"The first burst of applause when he (Hughes) said that the Lafollette shipping bill must be repealed, the next when he said that the Undewood tariff must be replaced by a protective tariff, and the third when he declared that the whole democratic legislative accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

"Why this eleventh hour buncombe about a statement which has appeared repeatedly in cartoons and advertisements of our publicity bureau, Sept. 21, without its authenticity being questioned? Even though it comes in this manner, I am glad to know that Mr. Hughes approves of the accomplishments of President Wilson and his administration. His speeches during the last four months have evidently led me to reach an erroneous conclusion."

The foregoing statement was sent to all New York morning newspapers last evening by Chairman Vance C. McCormick, of the Democratic National Committee in reply to a letter by Chairman William B. Willcox, of the Republican National Committee, denying that Candidate Hughes had said it at Milwaukee on September 20th.

"The whole Democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books."

The New York Tribune, Sun and Herald, supporting Candidate Hughes, published the Wilcox letter in full, but ignored the reply. These three papers are fond of boasting about "Ethics" and of calling themselves newspapers.

Frank Emrick Has Proven Efficient as Prosecutor

FRANK A. EMRICK.

Frank Emrick, prosecuting attorney of Allen county and democratic candidate for re-election to that office, has demonstrated during his brief term in office that he is capable, efficient, conscientious and absolutely fair in the conduct of his position.

The office of prosecuting attorney in Allen county is an important one. Each year it is called upon to represent the people in the investigation and prosecution of offenses of varied character, and to assist in upholding law and order and making for public safety.

Mr. Emrick, trained lawyer that he is, took hold of this work with a lofty conception of his duties. He is fearless in the prosecution of wrong-doers, yet is everywhere admitted to be entirely fair; and he enjoys the confidence of the public to the utmost degree. In the multiplicity of his duties Mr. Emrick finds time to make careful investigation, to weigh cases thoroughly and to fulfill his duty to the letter. On his official record Mr. Emrick deserves your vote at the election next Tuesday.—Advertisement.

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—Supt. Frank T. Schultz, of the city power plant, while working about the plant Saturday, ran into a large iron bar being used about the plant and was knocked unconscious. Supt. Schultz has been busy at the plant for the past three days working with the Corliss engine that went out of commission last Wednesday noon, when the key twisted and it had to be sent to Fort Wayne for repairs. Supt. Schultz was rushing about getting the large engine in repair for Saturday night when he bumped the large iron bar with his head. He fell to the floor and his arms and legs were stiff for several minutes. Later he relaxed and after being unconscious for three minutes rallied. After resting for an hour and a half he was able to continue the work.

BOXES ARE ON THE WAY.

Montpelier, Ind., Nov. 6.—The big street boxes, fourteen in number, to be used on the street corners for depositing mail in, when the free delivery is started on the first of December, have been shipped, and they will arrive here in a short time and be placed. The government is making all of its preparations for getting the service started on the date set, and will have everything ready by that time. When the free delivery is started, Montpelier will be on the same footing as other cities, even larger than this and the people should feel complimented in saying that our town has free mail delivery.

ENROLLMENT IS 200.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—The enrollment of the Auburn high school has reached the 200 mark, the largest enrollment in the history of the school. Miss Genivere Myers enrolled in the high school last week, thus making the number 200. The enrollment stands as follows: Girls, 107; boys, 93. This gives some idea of what the Auburn high school will be when the new building is completed.

CHURCH NEARING COMPLETION.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 6.—Work on the new Evangelical church building is proceeding rapidly and well. The brick masons will put the finishing touches on Tuesday. Fred Linn, the contractor, is following rapidly with the carpenter work, and the joists for the ceiling are being laid. In about a week or ten days it is believed that the roof will be placed. The church is fast assuming handsome proportions and already it can be seen that the building will be fully worthy of the expectations.

DIES AT STURGIS.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Mrs. John Gale, formerly a well known resident of Kendallville, died quite suddenly Friday evening at Sturgis, Mich. Upon receipt of the message Grant Gale, a son, residing on Diamond street, departed on the night train for Sturgis. Mr. and Mrs. Gale lived here for some years, making their home on Diamond street. About two years ago they moved to Sturgis. At one time the family lived at Wolf Lake and later at Kimmel. Mrs. Gale spent most of her life in Noble county and has a wide acquaintance.

DIVORCE CASE SETTLED.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The Hall divorce case, which has been on trial in circuit court for the past two and one-half days, was compromised Saturday when the attorneys on both sides agreed to allow Hazel E. Hall a divorce from the defendant, Austin A. Hall, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and giving her the custody of the two children, Johanna and Clifford, together with $10 per month, beginning May 1, 1917, for the support of the children.

TELEPHONE WIRES CUT.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—The cutting of three cables of the Home Telephone company, an act occurring on Hallowe'en night, has resulted in Pinkerton detectives being brought to Portland to work on the case and if possible to apprehend the guilty perpetrators. The investigation is being made in an apparently open manner, the detectives employed by the telephone company, officials of the company and city police officers working together.

WHY WALL STREET WOULD BEAT WILSON

New York, Nov. 6.—Last week one of the really big captains of Wall street made this statement, in confidence, so far as his name is concerned, in reply to a question as to why Wall street was so frantic for Hughes:

"Wall street never before put up as much money in a presidential campaign as it has put up this year to elect Hughes. Committees of bankers have put the pressure on every man in the financial district to get him to give. The reason given the public is a protective tariff, but that isn't the real reason.

"The real reason is the income tax.

"But that, of course, can't be used as a political argument with the public. Hence the calamity howl and the tariff advertising which is being paid for by Wall street money. Wall street doesn't like the income tax and is afraid Wilson will enforce its payment. I don't know what is expected from Hughes, but I do know that the street is for him—AND WALL STREET GENERALLY KNOWS WHAT IT WANTS."

Wall street knows that there will be agitation before the coming session of congress for publicity of income tax returns, and that there will be a demand that the millionaires pay the preparedness bill. The big fellows want the tax extended to take in all who have an income of $1000, and the munition makers would like to have the tax taken off of munitions.

This may explain why the Rockefellers, Morgans, Davisons, Guggenheims, Vanderbilts, Armours, Perkinses, Havemeyers, Stotesburys, Fields and other multi-millionaire families are contributing so liberally this year.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

"I'LL CALL YE ON MY LAST WHITE," SAID THE STRANGER AS HE THREW THE LAST CHIP HE HAD INTO THE "KITTY."

Chapter One.

A tired, disgusted traveler dragged his way along a narrow valley in the Montana rockies. He was one of the thousands who had rushed west in the early eighties with the first cries of "Gold" and returned empty-handed.

"Empty-handed!" the traveler shuddered. He looked about and saw stakes here and there, the only "proofs" of other prospectors' claims on the land.

What a fool he was! He could do as much and return home with a "mining claim."

Chapter Two.

Shortly afterward interest among the score of miners and loungers in a Helena saloon, centered at a round table where five men sat at a card game.

Tobacco smoke penetrated the large room and only the snapping of the cards and clinking of chips broke the tense of silence.

Four of the players, who knew one another well, were raking in chips from the fifth, a stranger.

"Well," sighed the stranger, "I'll call ye on m' last white," and he threw the only chip he had into the "kitty." The others showed their hands. It broke him.

But the stranger wanted to win enough to get back east.

"Over in the Blossburg district, right along the stream."

They laughed at him. "Not worth the water runnin' by," was their comment. But the stranger pleaded. He wanted a stake to continue in the game.

The deal was made. Cards were drawn. The stranger lost again.

"Swede Sam" was the object of ridicule in Helena.

"What'll ye do with the rocks when they sprout, Sam?" "Ye might git somethin' out o' the stake." Such were the cuts launched at him. Sam didn't mind. In fact, he felt the same way about the claim, too.

Chapter Three.

That was thirty years ago.

Today "Swede Sam" Wallin's claim is worth $100,000. A rich vein of ore runs through it.

And Sam did not have to dig to find it. A neighboring prospector struck the vein and followed it into Sam's claim.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.—Advertisement.

WARNS MEXICO TO GUARD NEUTRALITY

Note in Friendly Spirit and Not at Suggestion of Entente Powers.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The American government has informed the de facto government that precautions should be taken to prevent any violation of Mexico's neutrality by operation of belligerent submarines within its territorial waters or the establishment of a submarine base on the Mexican coast. The information was conveyed to a state department official today in a wholly friendly spirit and not at the suggestion of any of the entente powers.

It was said today the Mexican government is without sufficient means to insure portection of its neutrality and that it might be comparatively easy for a foreign power to establish a submarine base at some unsuspected point along that coast. Serious complications between Mexico, Great Britain or France might bring the United States into the controversy.

ELECTION DAY WILL BE WARM AND FAIR

If the prediction of the weather man, who states that Tuesday will be a fair day, comes true, it will be the second time in recent years in Fort Wayne that election day was a bright sunshiny day. The local weather map, however, shows a barometric disturbance which is carrying a storm with it in Manitoba, Canada, Monday. Chances are that it will move directly east, thereby missing Fort Wayne and vicinity. Yet it is possible that slight effects may be felt sometime during the day. Slight sprinkles may be the result. However, it would be a safe bet that twenty-four hours out of the next twenty-four will bring good weather.

A heavy dew fell Sunday night about 7 o'clock. Monday morning there was quite a heavy frost. The day itself was a warm one for this time of the year, the thermometer reaching the 71 degree mark.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNED TO JAIL

John Van Allen was drinking in the lingering autumn warmth on Calhoun street, Monday morning, when Robert Armstrong, turnkey at the county jail, laid a heavy hand on his shoulder. Van Allen had escaped from the yard of the jail two weeks before, while he was serving a sentence for petit larceny. He was supposed to be beating rugs when he suddenly ran away. He must serve forty-two days yet. "Gee, it is fine weather outside," Van Allen grumbled as he walked towards the prison.

William Toby, one of the men sentenced a week ago for stealing an adding machine from the Railroad Y. M. C. A. office, made his escape from the road gang, Saturday afternoon. He was doing street repair work on Harrison street when he made his get-away. He ran around the corner of a building and was on his way down the L. E. and W. tracks before it was known that he had left the gang. His companion, John Furey, made no effort to escape at the time.

HAD BEEN READER OF SENTINEL 70 YEARS

"Jacob Deitrick, whose death was noted by the Fort Wayne papers Saturday, was a reader of The Sentinel for over seventy years," said William Wurtle, the son-in-law of the deceased. "He would take no other paper and when from any cause The Sentinel failed to arrive, he lost no time in looking it up," continued Mr. Wurtle. "In the biographical sketches of Mr. Deitrick in the city papers, it was stated that he was 92 years old, which was an error. Daddy Deitrick was born in 1820 and was upwards of 96 years old when he died. In company with a younger brother, he came here in 1836, when he was 16 years old, and took employment at construction work on the canal, which was then only partly finished. The two boys, one 14 and the other 16, walked from Toledo to Fort Wayne, nearly 100 miles, being three or four days on the road. They were stout, husky lads and immediately found work on the canal. With the exception of a few years in Adams county, during which he continued to read The Sentinel, Mr. Deitrick resided in Allen county ever since 1836," continued Mr. Wurtle.

MOTHER AND BABE HURT WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

Mrs. E. E. Cory, of Payne, and Babe Seriously Injured.

When the steering device on the Ford touring car owned and driven by E. E. Cory, of Payne, Ohio, broke Monday morning at a point on the Bluffton road, two and a half miles south of the city the car turned over in the ditch and his wife and thirteen-months-old baby were seriously injured. Telephone linemen who witnessed the accident ran to the assistance of the injured and took them to Hope hospital in their truck, where they were attended by Dr. E. H. Kruse.

At the hospital it was found that Mrs. Cory is suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries and the baby had suffered a fractured skull. The attending physician believes that both will recover.

Mr. Cory who escaped without anything more than a few scratches, states the accident occurred so quickly that he does not know just how it happened. The steering device broke while he was going at a rate of possibly twenty miles an hour. The car headed straight for the ditch where it turned turtle. Mr. Cory was thrown clear of the car but his wife and babe were pinned beneath.

SUCCESSFUL NOMINEE SETTLES IT HIMSELF

Washington, Nov. 6.—The choice of the American people for president at tomorrow's election would, according to custom, take the oath of office March 4, 1917, but that day comes on Sunday and Washingtonians, vastly interested in an inauguration, are curious to know whether the ceremony will be held March 3 or March 5. One investigator learned today from the authorities in the congressional library that the two recorded precedents showed Rutherford B. Hayes was inaugurated March 3 and Zachary Taylor on March 5. Apparently it is a matter for the successful candidate to settle for himself.

Saving the Babies.

Dr. G. C. Cromer, founder of the All Prayer Foundling Home, of Louisville, Kentucky, has saved 89 per cent of the 206 baby waifs he has handled in the eleven years of his work. In the last two years he has cared for sixty babes and has not lost one. This is an unheard of record in this line of work. He will tell how he did it next Wednesday night at the First Methodist church, illustrating his lecture with stereopticon views. His work is peculiar in that he never exposes his needs or solicits gifts except of the Lord in prayer. His lecture at the Salem Reformed church last night was highly appreciated.

REPUBLICANS KNOW NOTHING ABOUT IT

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Alvin T. Hert, manager of western republican national headquarters, today issued a statement denying that republican leaders have any knowledge of the alleged attempt to colonize negroes brought from the south in certain northern states.

"The only negro voters from the south who have come into the north have been brought here by farmers and manufacturers to work, and there are only a few of the negroes who have made the migration," Mr. Hert said. "These few, if they have been in the north long enough to establish a residence, probably will vote, as they have a right to do."

FOUR AUTO THIEVES SENT TO STATE FARM

Young Men Asked For Leniency Because They Were Intoxicated.

William Anderson, Walter Hoffman, Gerald Fish and Albert Rukofski, four youths charged with stealing the automobile belonging to W. W. Anspach, from in front of the Jefferson theatre, last Wednesday night, were fined $20 and costs each and sentenced to sixty days at the state farm.

Each of the young men pleaded that intoxication was the cause for their taking the car and each one made an effort to pass the responsibility onto his companion. Their cases looked similar to Judge Kerr, who dealt the same penalty to all.

Max Diehl is held under $500 bond for trial, Thursday, on a charge of stealing an automobile. Diehl is charged with having taken the the machine belonging to Walter Wagner, from the curbing on Harrison street. The machine was out of order and stalled for Diehl, two squares away. Police were notified by a man to whom Diehl tried to sell the car, it is said. Diehl was arrested at once.

Drove Machine While Drunk.

Edward Moran was driving an automobile snake fashion, from one curbing to the other, late Saturday night when a patrolman halted the zig-zag advance. Moran said he would leave the car and walk home when the officer told him he was too drunk to be a chaffeur. But, Moran came back in a few minutes and tried to move the car on its way again.

He was arrested and in police court fined $50 and costs for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. His friend, John Humbricht, who just chanced to be along at the time, was fined $5 and costs.

Weaver Fined.

Louis Weaver was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 150 days at the state farm because he stole fixtures from the abandoned handle factory along the Lake Shore railroad. Weaver was taken in custody by Detective Sergent Junk, Saturday, when Weaver also had two automobile tires and a radiator in his possession, which had been removed from a barn belonging to David Schwartz. Weaver served a term in the penitentiary, three years ago, for larceny.

Boy Given Clothes.

Joseph Dean is 16 years old and small at that. He was arrested with George Andrews and Frank Smith, when Captain Baunk, of the Nickel Plate railroad, caught them trying to bum a ride. The boy came from Missouri and was on his way east, he said. His parents are dead.

E. Shuman, East Wayne street, who chanced to be in police court, told Prosecutor Hoffman that he would find a suit of clothes for the boy and would try and secure him work. Joseph says he will stay in Fort Wayne and go to work. The transformation wrought by the new clothes were very gratifying.

Frank Smith, who was arrested with the lad was released and George Andrews, the other member of the party, was fined $5 and costs because he carried a revolver.

Trouble in Double House.

Misunderstanding between two families, who are trying to adjust themselves in a double house at 1326 Zollars avenue, caused Edward Woenker to be arrested on charge of striking Mrs. Mary Sargeant. Both families have children and the fact that one of the sons of Mrs. Sargeant fell from a piece of furniture belonging to Woenker, started the trouble. Woenker will be tried on Thursday.

Other Police Court Cases.

Purdue Alumni Are Boosters

Gold and black, the fighting colors of Purdue, will flutter and wave and intermingle in weird formations at the Purdue alumni banquet in the large dining room of the Elks hall Thursday evening, November 9. More than one hundred of the state school men will be present to join in song and glowing prophecy on the outcome of the Indiana-Purdue football game.

"Vellie much pep" will be injected into the meeting by Non Lam, E. E. '15, native of China, who will deliver a talk. Mr. Lam was a member of the Cosmopolitan club at Purdue. He is a member of the Alumni association at Schenectady, but will be in Fort Wayne on the night of the banquet.

Crystal gazing will be one of the favorite pastimes of the get together banquet. From their knowledge of the past, and especially the game between Purdue and Chicago Saturday, several of the men will look into their shining tumblers about the festal board and behold a glorious trampling of Indiana colors on Saturday, November 25.

The Purdue banquet will open at 6:30 p. m. Nearly all Purdue men have been asked to attend by special letters sent out by Messrs. Sunier and Nordstrum. The banquet fee is four bits.

Committee made up of X. J. Divens, A. W. Kettler and J. R. McKay have arranged for special interurban cars from Fort Wayne to Lafayette. The cars will leave Fort Wayne at 6:30 on the morning of the game and start the return trip from Lafayette at 7:30 that night.

Round trip tickets can be secured through the committee for $3.30. Reserved seats for the game are $1.50.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE FRIAR FOOTBALL GAME.

Tension ran high throughout the game Sunday and there never was a single minute passed but that something sensational was pulled off. Can you imagine how high tension would have run had the Pine Village crew made a touchdown and the boy lying flat holding the ball ready to be kicked? What's the use, it didn't happen, anyway.

Talking about generalship, you should have seen Dorias yesterday. Gus surely does use his head. There is absolutely nothing slow about his tackling, either. Ask several members of the Pine Village outfit if you want to know for sure.

Monday several Pine Villagers were nursing a sore stomach as the result of getting in the way of Chris Chambers' head on line plunges. The fans surely did hate to see him get hurt.

Feeney pulled a new one yesterday. After the ball was passed he would leave his position in the line and help form the interference.

The game was minus the usual rough stuff Sunday and fans liked it a great deal better. Handshaking was frequent, but on line plunges there seemed to be nothing like friendship.

The Elks' band helped to liven things up. "Come again," say the fans.

There was a weak spot in the line somewhere in the first half. The visitors hit the spot often for big gains. No one was pulled out, however, and in the last half there didn't seem to be such a thing as a weak spot in the Friars' line. "Cap" Byroade knows his business.

This left-handed passing stuff on the part of Sheridan puzzles a lot of players. However, the visitors did not get very far with their forward passes Sunday.

Thanks to Chris for a shutout. The fans went wild when he went through the line and intercepted a drop kick in the third quarter.

Whet up your pipes and keep your voices in trim for next Sunday's game. Evanston, who beat the Friars last year, will be here.

Whenever the fans want a big gain they call for Fliska or Chambers.

Every member of the Friar crew deserves credit, as all were on their toes Sunday playing every minute of the game. Captain Edwards delights to get in the mix-ups and he usually is in a large percentage of them.

Who was at the game Sunday with the big megaphone calling for cheers for the various players?. Guess. That's right. It was Jakie.

TRANSLATE BASEBALL INTO FRENCH TONGUE

College Faculty Interprets National Game for Canadian Colleges.

Baseball has been translated into the French in order to remove one of the obstacles to further popularity of the game among French speaking people. The faculty of Assumption college at Worcester, Mass., has drawn up a manual of play in that language. It presents baseball in terms scarcely recognizable to most of the followers of the nation's pastime.

In announcing the result of its work, the faculty of Assumption college stated that while the game was already popular among the students of the French speaking colleges in this country and Canada, it fell short of the interest and support of faculties of those institutions to which it was entitled, largely because of difficulties of the teachers in becoming familiar with the terms of the game. It was to bring the language of baseball within reach of strange ears that the manual was devised, the announcement said.

Those who drew up the manual were assisted by a member of the faculty who had seen baseball played behind the battle lines in France, and so made observations of the phrases used by French soldiers to describe players and position in the game.

START SEASON WITH TWO BIG VICTORIES.

The Columbia City team which plays the Escenda basketball team of this city on the latter's floor next Friday evening has started its season with two wins. It is rumored that they are after the semi-pro championship of northern Indiana this year, but the local team is endeavoring to stop the gait the team has been traveling. The Escendas will go through a strenuous signal practice Monday evening. The game Friday evening will be played at the hall at Washington and Webster streets.

ONLY ON HIS OWN TERMS.

Welsh Will Insist on Details if He Is to Meet Kilbane.

Toledo, O., Nov. 6.—Freddie Welsh will accept a boxing bout with Johnny Kilbane only on his own terms, according to a message received by local promoters from Welsh's manager. The communication was in response to an offer made by the club for a twelve round no decision bout between the two champions. The lightweight champions accepted the offer of $10,000, but his demand is that the weight shall be 135 pounds at 2 o'clock the afternoon of the bout. Kilbane is said to insist on articles of agreement calling for 133 pounds ringside, the legitimate lightweight limit.

FRIARS WIN FROM PINE VILLAGE AND ARE STATE CHAMPS

FRIARS ARE GRIDIRON CHAMPIONS OF STATE

If there were any Wabash scouts in the vast crowd at the Friar-Pine Village game yesterday they must have returned to their old home town with bad news. The way the locals performed against the Villagers is enough to give Wabash cold feet. There is no reason under the sun why the Friars cannot claim the championship of the state and the locals will probably wear the title for some days, unless Wabash—

The Friars went into the game yesterday knowing that they had the hardest contest of the year and determined to come out on the long end, and they did. A cleaner game has not been seen on the field this year and the fans were well pleased. The officials worked fast and no arguing slowed up the game. Then the score had a great deal to do with the interest. During the first half both teams went scoreless and seemed evenly matched. Dorias got away for a touchdown and then kicked the goal in the third quarter, but even this was not a big enough lead to feel safe about and as a result the spectators were on edge during the whole game. When the final whistle blew it left about six-fifths of the crowd wondering how the time had passed so quickly.

At all times during the game twenty-two men were working their hardest and to choose individuals who starred is next to impossible. Of course Gus Dorias, the little Friar quarter, played a game such as is seldom seen in independent circles, but he played with the team in such a way that his work did not stand out as much as it might have. Figuratively speaking, he is a whale at every department—running, tackling, interference and anything else that is necessary. In carrying the ball around end he seems to find holes that aren't there and he makes such good speed that a good distance is covered before opposing players wake up to where the ball is.

Two new men showed up yesterday in the persons of Daly and Hunter, the former an ineligible Purdue man and the latter a lean end who carries the goods, and for some good reason sees fit to cover his real identity. Al Feeney played the pivot position yesterday and did more real work than three centers generally do. He helped form the interference on the offensive and played his usual stellar game in the secondary defense when the visitors had the ball. In giving individual credit the whole team must be named one by one for every man delivered as if his life depended on it or as if he were playing in a college game. Fliska and Johnson played a game yesterday that couldn't be beat, and Chris Chambers worked till he dropped. Then Bull Young went in and worked just as hard. Smith went in for Fliska and showed up with a fifteen yard run that almost resulted in a second touchdown.

Ball, Daly, Edwards and Jones formed the center of the line and nothing could pass. Once or twice short gains were made on the line but only when the opposing line showed unusual class. There was nothing slow about the visitors' front wall, either, but the Friars were just a little bit better.

The man who stood out for the Villagers yesterday was the right half. He was the most dangerous man they had and while in this city he sported the monnicker "Dalbo." This was rather a big name, when it is remembered that according to all reports his name is just plain King and he is only an all-American halfback from Harvard. The whole team worked great and were dangerous at all times.

When the game was still young the Friars were penalized when they could hardly afford it. After the initial kickoff the ball changed hands often, neither team being able to gain an advantage. The visitors got the ball on the locals' twenty-five yard line as a result of the penalty. The locals held, however, and an attempted drop kick proved a miserable failure. The locals soon got out of the difficulty and were never very seriously pressed after that, although they were never very safe, either.

In th second quarter another attempt to kick was made by the Villagers and this was also a failure. Late in the period Dorias tried a kick which seemed to miss only by millimeters. In the second half, after a punt went out of bounds at the fifty yard line, the Friars started the march that resulted in a touchdown. Everybody figured in the attack, with Chambers and Dorias probably the most prominent. "Dory" finally put the ball over by ducking around end after sending the three backs charging through the line. He followed up by kicking the goal.

After this the locals were never menaced, and nearly put over a second touchdown. With only a few seconds to play Gus attempted a drop kick, which was blocked, four Villagers going in pursuit. Gus spilled this and the whistle blew for the end.

SALE OF RED SOX FIRST OF CHANGES

Other Teams Expected to Be Put on the Market is the Rumor.

New York, Nov. 6.—The sale of the Boston American league club, within a month after the team had won the world's championship, is thought by many close followers of baseball politics to mark the first of a number of changes and readjustments in major league circles. Former President J. J. Lannin made no secret of the fact that the Red Sox were for sale and if rumors and liner circle gossip can be accepted at face value, several other club owners are just as willing to dispose of their holdings but lack the frankness of Lannin.

The president of the Boston Americans placed a price of $750,000 upon the club early in the present year and, it is understood, was offered and refused $500,000. Under the circumstances the sale of the Red Sox, while the glamor of the world's series victory was still fresh, at $675,000 appears in the light of a compromise. Judging from past results and attendance figures at Boston the new owners made an excellent deal when the value of the club, franchise and park property is taken into consideration.

The Boston club entered the American league in 1901 and since that season has won the junior league pennant five times and the world's championship three times. In the sixteen years the Red Sox have finished fourth or better every season except in 1906-7-8 and 1911. The average position of the team for the full period works out as 3¼. Furthermore Boston has always been noted as a good baseball town, supporting its clubs with consistency whether winners or losers.

Harry Frazee, the new head of the club, while a young man, has always been a close follower of sports and is far from being a novice in the promoting line. In addition to his many theatrical ventures, he has backed several sporting events of more than ordinary prominence, including the heavyweight championship bout at Havana, Cuba, when Jess Willard wrested the title from Jack Johnson. As a result he does not enter big league baseball circles without preliminary training. Because of his close knowledge of the amusement trend of the American public, Frazee should give a valuable addition to the roster of baseball magnates.

WOLVERINES MEET CORNELL.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—Two games loom up ahead of Michigan football performers that will keep them fairly busy during the coming five days of preparation. One of the contests is the Cornell-Michigan and the other is the clash between the all-freshman crew and Heidelberg.

Both Coach Yost and Coach McGinnis of the yearlings, realize they have something to think about, and there will be some active work done on Ferry field, beginning with today's drill. Sparks is very much better and, although there is a good chance that he will not play the entire game next Saturday he will take an active part in practice this week along with the other cripple, Sharpe.

Coach McGinnis of the all-fresh is well pleased with the way his gridders performed at Evanston and cherishes fond hopes that they will be able to trim Heidelberg next Saturday. This will be the final game on the yearling schedule and the record of the Ohio school is evidence that it will probably be the hardest.

West Ends Win From Bluffton

Playing the preliminary to the Friar game yesterday, the Bluffton Maroons and the West Ends put up one of the best amateur games ever played on the field. The locals took the lead in the third period and held it the rest of the time, the game ending with a 14 to 6 marker.

This is the first time that a Fort Wayne team has been able to put over a win on the Maroons for many moons. The game was well played and full of thrills and made a big hit with the fans. Herring went over for the first count on a short buck and Bradley kicked the goal. Shortly after this Bauer of the Maroons grabbed off a pass and scored for Bluffton. Hilgeman came in for the feature work and made a long run for a touchdown after knocking off a pass by Herring.

The Maroons had a hundred rooters in the stands and they sure did pull for their favorites. Many local fans went early and pulled for the West Ends and all were satisfied with the contest.

The line-up and scoring was as follows:

WEST ENDS (14).		BLUFFTON (6).

Men in Mining School at University of California Given Much Practical Work Along With Bookish Portion of Education.

By C. A. CLAY.

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. —The viewpoint of the man in overalls.

What the man with the pick and shovel is doing for industry.

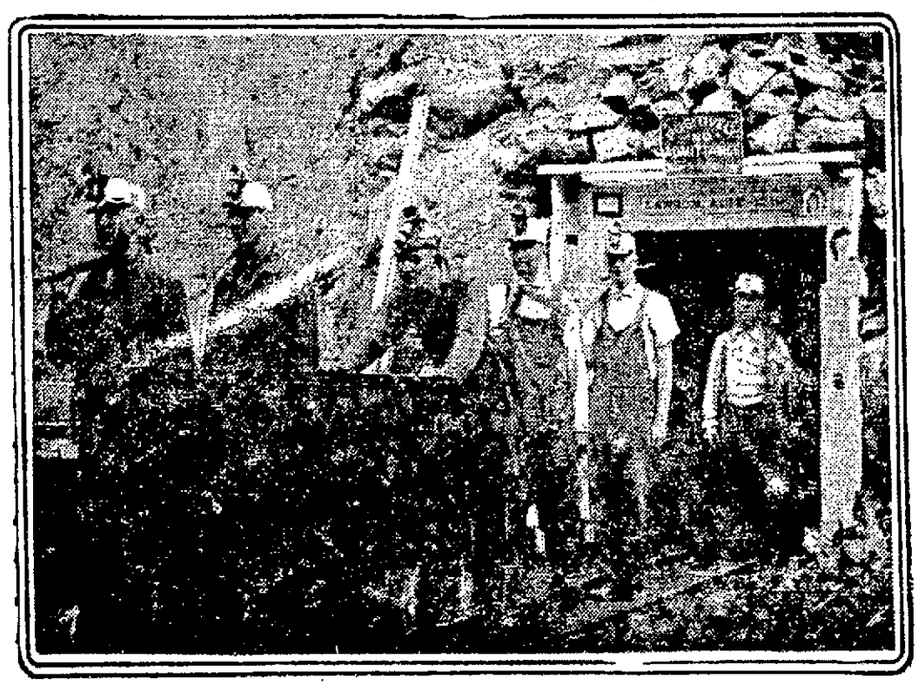
What the man in the office should know of the man on the job.

These are some of the intensely practical things being taught to the men in the mining school at the University of California. The broad wisdom of such instruction applies not only to mining, but to all lines of industry. And the value of it should carry a cheering note to the workaday world.

Prof. Frank H. Probert is the man who is doing the teaching. He has spent a life time at mine work. He has learned that the problems of finance and construction are not the only ones in the upbuilding of a big work.

HE IS TELLING HIS BOYS THAT AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MEN WHO TOIL FOR A LIVING AND A FULL APPRECIATION OF THE DIFFICULTIES THEY HAVE TO OVERCOME FORM A VASTLY IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN MANAGERIAL SUCCESS.

The university miners are learning this lesson in the digging of a real mine. They are driving a tunnel under the university campus—the only one of its kind in the world.



They are getting the smell of the underground. By sweat of brow and aching muscles they are learning what the toiler is doing in actual work of industry. They are handling and firing explosives as the tunnel is being pushed farther underground. They break rock, muck dirt and tram it to the exit. They are doing the hard work of timbering and drilling—finding out by the expenditure of their own elbow grease the feel of manual labor and the things of life in such work. They are doing every phase of mine work as it is done in the whirring industries of the real world.

"The only gold we are looking for is the gold of actual experience," said Professor Probert, "and that is more valuable even than the precious metal itself.

"The one big thing I want the men to get is the appreciation of the physical effort required to do a certain amount of work; to get the viewpoint of the man who does the real toil in connection with industry. A man cannot direct a work successfully unless he knows how to do it himself.

"A man must understand the nice adjustment of capital and labor if he is to succeed as a manager. He must know what the other fellow is trying to do before he can be in sympathy with his efforts; before he can thoroughly realize the relation between management and men.

"This is true in all phases of industry and it is particularly true in mining. That is why we are having the boys here get acquainted with underground working conditions; why we are having them grapple with all the problems of labor, capital, finance and mechanical construction, just as they will find them in working life.

"Mining is a business and we are teaching it both as a business and as a science."

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have had the grippe, over one cold before you get rid of it, lookout for you are liable to contract some very serious disease. The succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

To Whom it may Concern:

I will work for and vote for the Republican Ticket because I confidently believe that the welfare of the Country demands the restoration of the Republican Party to control of Public affairs. No Wage earner should be deceived or confused by fake issues advanced by the Democrat's. The over shadowing issue before the American Laborer to-day is the re-establishment of the protective Tariff system. Every thoughtful man knows that the present Industrial activity in this Country is due entirely to War Orders from Europe and that when the Foreign War comes to an end we will be confronted with Democratic Free Trade, which never has failed to bring disaster to the American Wage earner. The four Years will prove a crucial period in our national life. This Government must be administered by competent and efficient men. If the interests of the Workmen and their families are to be safeguard the Republican Ticket must win at the Polls next Tuesday.

From the standpoint of the American laborer, we are of the opinion that the most important issue is protection, for in no other way can the standards of living we now have be maintained. This year particularly, this issue is of paramount importance. Every laboring man knows that before the European War commenced many workmen were out of employment in this country, that there had been much suffering during the previous winter and that there was every indication of an acute condition in the immediate future. The war has temporarily prevented this condition; but it will certainly recur as soon as the war is over unless some steps are taken to repeal the Democratic free trade law now on the statute books; for every Democratic tariff which has been passed since the Civil War has brought disaster to the American wage-earner, and the present law from the standpoint of protection is the least favorable to the maintenance of our national standards of any of the laws for which the Democratic Party is responsible.

No other party than the Republican can be depended upon to restore a suitable protective tariff system and we shall, therefore, work and vote for the Republican ticket, believing that we are doing the best thing possible to safe-guard the interests with which we are charged.

CHICAGO LABOR FOR HUGHES.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Oct 21.—One branch of organized labor swung into line for Charles E. Hughes tonight when the Chicago Building Trades Council, of which Simon O'Donnell is president, adopted resolutions urging the defeat of President Wilson because of "lack of sympathy with the American workmen."

Arthur D Burbank, chairman of the legislative board of railroad trainmen in Illinois, issued a statement declaring that railroad employes are turning from President Wilson

"It is the first time our national officers have attempted to tell us how we must vote, and there are thousands like myself who will not stand for such dictation," said Mr Burbank. "I am convinced that the sentiment among the railroad men for Hughes is growing stronger every day"

This is Labor's Answer to the Attempt
To Deliver the American Workingman's Vote

THE labor vote cannot be delivered to the Democratic party. The bulk of it throughout the country will go to Hughes, was the positive declaration of Thomas J. Williams, one of the most prominent trade unionists in the United States, in course of an interview in Pittsburgh on Nov. 1, 1916.

Mr. Williams is National President of the Building Trades department of the American Federation of Labor, which includes every craft in any way identified with the building industry.

It has a membership of nearly one and a half million men, all mechanics, which is more than fifty per cent. of the entire membership of the organization of which Samuel Gompers is the head.

Mr. Williams has just completed a tour of the south and middle west, in course of which he talked with representatives of every industry and addressed seven national conventions of labor organizations.

"No man or group of men can deliver the labor vote to the Democratic party," said Mr. Williams. "The American workingman always has supported the Republican ticket, and for a very practical reason.

"He knows that the Republican party stands for the great principle of protection to American industry, and that without such protection there can be no prosperity for him. The wage earners of this country today consider the re-establishment of the protective tariff system the one great issue before them, and they will vote accordingly next Tuesday.

"No sensible laboring man is deceived by the present abnormal industrial activity in the United States. We all know that war orders from Europe are responsible for it.

"If the foreign conflict should end tomorrow, the wage earners of this country would be confronted with precisely similar conditions to those which confronted them during the first two years of the Wilson administration—idle mills, dead locomotives, men out of employment, and business depression everywhere.

"The workingman will vote next Tuesday for the Republican ticket because he will then vote for his own material welfare.

"In my trip through the south and west, discussed the political situation with hundreds of laboring men. I found no indication anywhere of a pronounced trend of sentiment in the ranks of the wage-earners towards the Democratic party."

The Republican Protective Tariff protects workingmen's wages without increasing the cost of living. The question is shall we have a Democratic tariff that only pretends to help the wage-earner or a Republican tariff that really protects him?

LABOR LEADERS INDORSE HUGHES

Declaring that President Wilson has proven himself an enemy of organized labor and that, on the contrary, Mr Hughes has shown himself the friend of labor throughout his whole career, a series of resolutions supporting the candidacy of Mr Hughes was passed last night at a meeting of the Philadelphia Building Trades Council, representing in all about 60,000 men. The meeting was held in the Parkway Building, and the resolutions were passed after a spirited discussion. Frank J Schneider presided

A standing vote was taken The resolution declared that until his entrance into politics six years ago, President Wilson had proved himself a "harsh, bitter and unjust critic" of labor unions, and had shown by his speeches and his writings, in his books, that he had no sympathy with the labor movement The statement was attributed to him that "Labor unions dragged the highest men to the level of the lowest," and he was quoted as being a "fierce partisan of the open shop"

The passage was cited from President Wilson's book, "The History of the American People" where he asserted that the Chinese labor was preferable to the Polish, Slavonic or Italian On the other hand, it was declared that Mr Hughes had been shown by his words, his deeds and his record, that he had been a friend of labor and of labor unions during his entire career

Mr Hughes' utterance, that he regarded labor unions as a "fine opportunity for the improvement of the condition of the workingman," was quoted, and his statement, "the interests of labor are the interests of all people, and the protection of the wage earner in the security of life and health by every practical means, is one of the most sacred trusts of society"

"We vigorously condemn," read the resolution, "the action of labor leaders in endeavoring to create opposition to Mr Hughes, and with the belief in mind that all labor unions should be kept free from political parties, we urge all our members, as well as those of other unions and locals, to cast their votes as their interest best demands."

The Knitting Mills announce that the plant and offices will be open to operations all day, but the individual voters will be given the allotted time at the polls. The Bass Foundry and Machine company, which finds it impracticable to close a part of the day, put up notices that operations would be suspended for the entire day. The Wabash shops also announces a full day suspension of work. Other shops in the city, including the General Electric works, the Pennsylvania, S. F. Bowser & Co. and the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump works, will be in operation until noon and closed in the afternoon. The usual suspension of traffic at the freight houses will take place.

Then it was given out that the Wabash never had such a rush of freight as it is getting at present. "Every locomotive that can pull a train, every car that can move over the rails and every trainman and engineman is being worked to the limit," continued the employe. The shops are also running up to their full capacity.

BOSTON TROOPS GO EAST.

Saturday night, as the democratic parade was in progress, a train loaded with national guards en route from the Mexican border was standing at the depot, and the soldiers got out and lined up on the elevation bridge to watch and cheer as the procession passed south on Harrison and north on Calhoun street. PRINTERS SAY ADVANCE IS NECESSARY

High Prices Compelled Publisher to Raise Prices of Papers.

Typographical union, No. 78, at its meeting yesterday in Harmony hall, adopted a resolution, declaring that it was absolutely necessary, because of the tremendous advance in the price of material, for the publishers to raise prices in newspaper publications. The resolution, which received unanimous support, reads as follows:

"Whereas, The prevailing increase in the price of all materials entering into the production of a newspaper have compelled the proprietors thereof in Fort Wayne to not only increase the price of their publication to the readers, but also to ask increased rates for advertising service, we, the members of Typographical union, No. 78, would make this statement to the public:

"Such increases have been made absolutely necessary and are wholly within the bounds of reason; otherwise to continue the old rates would necessarily mean not only a curtailment of the efficiency of the news and telegraph departments of the papers, but would react upon the means of livelihood of numerous members of our organization;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we ask the business men and others doing business with the newspapers to cheerfully accept the new rates and conditions as adopted.

(Signed) BURT CORY.

The union heartily endorsed the convention hall project and the international referendum from the Spokane, Wash., union; initiated an applicant and made a substantial donation to the Moulders' union, who are on a strike. Then it was announced the annual election of officers would be held Sunday, December 3, and proceeded to make the announcement of the candidates, who were as follows: President, Herman Meyers; Bert Bligh, O. L. Humphreys; vice president, P. R. Bell, John Kammer, John Sessler; recording secretary, B. J. Bligh, Elmer Harkenrider, F. R. Patterson, Homer Stewart, Carl Parker, John Ubelhoer; financial secretary, George Overdear, Bert Cory, F. R. Patterson; executive board, John Hipp, Elmer Harkenrider, Bert Bligh, Pat. READ THIS!

John Wanamaker

Yesterday's daily papers throughout the country carried a full page advertisement which talked of "deception" and was signed "A Half Democrat who cannot vote for Wilson." The man who PAID for it and who HID behind a false and misleading signature, was John Wanamaker, always an Old Guard Republican and Postmaster General under President Harrison. It was the latest of a series of page Republican advertisements for which Mr. Wanamaker is paying. This "Half-Democrat" gave various reasons why he could not vote for Wilson, but not the real reasons.

From 1898 to 1910, the House of Wanamaker withheld thousands of dollars in customs revenue. Twelve years of deception in connection with shipments from the Wanamaker Paris office!

On March, 1913, the day before President Wilson took office, John Wanamaker paid the Government $100,000 in settlement. Extreme haste marked the compromise, Secretary MacVeagh and Collector Loeb exerting extraordinary efforts to close and hide the case.

But Secretary McAdoo re-opened the case. On June 16, 1914, Wanamaker confessed again and paid over another $100,000. In addition, Secretary McAdoo cleaned out the customs service at Philadelphia, putting trusted men on guard.

Barron is owner of the Wall Street Journal, the Boston News Bureau and the Stock Ticker. In the investigation into the wrecking of the New Haven Railroad, Barron was compelled to admit that he had shared in the loot, receiving money for "advice" and even netting $50,000 in one lump. Barron led in the fight on the confirmation of Brandeis as Supreme Court Justice, but when put on the stand, his testimony proved nothing but hearsay venom.

There you have it! The costly, hypocritical and absolutely misleading pages of Republican advertisements that have crowded the newspapers in these last weeks were dictated and paid for by these men!

Get the idea! Then decide whether you will let them continue to insult your intelligence by specious pleas to vote for Hughes, Roosevelt and the Old Guard.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—Advertisement.

LUBIN PLAN COMMANDS INTEREST IN LONDON

International Commerce Commission Idea Wins Much Favor There.

London, Oct. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Representatives of thirteen of the trans-Atlantic steamship lines, in a meeting just held in London, listened with great attention to arguments in favor of the proposed International Commerce commission by David Lubin, of New York and California, who succeeded in getting through congress resolutions endorsing the idea, which has for its object the steadying of prices of staples through the fixing of freight rates on ocean bulk traffic.

Mr. Lubin has succeeded in interesting the big shipping men here in his plan, among them being Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, who is a member of a wealthy shipping family. The meeting was called by Sir Norman Hill, a great Liverpool shipping magnate. Among the lines represented were the American, Allen, Atlantic Transport, Associated Lines, Canadian Pacific, Cunard, Dominion, Furness Withy, Harrison, Leyland, White Star and Wilson.

Mr. Lubin's address was followed by questions from practically all attending that revealed general interest in the plan. To questioners who feared the result of such a strict control of the lines as to compel them to conform to special rates, Mr. Lubin pointed to the benefits sustained by the railroads in the United States from the Interstate Commerce commission's rules.

"Before the Interstate Commerce commission came into being the price of the leading American railway stocks on your market here were as uncertain as those of common wildcat schemes offered to the public," he said. "But the stabilizing effect of the Interstate Commerce commission's control has, as you know of your own personal knowledge, converted them into the highest gilt-edged securities."

Wilson and Peace with Honor?

Roosevelt says we should hang our heads in shame because we are not at WAR with Germany in behalf of Belgium!

Roosevelt says that following the sinking of the Luscitania he would have foregone diplomacy and seized every ship in our ports flying the German flag. That wouldhave meant WAR

Hughes Says He and Roosevelt are in Complete Accord!

Senator Fall, who has vast interests in Mexico and is Candidate Hughes' adviser as to Mexican Affairs, declares "a Hughes war would be preferable to a Wilson peace."

Mr. Hughes "Would Name a STRONG Cabinet."

Read the published list of Heavy Subscribers to the Republican campaign fund, then look up the list of Americans with enormous interests in Mexico and learn why those who place the almighty dollar ahead of human life would not hesitate to plunge this country into an ignoble war of conquest—would not stop at sacrificing thousands and thousands of American lives in their greed for oil and gold.

Look again at this list. Then you will see why the "Old Guard" appeals frantically for a protective tariff—

That breeder of strikes, of starvation wages, and of every panic that ever cursed this country—

And which made billions for organized wealth by putting honest competition out of business.

You will see why in sheer desperation and bereft of all decency the Republican "Old Guard" is capitalizing the lamentable incidents in Mexico and trying to discredit your President for sparing you the horrors that would come with intervention.

Read the list still again. Note the names of men heavily intrenched financially in the protective tariff system and in vicious special privilege.

Read and see why millions are being spent to reenact the Payne-Aldrich tariff—to wipe out the Federal Reserve System—to repeal the Eight Hour law and other progressive laws—to undo the Wilson Record of unparalleled achievement.

Then understand why Candidate Hughes said in his Milwaukee speech: "The whole list of Democratic accomplishment must be wiped off the books for the good of the country."

The Lesson is Plain:

If You Want WAR Vote for HUGHES!

If You Want Peace With Honor

VOTE FOR WILSON!

Yorkers took a fall of 25 cents a hundred pounds Monday on the local markets. The topnotch price for hogs now is $9.00 a hundredweight. No explanation for the drop in price is offered by local packers and live stock dealers. No indications are given as to any further changes.

Anticipation on election returns has put a real-for-sure crimp in the markets locally as well as in trading centers. The receipts at the Fort Wayne markets have been very light and prices remained unchanged.

Only twenty loads of hay and grain appeared at the city scales Monday morning, which is very light for Monday and considering the pleasant and favorable weather. Old corn has been taken from the scalemaster's report as the receipts in this department are a thing of the past. New corn brought 75 cents a bushel.

All other prices were the same and the markets were quiet. Eggs remain at the same level. Poultry follows suit.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Rains in southern Argentina gave a downward slant today to wheat prices here. Besides demand was poor on account of reluctance to make new commitments in the face of a general holiday tomorrow. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to 1c lower, with December at $1.81⅞@1.82¼ and May at $1.83¼@1.83¾, were followed by decided further setbacks interrupted by brief transient rallies.

The close was strong, 1¼c to 2⅛c net higher, with December at $1.84⅝ and May at $1.86½.

The close was strong at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

Oats gave way as a result of depression in other cereals. Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 6.—Today's strong opening was in marked contrast with the trend of last week's closing prices. Gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded at the outset. United States Steel rose almost a point on its first transaction of 7,000 shares, with 1 to 2 point advances in Colorado Fuel, Republic Iron and Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Anaconda Copper and the leading petroleums. Central Leather's rise of 2¾ to the new maximum of 101 was the conspicuous feature of the more speculative industrials. Columbia Gas also attained 47½.

Increased confidence was shown with the progress of the session, industrial and equipments with less distinctive issues supplementing early gains. Steel led the movement, advancing to 122 or ¼ point under its record price, being freely taken in the usual large blocks. Utah and China Coppers and Columbia Gas improved upon previous maximums, with gains of 1 to 4 points for Lackawanna, Crucible and Gulf States Steel. More moderate advances occurred in sugar, paper, motor and other leather issues, also General Electric, Industrial Alcohol and shipping shares. Reading was strongest of the rails. Bonds were firm.

M. DUKES COMPANY TO QUIT BUSINESS

Announcement Causes Surprise in the Business Circles of the City.

The announcement by M. Dukes, president of the Dukes Clothing company, one of the leading clothing firms of Fort Wayne, intended to go out of business, came as a great surprise. Mr. Dukes says his company will discontinue the clothing business in this city, several reasons being assigned. One of the principal reasons, he says, is the unfavorable conditions as regards their present location. The excessive rentals asked elsewhere makes moving prohibitive in view of the fact that desirable locations at reasonable rent are hard to find. Mr. Dukes also says there are personal reasons for the company's decision to go out of business.

The Dukes Clothing company has been in business in Fort Wayne for the past eleven years and has enjoyed a splendid trade during that time. Some of the best brands of clothing on the market are handled by the firm. Now that the decision has been reached to quit business the entire stock will be sold at remarkable reductions. Every article in the store will be marked down.

M. Dukes and his son, M. H. Dukes, are not ready to announce their plans for the future, as they have not been sufficiently developed.

BABY BONDS FOR CHILD'S EDUCATION

Many a mother, in moderate circumstances, is willing to sacrifice almost anything, that her child may have a good education. Here is what one mother is doing for her child by investing in Baby Bonds. On the child's first birthday she purchased a Baby Bond realizing that the six per cent. interest would amount to considerable by the time the child reached the age of twenty, and that the safety of the money was insured as Baby Bonds were secured by first mortgages on local real estate. Each succeeding birthday she plans to purchase another Baby Bond, and when the child is ready for college there will be a sufficient fund to cover the tuition, board, etc. As Baby Bonds come in $10.00 denominations, their purchase is always easy and they are ideal for this purpose. For further details regarding them see the Wildwood Sales Company.—Advertisement.

WHO'S THE HUGGER? THAT'S THE QUESTION

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Pretty Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond, of 6252 South Loomis street, got a hug. Now, the question is, who took it?

This quizzical interrogation unavoidably instigates some others: Is there a Jack the Hugger, a predatory squeeze pirate, cruising the south side? Does he wear a change of scenery, enabling him to steal a kiss, beat it to cover, shift his makeup and come from his guilty sanctuary all blandly innocent, with his mouth puckered for the same?

Volplaning gracefully from the realm of hypothesis to the ground of fact, here is the evidence:

Mrs. Hammond, accompanied by her sister, was hugged Saturday night as she was passing the corner of Sixty-third street and Racine avenue. She pointed out Cornelius Van Laten, of 6240 South Elizabeth street, as the hugger.

"He wore a black hat when he hugged me," said Mrs. Hammond. "He's got on a light one now, but that dupes me no dupes. He embraced me five times before I could get away. I ought to know him in any or no hat."

Van Laten was occupied in tearing a small flag from a republican parade machine when the police took him.

"I just came from my rooming house," said he. "My mother and several acquaintances saw me come out."

"That's the hugger," said Mrs. Hammond, grimly.

Mrs. Van Laten came up demanding an explanation.

"He's the hugger," said Mrs. Hammond.

"He's no hugger," said Mrs. Van Laten. "He's had a couple glasses of beer, that's all."

Van Laten's case was to come up in court today.

CLINE FIGHTS HARDEST FOR HIS CONSTITUENTS

That Cyrus Cline is known in Washington as the congressman who fights hardest for his constituents, and that the Twelfth district will make a sad mistake if it fails to return Mr. Cline to congress is the view of J. T. McElfatrick, a former Fort Wayne man who has had frequent opportunity during his numerous visits to Washington to observe the work of Mr. Cline and to know his standing there. Mr. McElfatrick is the eastern representative of the D. & T. Manufacturing company, of St. Louis, producers of hot water regulators and circulators, located at Buffalo. He has written from Buffalo to Charles W. Comparet, 1117 Elmwood avenue, Fort Wayne, under date of October 29, as follows:

"Dear Brother:—Only a little over a week now until the election, and I feel that I should remind you of the fact that I should give you a few facts that may influence you when you go to the polls.

"You know that for the past thre years I have been getting into Washington every five or six weeks regularly. It has only been my pleasure to meet your Congressman Cline once during this time, but I have learned the following facts, all of which seem to be common talk in that city, and should be known in the district which he represents:

"Mr. Cline is known as the congressman who fights for the interest of his constituents in Washington.

"He has always been found hard at work for any bill that might in any measure improve the condition of the working classes.

"He is a democrat, but not the kind that is party-blind, and in the few cases where party legislation has not met with his full support, it was because his good sense and clear judgment would not permit hi mto support a bill which he believed to be wrong.

"He has now been in congress long enough to be of some real service to his district, and holding the respect, as he does, of democrats and republicans alike in Washington, I believe the Twelfth district of Indiana will make a sad mistake if it fails to return Cyrus Cline to congress this fall.

"No man there has fought harder for the district he represents, for the people of his district, and for sound, sane legislation where it would affect the entire country.

"To besure, I no longer have a vote there, and have, in fact, no interest in the election or defeat of anyone in that or any other district, but I do know when a man is trying hard to fulfill his pledges and believe that Mr. Cline should have your vote and that of any of your friends whom you can influence.

"Your brother,
"J. T. M'ELFATRICK."

CHILD HURT IN ACCIDENT.

Norine Connelly, 5, daughter of James Connelly, received severe cuts across her forehead, Saturday evening, when the windshield was broken on the automobile in which she was riding. The automobile ran against the rear of another machine. Lawrence Connelly, uncle of the girl, was driving the car which collided with the rear of the automobile belonging to Sidney Sowers, 1510 Edsall avenue. A physician was called to attend the girl, whose head was cut by flying glass from the shattered shield.

BROKEN FAMILIES CHIEF CAUSE.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—The social service department of Indiana university, which so far has confined the greater part of its work to Indianapolis, where the greatest need for social service work has been reported, is trying to extend its influence. The service is paid for by the state at large. In connection with the more extended work, more than sixty-five towns in the state already have been visited by the state worker, Miss Edith Spray.

Statistics compiled from Idianapolis cases indicate that most of the persons involved drifted to the city from the rural districts and small towns, which fact is cited as showing the need for social service work in such communities. Investigations by the department show that broken families are productive of more social ills than any other single cause. Alcoholism ranks next.

ALL PULL TOGETHER FOR NEW ROAD LAWS

Boosters Pass Resolutions to Guide Committee in Drafting Bill.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—A general meeting was held at Indianapolis a few days ago of representatives of about thirty state wide organizations in Indiana interested in good roads. The outcome was the arrangement for a committee authorized to draft a bill for presentation at the next general assembly to create a state highway department. This committee to be known as the Indiana state organizations' highway committee and to represent many different organizations and interests throughout the state. A set of resolutions was passed by the meeting, same to serve as a guide to the committee in drafting the bill. When the bill is completed another and much larger general meeting will be called for the purpose of giving all interested parties an opportunity to voice their sentiments.

The meeting was called by the Hoosier State Automobile association, composed of fifty-six county motor clubs, under whose auspices hundreds of good roads meetings have been held throughout the state during the past year. Wm. M. Jones, of Fairmount, Ind., president Indiana Federation of Agricultural societies; J. B. Carney, president Indiana State Dairymen's association; Robert T. Hughes, president Indiana Good Roads association; W. S. Robbins, president Indiana Live Stock Breeders' association; Oscar O. Smith, chairman of the good roads committee of the Travelers' Protective association; Geo. E. Martin, Purdue university; F. L. Evans, secretary East Chicago Chamber of Commerce, East Chicago, Ind.; A. G. Batchelder, executive chairman American Automobile association; F. M. Smith, secretary Indiana Manufacturers' association; A. G. Lupton, president, and M. E. Noblet, secretary Hoosier State Automobile association, were some of the men present at the meeting. J. A. Lapp, chief of the Indiana legislative bureau, was placed in charge of the discussion and the resolutions unanimously passed by the meeting are as follows:

That we favor the creation of a state highway department conducted on a basis of non-partisanship and efficiency.

That the state highway commisison should consist of not more than three members.

That the state highway commisison be appointed by the governor.

That the state highway engineer be appointed by the commission and serve as long as he is efficient and honest.

That the commission shall have power to fix the salary of its engineer.

That the commission receive powers to get the best man for an engineer, either within or without the state.

That the state shall give state aid in the construction of roads on a 50 per cent. basis.

That the state shall give aid only for those roads forming a connecting series of roads approved by the commission.

That the initiative in construction be left with the county.

That all plans and specifications for such roads be subject to the approval of the state highway commission.

That the contract for building such roads shall be subject to the approval of the state highway commission.

That state aid should be paid during the construction of roads. The amount of such payments to be determined by the commission. Roads to be constructed under supervision of the state engineer.

That the state give aid for maintenance of roads. The proportion to be left to the commission.

That plans, specifications and contracts for roads other than those receiving aid, be subject to the approval of the state highway commission.

That the state engineer give advice and assistance to county road officials when requested.

That the state engineer have authority to require county and township road officials to give him such information of their local road conditions as he may see fit to request.

That the state highway department be financed by general tax levy.

That the counties provide funds for their portion of the cost of roads built with state aid either by tax or bonds of the county.

That where roads receiving state aid pass through towns and cities, that state aid should be allowed inside the city limits in proportion to aid given outside the city limits.

Federal Aid.

If a state highway department is established it means that Indiana will receive her share of federal aid, amounting to $2,159,000. She cannot receive federal aid without establishing a state highway department. All states in the union, excepting Indiana, South Carolina and Texas, have such departments. Georgia was the last state to create a state highway department.

WAR PACE TOO FAST FOR THE OLDER MEN

Struggle Promises Soon to Become Conflict Between Boys.

London, Oct. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The war threatens soon to become a struggle between mere boys. The pace is said to be entirely too fast for the older men long to endure.

It is declared here that next year the Entente Allies will be facing boys of seventeen in the German army.

General Sir Douglas Haig, commanding the British expeditionary forces, is said to have objected to the sending out of men of middle age. He wants young men of from 18 to 25. After the latter year it is said the fighting value of the human unit shows a rapid and steady decline.

The good soldier of today it seems must be of the age which excels in the more strenuous athletic games—the foot ball player type. The older men have their place, but generally speaking it is said now to be in "the army behind the army"—the men back of the line, in the supply and transport divisions where the strain is not so great. These older men are too susceptible to trench diseases to be of great use on the firing line.

England already is registering boys born in 1899 preparatory to calling them up when they attain their eighteenth year.

MILK STRIKE AT JOLIET.

Producers Act to Shut Off Supply in War on Retailers.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 7.—This city yesterday felt the first pinch of a milk famine when 100 milk producers, members of the Will County Milk Producers' Association, cut off the local supply following the refusal of the dealers to pay $1.50 a can for the product. One hundred cans of milk, about one-fifth the normal supply, reached here late this morning from Chicago. The producers say this supply will be cut off tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Can you buy a pound-and-a-quarter of fresh beef, a pound-and-an-eighth of bread, two-and-a-half ounces of beans, a pound-and-a-quarter of prunes, an ounce-and-an-eighth of coffee, three-and-a-fifth ounces of sugar, half an ounce of milk, half an ounce of butter, slightly more than half an ounce of lard, a third of a gill of syrup, and enough vinegar, salt, pepper, cinnamon and flavoring for a day's food—all this for TWENTY-SEVEN CENTS?

UNCLE SAM DOES IT! That is how he meets the high cost of living in the United States army. The quantities given above comprise the standard army ration fed to United States soldier boys.

Not that the army eats beef, beans and potatoes every day; but IT EATS THE EQUIVALENT OF THIS MENU EVERY DAY. And during the last fiscal year—1916—it cost Uncle Sam just 26.8 cents a day per man to give the army the best food that any army in the world receives.

Each soldier is entitled to approximately four and a quarter pounds of food a day, and the standard ration is so arranged that there is great variety as well as high nutriment in the ration. Twenty ounces (a pound and a quarter) of fresh beef is the standard meat diet.

Instead of beef, any of the following meats may be substituted: An equivalent quantity of fresh mutton, bacon, canned meat; when it is impracticable to furnish fresh meat, dried, pickled or canned fish, and on Thanksgiving and Christmas, turkey.

Instead of the eighteen ounces of flour and baking powder allowed per man each day, soft or hard bread, or corn meal may be substituted. Instead of beans, the mess may contain rice or hominy.

As a substitute for potatoes, a combination of onions, tomatoes and other fresh vegetables may be used; or a ration containing part potatoes and part other vegetables will be set before the soldiers. In lieu of prunes, dried apples or peaches may be used or jam. Coffee may be varied with tea. Half the vinegar allowance may be consumed as pickles, and the spices and flavoring are interchangeable. The butter and lard may sometimes give way to oleomargarine and lard substitute.

Another method of varying the diet is for company commanders to draw only part of their supplies from the garrison quartermaster, drawing the rest in cash, which may be expended only for food. Chicken eggs and other delicacies are common articles of diet in the army when the post is so situated that such articles can be obtained from this "savings" fund.

In spite of Uncle Sam's superior ability to feed his soldiers cheaply, the cost of living in the army is steadily rising. There was a time, back in 1897, when it cost only 12 1-2 cents a day to feed each soldier! But that time is no more. The lowest figure reached since 1898 was in 1906 and 1907, when it cost a little over 15 cents a day for each man. In 1909 the cost went up to 18.66 cents and since then it has been aeroplaning considerably, jumping from 21.06 cents in 1909 to 24.97 cents in 1915. For the last fiscal year it reached 26.8 cents per man; and the estimates for next year place the cost at 30 cents per day per man flat!

The yearly cost of feeding the army is nearly TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS; this is the estimate for the fiscal year.

Under the law the army ration is fixed by the president. The present standard ration was prescribed in 1914. It is the result of long years of study and experience in the army. There was a time when whisky constituted a part of the daily ration; this was when the idea prevailed that a fighting man needed his daily "grog" to keep him going. The surgeon general's office passes on the acceptability of the army ration, and it is carefully figured out to give the proper amount of heat units, the proper amount of bone and muscle building foods, and so on. The army must be as nearly as possible a collection of highly trained athletes, and they must be fed accordingly.

Officers in charge of the recruiting stations say that the average recruit gains 5 pounds the first week and 7 pounds the second in the army; a total of 12 pounds the first 14 days he is at the barracks. This is due to good food, regular hours and constant exercise in the open air.
